This year in an attempt to bring in revenue earlier and in compliance with Article 12 of the Annual Town Meeting, a letter was enclosed with each tax bill in hopes that taxpayers who had a mortgage with a bank would request that any funds being held in escrow would be turned over to the town immediately. As a result of this, about three banks complied with a total received of about $72,000.

THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

The Board of Selectmen in the year past has recognized they represent town government during changing times. Whether Wayland can retain the character of a small community with rural overtones becomes an increasingly important subject as outside pressures mount.

As much as time allows the Board keeps in touch with State legislation and Federal controls as they will affect local government. This means close contact with our State Representative and Senator and at times heavy correspondence between the Selectmen and our representatives in Washington.

During the course of a year many positive steps are taken for Wayland and the Selectmen are in the enviable position of watching this progress with pride.

The offices in the Town Building function with quiet efficiency and the Police and Fire Departments continue to serve Wayland with dedication. As the Town grows and demands more services each department feels the need of increased personnel. This year, facing the funding of an 18-month budget, department heads have added pressure to keep budgets close and to perform as before.

The Board of Selectmen has held many joint meetings with other town boards this year in an effort to increase close communication and function with more information. Additionally, there were meetings with special groups such as Dudley Pond, Mill Pond, ambulance study, dog control, regional transportation needs, SILC, MBTA and others representing the many concerns of a vital community.

This year saw ground breaking for the elderly housing units, and the submission of a study regarding future needs. The Town lost all MBTA service, but not its burgeoning assessment. Roads, walkways, traffic and busses obviously concern many citizens and the Board of Selectmen is equally concerned that future plans are sound.

The Selectmen are dedicated to the concept of Open Town Meeting and government by largely volunteer boards and encourages as much participation by every voter as his time and energy will allow.

During 1972 there were many interviews with people seeking information on zoning matters which related to site plan approval, special permits, hardships, and explanations of the Zoning By-laws in general. Of these, eighty (80) people filed the necessary applications with this office to formally meet the Zoning Board of Appeals at public hearings.

The program of inspections of public buildings is still being carried through, with routine inspections by the Building Department, including electrical, gas and plumbing, in conjunction with the Fire Department. Every effort is being made to see that all building, zoning, electrical, plumbing, gas, and fire codes are being followed by owners of these public buildings in an effort to have them meet all safety standards.

Any other work requires a separate permit. Raytheon Company has a master electrician on the premises at all times with licensed electricians working with him.

Swimming pools have become very popular in our town. It is imperative that every owner have a licensed electrician do the proper grounding of these pools (both above-ground and in-ground).

THE BUILDING NEEDS STUDY COMMITTEE

Several meetings were held this year to consider the space needs of various Town departments. Preliminary information indicates that some of these needs might be fulfilled through municipal utilization of the old Junior High School. The fact that this building falls within the jurisdiction of the School Department, however, discouraged in-depth planning in this direction.

Citizens' suggestions to establish a permanent Municipal Building Committee, using the expertise of present School Building Planning Committee members as a possible personnel base, has considerable merit and will be fully explored in 1973.

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION

During 1972 the Historic District Commission held meetings to consider routine problems, worked with the Selectmen in an advisory capacity on problems relating to the District, and has recommended to the Selectmen the creation of an Historical Commission as provided for in Chapter 40, Section 8D, of the General Laws. Such a commission, the members of which would serve without compensation, would concern itself with the identification of sites, buildings and monuments having historic interest which may be located anywhere in the Town. It would work for their preservation and would seek to foster throughout the community a wider understanding of their existence and significance.

CIVIL DEFENSE - 1972

1972 was a year during which the Auxiliary Police of Wayland were again pleased to be able to serve the town. The following is a summary of our activities.

In February Charles Nelson, after many years of personal effort and countless hours of service, retired as Auxiliary Chief of Police. He will continue to serve as a member of the organization's Executive Committee. We were extremely fortunate to obtain the services of Sgt. George Norton, of the Wayland Police Department, who was appointed Auxiliary Chief of Police by the Board of Selectmen, and the Chief of Police.

During February the auxiliaries participated in a readiness drill with other local and state Civil Defense Organizations. In March the Wayland Police Station was manned for several hours exclusively by the Auxiliary Police while a department wide meeting was held by the regular police.

Twenty six auxiliary officers qualified after passing the Red Cross Advanced First Aid course conducted during April and May. On May 22nd Auxiliary Officers were called out to patrol the senior class party which terminated at 2:30 a.m. The following day several officers attended an all day training seminar in Dedham on the use of tear gas. Traffic control duties were performed at the Memorial Day parade so that regular officers could be in the line of march.

May was also the month that an Auxiliary Police team took high honors at the New England Police and Revolver League matches. Medals were also won by individual auxiliary officers for proficiency in shooting.

During June all auxiliary officers qualified with the .38 cal. service pistol; and on June 25th, many of the officers also qualified with rifle and shotgun.

Wayland Officers traveled to Framingham to assist that town during the Boy Scout Rock Music Festival held June 3rd. During July the auxiliaries were also called out to back up regular officers during the Cochituate disturbances. On July 31 there was a manhunt in town, conducted by the regulars, with assistance from the auxiliaries.

During the summer, on many evenings and weekends, the auxiliary van was manned and house checks were made in an effort to cut down the incidence of house-breaks in the town. Summer also brought the night of the "deluge" when auxiliaries were called out to patrol flooded roads and direct traffic until the emergency was over.

On the two nights of Halloween all Wayland schools and public buildings were patrolled by auxiliary officers. Vandalism was held to a minimum through their efforts.

November was the usual time for our Turkey Shoot, at which many townspeople participated and during which some 15 turkeys were awarded as prizes.

The coming of Fall marked a resumption of in-service training in traffic control, law of arrest, drug laws, and a twenty-hour course in Karate Self-defense training.

Civil Defense personnel, working with the Chief of Police and the Fire Chief formed the town's Ambulance Study Committee which, hopefully, has provided the information to bring an ambulance, full time, into town.

Plans for 1973 include the acquisition of secure low-band communications equipment, a desired exchange of our large van for a more practical station wagon, and continued training and participation in the activities of the town.

The Auxiliary Police force now consists of some forty-eight men led by two Captains, two Lieutenants, and eight sergeants. Hours of free service provided the town in 1972 are as follows:

800 hours weekend cruiser duty
200 hours weekday cruiser and station duty
120 hours Summer housecheck duty
140 hours Halloween patrol
16 hours Manhunt
52 hours Project Concern - Walk for Mankind
105 hours Senior Class Party
18 hours Memorial Day Parade
14 hours Sudbury River Cleanup
16 hours Sudbury River Cleanup (2nd time)
18 hours Strawberry Festival - rides for children in van
53 hours July disturbances (two nights)
18 hours Flood/deluge night

TOTAL: 1600 hours of donated service

We are very pleased that Chief William Blake, Wayland's new Chief of Police has expressed his enthusiasm for an active and trained Auxiliary Police Force and we wish to take this opportunity to thank him and the other members of the full time Police Department for their active and energetic cooperation and support in our activities.

The Wayland Auxiliary Police/Civil Defense organization looks forward to another year of service to the Town.

Respectfully submitted,
C. DONALD ZEARFOSS, Director
Civil Defense

CODE ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE

The year began with the chairman of the Code Enforcement Committee's confronting the School Committee. Though improvement had been anticipated the December 1971 inspection report rather showed retrogression had occurred during the calendar quarter.

The School Committee's response was constructive. As a result a system was to improve understanding and fix responsibilities on both parts. A trend of increased cooperation in many matters involving the schools and the inspection services of the Town is most evident.

During the year four restaurants in Wayland completed renovations, and another was well underway. The improvements involved many elements of the structures which the public does not see - the kitchens, fire detection systems, wiring - bringing the establishments into voluntary compliance with current codes and safety standards.

More people seem to be trying to do more different things with their properties, and neighborhoods are becoming increasingly sensitive to change. The result is an intensifying pressure on the Inspection Department.

To state that the law must be enforced is an oversimplification; it must be done fairly, equitably, and understandingly. Still there will be complaints that the Department is too tough or lax.

There were a few dilapidated empty houses which commanded attention during the year, and also some which were occupied. Very elderly people unable to maintain their homes, welfare families being taken advantage of by an absentee landlord - there are two "right" ways to resolve problems such as these, but another way in between must be worked out.

Such were the traditional situations which this committee faced during 1972. New issues were raised by treehouses and by unrelated people living together as "families".

CODIFICATION COMMITTEE

During 1972 the Codification Committee made a thorough codification of the Zoning By-Laws. Our compilation was accepted by the Town in an affirmative vote under Article 10 of the Special Town Meeting held in October of this year. In conjunction with our research and documentation for the Zoning By-Laws, we have also provided material and many hours of collaborative study, with the Town Engineer and the Planning Board, for the Zoning Map, in the effort to insure that the updated map will be as complete and accurate as possible.

The compilation of Special Acts voted for East Sudbury and Wayland by the General Court from 1780 up to the present has been completed and will be indexed and filed in the Town Clerk's office for reference.

The By-Laws of the Town as amended from time to time have been codified and the compilation will be presented to the Town for acceptance at the March, 1973, Annual Town Meeting.

It is hoped that the Committee will soon be able to index and have printed, in a form which can be kept up to date, a complete volume of all by-laws, codes, rules and regulations as adopted and amended by Town Meeting votes and by action of the various boards, commissions and committees.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION 1972

During 1972 the Conservation Commission met approximately 39 times. The regular meeting night which had been Monday was changed in November and now the Commission meets regularly on the second and fourth Thursday of each month, with additional Thursday night meetings scheduled as needed. A representative of the Commission will be at the Town Building every Thursday night to meet with anyone who has need to contact us on conservation matters.

The Selectmen renewed the appointment of Allen H. Morgan and accepted the resignation of Edward C. Mendler, Jr. Sarah R. Newbury was appointed to the Commission. Working with the Commission as new Associate Members have been Michael D. Goldman, Mitchell Halperin, Margaret F. Norwood, Barry S. Gilvar, and William B. Gagnebin.

The Commission's land acquisition program received substantial support when at a Special Town Meeting within the March Annual Town Meeting it was voted to authorize the borrowing of $500,000. to implement the Conservation Master Plan. Approximately one-third of this sum was allocated for purchase of the 86 acre Pelham Island Tract by vote of the Annual Town Meeting. Of the remaining $328,600., all but $600. was committed for purchase of five separate parcels of land totalling 113 acres which the town voted to buy at a Special Town Meeting in October. This year's acquisitions also included 4.5 acres which were a gift to the town from Mr. & Mrs. William Hulbert, making a total of 202.6 acres of new conservation land. Several interested citizens, coordinated by Kenneth A. Moon, have agreed to aid the Commission in their effort to keep in touch with landowners whose holdings appear on the Conservation Master Plan.

The Outdoor Education Committee, chaired by Mrs. Barbara Robinson, sponsored public outings throughout the year, including walks on conservation lands, a bicycle tour and picnic and cross-country skiing. The Committee began a program of walks for children which it intends to continue on a regular basis. In cooperation with local papers, the Outdoor Education Committee has attempted to educate townspeople on the values of Outdoor Education, particularly within the schools, but also on an informal basis for all ages. In connection with the schools, the Committee has continued its efforts to promote environmental education through conducting in-service training workshops for teachers. A spring outdoor activities workshop was held at the Loker Outdoor Education Classroom area and a fall workshop on using school grounds also took place at Loker School in conjunction with the P.T.O. A winter activities program is now in the planning stages. Many of the outdoor and environmental education projects going on within the schools have resulted from this Committee's assistance with volunteers and materials. The Committee has also cooperated with youth groups by providing leaders for walks and helping with service projects.

With respect to management of the Town's conservation lands, an important event this year was the adoption by the Board of Selectmen of regulations governing public use of all Town-owned lands. The Conservation Commission, in October, modified its own regulations to bring them into conformity with those of the Selectmen. It is expected that the broader scope and stronger backing of the new regulations will produce a significant decrease in illegal activities on Conservation lands. Six publicly advertized work parties were held in 1972 for litter removal, trail maintenance, and similar chores. The attendance this year was poor, and we must increase our efforts to involve more citizens in this worthy and enjoyable activity.

Dr. Michael Goldman replaced Mr. Gordon Fellows on the Pesticide Study Committee.

Meetings of other Town Boards and citizens groups have been attended as appropriate. The Commission has been represented at meetings of the Refuse Disposal Planning Committee by Mrs. Margo Black and Mr. Kenneth Moon. Other meetings attended have included those of the Mass. Association of Conservation Commissions, the Lake Cochituate Watershed Association, the Subregion Intertown Liaison Committee (SILC), the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC), and the Department of Natural Resources.

The Commission would like to thank all the townspeople who have supported our efforts and who have given so generously of their time and talents aiding us in our various projects.

Fire prevention activities by this Department included the periodic inspection of all public school buildings, other municipal buildings, churches, nursing homes, commercial occupancies, private kindergartens, nursery schools, day care for children facilities, and multiple family dwellings. In addition to oil burner inspections in single family dwellings, home inspections were also made on request and escape plans were presented to single families or groups of families under our program "Operation Edith" Evacuation Drill in the Home. Fire prevention education programs were presented to school children, clubs, and organizations. Special projects by Junior and Senior High students, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts were counseled by members of the Department. Part of our fire prevention program was carried out in a cooperative inspection effort with the Building Department resulting in considerable reduction of potential hazardous fire conditions.

The Department training program was conducted on a regular and continuous basis. In addition, members of the Department attended training schools, seminars and conferences conducted by the Massachusetts Firefighting Academy, the Massachusetts Institute of Fire Department Instructors, the Fire Apparatus Maintenance Association, the International Municipal Signal Association, the New England Association of Fire Chiefs, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the Massachusetts Association of Fire Chiefs and the Boston Fire Department. Personnel of the Department are presently attending Community Colleges during off duty hours. These men are taking courses in Fire Science Technology leading to an Associate Degree.

The Municipal Fire Alarm System was extended by the installation of ten (10) New Master Fire Alarm Boxes, supervising auxiliary fire protection systems in commercial and/or industrial occupancies and connected to the municipal system.

Approximately thirty-five (35) Boston Edison Company poles required existing fire alarm construction to be transferred to new poles because of automobile accidents or Edison Company replacement programs.

Normal repairs, maintenance and testing of existing fire alarm construction continued on a regular scheduled basis.

In 1956 and 1957 the Town made the first steps towards the development of a modern progressive Fire Department. Over the years through 1971 gradual progress was made in this direction; equipment and apparatus was provided under a long-range planned program. Personnel provisions were structured, programmed and implemented. Revisions were made from year to year as we progressively developed. The goal in the early years of this development was to provide ten (10) full time firefighters to be on duty at one time. However, as the years passed this goal became economically more difficult to attain and once again a compromise plan was presented, accepted and placed into operation. It provided for six (6) full time firefighters on duty at night when the potential availability of off duty full time members and call men was best. It also provided for nine (9) full time firefighters to be on duty at one time in the daytime when the potential availability of all off duty regular firefighters and call firefighters is at its worst. This plan was far from ideal; however, it was at least practical, reasonable and contained desirable flexibilities.

During 1972, as planned, the Town reduced the work week for firefighters to 42 hours in keeping with present working standards for members of the fire service. However, the Town failed to provide the necessary requested manpower to maintain existing strength provided as outlined above. This step must be termed as backward at a time when a shortage of fire service manpower is so critical. This failure to preserve our personnel structure has, to say the least, greatly affected our daytime operation and efficiency. Recovery from this setback will take many years and may not come until regionalization of the fire service can be planned, accepted and instituted.

In 1958, fourteen (14) years ago, after a survey of Wayland's fire defense, it was recommended that we should have ten (10) men on duty at one time. Throughout the study of firefighting principles and practices used in the most common type occupancies to which firefighters respond, there runs a recurring phrase: "assuming sufficient manpower is available". Few fire departments in the United States today can place adequate manpower in the fire ground within a reasonable time after an alarm is received. Some can place adequate equipment and have adequate water BUT the third and most important ingredient--flesh and blood firefighters--they lack. In warfare, the successful general is the one who gets there "fastest with the mostest"! The same principle applies to the fire chief attacking a fire. Any chief will tell you that twenty firefighters placed in the fireground three minutes after receipt of an alarm are worth more than one hundred firefighters thirty minutes later. This is because unhindered fire increases in geometric proportions. At the end of four minutes, fire is sixteen times greater than when it started; at the end of eight minutes it is sixty-four times greater, and so on until all fuel is consumed. It can be seen, then, why the initial attack determines the outcome of the fire--minor damage or a total loss.

No one can say how much more damage is done by a fire because one-or two-man companies respond rather than three- or four-man companies. No one can say either how many lives are lost or may be lost at fires because there are not enough men on hand in the right place and the right time, but it stands to reason that six men can do more than three in the same period of time.

These facts are presented for your consideration as I am responsible to report on the condition of our Fire Department. We have fine apparatus facilities and equipment. Flesh and blood firefighters--, we have not enough, weekdays particularly.

The officers and firefighters of the Department are to be commended for their efforts as they operate under the conditions outlined above. They have performed in a manner traditional of the fire service; however, we never know what the next alarm holds in store and who will suffer from the fact that we are struggling against odds of insufficient manpower.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCIS J. HARTIN, Chief
Fire Department

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The Wayland Board of Health respectfully submits its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1972.

Dr. John Neumeyer was elected Chairman of the Board, Dr. John Taub, Clerk, and Mrs. Joan Carroll as the Third Member.

Turnover of staff has resulted in a number of organizational changes in the Board's activities.

The following staff changes occurred during the year. Rita Plummer,RN, resigned as Director of Parmenter in April 1972. Until Mrs.Mary Cooper,RN, was hired as Director of Parmenter Health Center in June, Mrs.Mary Barnicle, Supervisor of Nurses, took over as Acting Director and continued in her capacity as Supervisor. Mrs. Barnicle resigned in June after Mrs.Cooper took over. Mr. Stanley Deane, Health Agent, retired in November. The Board wishes to acknowledge the diligent and faithful service of Mr.Deane to the Town of Wayland over the past six years.

During this period of change, a committee composed of representatives of the Finance Committee, the Parmenter Trustees, and the Board of Health discussed ways in which the town could most effectively utilize its personnel without sacrificing the health services to the town. These studies culminated in the elimination of the position of Supervisor of Nursing and of Health Agent. A new position, Director of Public Health, which essentially combines the position of Director of Parmenter Health Center and of the Health Agent was subsequently created. Mrs.Mary Cooper assumed this new position of Director of Public Health for the Town of Wayland on December 1, 1972.

The Board of Health Agent and the Sanitary Engineer inspected all restaurants and eating places in the town and all violations were corrected.

All grocery stores, meat markets, nursing homes and boarding houses were inspected.

Milk samples were taken from schools, restaurants, grocery stores, rest homes and delivery trucks and taken to the Sanitary Engineer's laboratory for analysis.

Numerous complaints were received concerning overflowing cesspools and septic tanks.

At our annual dog rabies clinic, 272 dogs were inoculated against rabies.

2. WAYLAND PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING SERVICE AND PARMENTER HEALTH CENTER

STAFF:

The generalized nursing program is carried out by six public health nurses, the director and five staff nurses. The position of nursing supervisor has been eliminated and her responsibilities have been combined with those of the director.

WELL CHILD CONFERENCE:

Well child clinics are offered to Wayland residents who find it difficult to provide well child care for their pre-school children Dr. Freda Beer is the clinic pediatrician. Attendance at the clinic has dropped about 50 per cent this year. This probably can be attributed to the lower birth rate and the fact that Medicaid makes it possible for many children to be seen by private physicians.

SCHOOL NURSING:

Three thousand four hundred and forty-four (3,444) students were screened for vision and hearing. There were one hundred and eight (108) vision referrals and eighty-three (83) hearing referrals made.

There was no screening done this year for tuberculosis. Although tuberculosis is no less prevalent than it was ten years ago, Wayland is considered a low priority area by the State Department of Tuberculosis Control. Massachusetts control laws are twice as stringent as those recommended by the Federal Department of Tuberculosis Control and priorities change when indicated.

School nursing still accoun ts for more than 50 per cent of the nurses' time. The actual school visit, including emergency calls, is just one aspect of school nursing. The remaining time is spent in visiting parents or in conferences with students, school personnel, physicians, or clinic personnel. In this way, the nurses become acquainted with the students and their families and provide better service helping to keep them at their highest level of physical and emotional health.

This year the nurse at the Junior and Senior High Schools has been involved in teaching segments as part of the school health education program.

THERAPEUTIC NURSING:

Therapeutic nursing refers to patients who are receiving skilled nursing care as general personal care, dressings and injections in their homes or at the office. The nurse also provides emotional support to the patient and family and helps the patient cope with his illness. Teaching the patient and family is another facet of therapeutic nursing.

As of December 5, 1972, the therapeutic home visits totaled 1,058 and office visits, 84. Unfortunately we do not have a larger number of nursing patients because of the more stringent Medicare and Medicaid policies and because many residents are not knowledgeable about the nursing services in Wayland.

There is a fee for therapeutic nursing visits, but frequently it is handled by third parties such as Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans' Services, Blue Cross, Blue Shield. If not, the fee is based on a sliding scale and no patient is refused care because of inability to pay.

HEALTH PROMOTION:

Health promotion visits, unlike therapeutic nursing, require no direct nursing service focus on teaching, supervision and referrals. They include families with newborns, pre-school children, school children, specific health problems and adults of all ages. Teaching growth and development patterns, coping with physical disabilities, communicable disease control and supervision of the elderly with chronic disease, are some of the areas included in these visits. Health promotion is one of the most important functions of the public health nurse as the focus is on disease prevention and control.

As of December 5, 1972, the total health promotion visits were 20 office and 1,078 home visits.

PHYSICAL THERAPY:

Physical therapy is available for patients in their homes and the fee arrangements are the same as for therapeutic nursing service.

As of December 5, 1972, 215 physical therapy visits were made.

SPEECH THERAPY:

The speech therapy program includes speech evaluation and classes for pre-school children in Wayland and vicinity. The total number of children this year was 52.

FRIENDS OF PARMENTER:

The "Friends" continue to provide volunteer service for the programs at Parmenter Health Center. They provide transportation for residents of Wayland and recruit volunteers to assist at pre-school registration, dental clinic, well child clinic and special health programs such as vision and hearing screening. During holiday seasons, they provide cards and gifts for the patients. Because of their generosity, the nurses have more time to devote to nursing functions.

PROGRAM FOR ELDERLY:

The nursing staff has been planning some special programs for the elderly. A meeting was held at Parmenter for volunteer and established agencies who are interested in the problems of the elderly in order to try to coordinate services. We are interested in reaching many of the elderly residents to plan group meetings in order to help meet their needs and interests.

The Trustees of Parmenter Health Center and members of the Wayland Board of Health continue to work together to provide high quality health care for the residents of Wayland.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY E. COOPER, R.N., Director

3. SCHOOL PHYSICIAN'S REPORT

The School Physician has welcomed the opportunity to continue as a consultant to those implementing the health curriculum. In addition, teaching in this area was done at the fifth grade level with the assistance of Dr. John S. Taub and Dr. Louis N. Rashin. The results of a previous course in basic anatomy and physiology were evident in the improved calibre of the questions asked by the pupils. Assistance in teaching at the Junior High School level was also given and Dr. Eva Poch is thanked for her participation.

Medical coverage of the home senior varsity football games was provided by Dr. Ernest H. Damon and the coverage now legally required for the junior varsity football was kindly provided by the physician in charge of emergency services at the Leonard Morse Hospital.

Conferences called to consider a wide variety of learning problems in individual pupils were attended. The Director of Special Education is thanked for including health personnel in the study of these cases which frequently require an inter-disciplinary approach for their solutions.

The health room at the new Junior High School enables an improved service to be given to sick and injured pupils; the principal and the architects are thanked for the opportunities to discuss with them the planning of this facility.

While the expansion at the Claypit Hill School has made a health room again available, the other elementary schools remain without such a facility. The health personnel wish to thank the principals, secretaries and other staff for helping with the care of sick and injured children in their offices.

Physical examinations of the perceptually handicapped, those engaging in competitive sports and routine examinations were carried out as required.

The excellent cooperation of the Director of the Parmenter Health Center and the school nurses is gratefully acknowledged.

The Board of Health is thanked for their advice and unfailing support.

Respectfully submitted,
JOYCE R. VETTRAINO, M.D.
School Physician

5. THE YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE - DETACHED SOCIAL WORKER

In October, 1970, an ad-hoc working committee was formed to "deal with the problems of Wayland youth," focussing on the specific problems of "drugs, alcohol and anti-social behavior." The following agencies were represented in this committee's work:

School Department
- Superintendent
- Assistant Superintendent
- High School Principal
- Junior High School Principal
- Assistant Junior High School Principal
- Elementary School Principals
- Psychologist
- Doctor
- School Committee Representatives
- Social Sciences Coordinator
- Physical Sciences Coordinator

Police Department
- Chief
- Youth Officer

Clergy Association

Board of Health

Family Counselling Center

Parmenter Health Clinic

On January 12, 1971, this ad-hoc committee presented a paper defining the scope of the problem, educational aspects, enforcement aspects and a proposed program. The program was presented to the Finance Committee for inclusion into the March, 1971, Town Meeting.

At that meeting, the Town approved the establishment of a Youth Advisory Committee and the hiring of a "detached social worker." A sum of $9,000 was appropriated to cover "the salary of the detached social worker and to defray the expenses of the committee and the social worker for the ensuing year."

The committee hired Mr. Neil Hickey and he began work on August 15, 1971. After two months it became apparent that Mr. Hickey required the services of a secretary-typist to formalize documentation and also to be on call during his absence from his office at Parmenter. A typist was hired and her salary was paid out of the difference between Mr. Hickey's salary and the allotted $9,000.

From the beginning of the project in October, 1970, all parties involved agreed the program was exploratory in nature. Those on the ad-hoc committee agreed that a problem existed. The January 12, 1971, working paper documented the increase in Wayland youth problems (i.e., drugs, alcohol, larceny, school non-achievement, runaways, V.D., unwanted pregnancies) over a ten-year period. Officials representing counselling agencies knew that undocumented (not reported) problems involving parents/kids, peer pressures, academic pressures and adolescent development existed in Wayland. Committee members were not, however, clear as to a constructive and professional approach to the problems. Police, Church and School admitted they were not "getting to" the total population. Teen Centers had become passe. "Rap groups" attracted only "rap groupers." Wayland's new Hotline was receiving calls but professional followup was not guaranteed. The committee knew the problem. It did not know the solution.

The social worker was hired to test "solutions" as they occurred. The Youth Advisory Committee gave him freedom to experiment. As his presence became more known to individuals and agencies, his workload increased and the structure of his job and his relationship with other agencies became more clear.

His routine administrative responsibilities, and, more particularly, his heavy caseload and increasing variety of tasks (most of which is confidential) came to demand more time, skills and background than those possessed by the first secretary. As a result, a second secretary, Isabel Wheat, was hired as a part-time secretary (30 hours per week) on January 1, 1972. Miss Wheat had worked with Mr. Hickey previously. Along with his work, the amount of her work increased and the nature of her work changed. As her skills became more apparent, she became more involved in crisis intervention, individual and group counselling.

At the time of Town Meeting (March 1972), Miss Wheat agreed to continue her title and salary as "part-time senior secretary" with a full awareness that this title and salary fitted neither the time she spends on the job, the nature of her work nor the developing needs of the people with whom she is working.

Individual Counselling

The Youth Advisory Committee asked Mr. Hickey to document only statistics on his activities. No confidential files exist for any person who has worked with the detached social worker. "Detached" equals "Anonymity," and the Youth Advisory Committee has charged Mr. Hickey with the responsibility for that anonymity. The following numbers indicate "total contacts" for the twelve-month period from August, 1971, through August, 1972. A "total contact" ranges anywhere from a 15-minute phone conversation to a formally-scheduled one-hour session to an eight-hour crisis intervention.

Male client	109
Female client	369
Parents	94
Home placement	25

Relationships with Other Agencies

Mr. Hickey's and Miss Wheat's relationships with other agencies "just grew" and are still growing. Some of the agencies (School Independent Study, Title III Parent Counselling, Plan I Work Study) were themselves getting started. The Youth Officer was new to town.

Due to the structure of the Youth Advisory Committee (School, Police, Clergy, Board of Health, Selectmen), many avenues were open but untried. In addition, many of the people involved in the original ad-hoc committee could open still other avenues.

Generally, relationships between all agencies listed below and the detached social worker have been excellent. Referrals to other agencies (i.e., private psychiatrists and psychologists, Framingham Youth Guidance Center) have not been listed as "contacts."

Summary

1. The office of "detached social worker" has developed a large counselling caseload. The caseload increases, indicating an increasing awareness on the part of a segment of the total youth population and acceptance by same.

2. Relationships with other Town and area mental health agencies are becoming increasingly complex, indicating a "working together" and "working through" on the part of the new office. This complexity suggests an effectiveness and trust on the part of all agencies involved.

3. The Youth Advisory Committee is unanimous in its praise of Mr. Hickey and Miss Wheat, not only in their foresight and dedication but also in their ability to work out previously unstructured resources.

6. REPORT OF THE SANITARY ENGINEER

The following is a summary of my activities for your Board during the calendar year 1972.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

During the calendar year 1972, sixty-two (62) permits were issued by your Health Agent, for the construction of, or alteration of, sewage disposal systems, after the necessary preliminary inspections and recommendations were made to your office. A total of more than 580 inspections or visits were made to insure the effective design and construction of these systems, and to advise builders and home owners concerning the proper installation, operation, and maintenance of these new or existing facilities.

RESTAURANT INSPECTIONS

Inspections were made at all of the food service establishments in the Town, with the Board of Health agent, with special attention given to those where sanitary problems were noted, with repeat or follow-up visits to insure corrective action and compliance with the pertinent regulations. The customary practice of making the inspections without prior announcement was continued, so that actual operating conditions could be observed.

MILK INSPECTIONS

A total of one hundred and sixty-one (161) samples of milk and cream were collected during the year by your Board of Health Agent from the dairies, licensed outlets selling milk and cream in the Town, and from the school cafeterias. These samples were examined in the laboratory for total bacterial counts, coliform bacteria, and phosphatase, with the results reported to the dairies concerned, as required by law.

LAKE COCHITUATE

During the summer bathing season, water samples were collected weekly, and examined in the laboratory for a check on the water quality. The water met the accepted standards for a bathing area during the entire season.

Respectfully submitted,
THOMAS J. RINALDO

7. INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS

During the period 57 dogs and 1 cat were quarantined for possible rabies. All were released.

There were 18 shipments of interstate cattle into Wayland. A total of 150 cows were inspected.

At the request of various citizens and the Police Department, 38 investigations and inspections were made. Six meetings were attended.

The following figures are compiled from the annual barn inspections of every location where livestock is usually kept.

8. THE EAST MIDDLESEX MOSQUITO CONTROL PROJECT

Wayland is one of the sixteen cities and towns in the East Middlesex Mosquito Control Project. Three of the adjacent towns are also members of the Project and operate similar mosquito control programs. Natick operates an independent mosquito control program. There is no mosquito control in Lincoln or Concord.

In Wayland the program commenced with pre-season dusting of Methoxychlor on a number of swamplands to reduce the April hatch of mosquito larvae. Early in the spring a little ditch cleaning was done near Rice Road. From April into September wetlands were inspected and sprayed when mosquito larvae were found. The Sudbury River meadows flooded deeply in the spring and mosquito larvae were scarce. Some of the shallower wooded marginal swamps produced mosquito larvae and were sprayed. The unusually rainy spring and early summer favored mosquito breeding and the dispersion of adult mosquitoes. The aerosol trucks were operated in various parts of Wayland on eleven evenings and on two mornings when the weather was overcast. This was all directed against adult mosquitoes. A helicopter sprayed mosquito larvae near Lincoln Road and near Pelham Island Road in April, and River Road, Mill Pond swamp and Pine Brook swamp in May. Thereafter the helicopter was hired for ultra-low-volume aerosol spraying against adult mosquitoes over limited areas in many parts of Wayland in June, July and early August. Bad weather frequently curtailed helicopter service. In the fall ditch cleaning was resumed in the region of Rice Road. A short length of Hammond Brook was cleaned south from Route 30.

The mosquito control office received 95 requests for mosquito control spraying and 7 calls from people opposed to spraying. The cost of the mosquito control program was less than $0.60 per person in 1972.

THE WAYLAND HOUSING AUTHORITY

A year ago we optimistically anticipated commencing construction of our Elderly Housing project in the Spring of 1972. However, this was not to be, as all steps, including the all important date of funding by the State were again delayed beyond expectation.

In March, the contract for Financial Assistance was finally signed between the Wayland Housing Authority and the State Department of Community Affairs in the amount of $1,120,000.00.

In May, notes for the contract amount were bid, and the Authority was actively funded as of June 2nd. Mr. Clifford Goodnoh, a member of the Authority and a resident of Wayland for many years resigned in June as he moved to the state of Maine. Mr. Edward F. Thorburn of 12 Valley View Road, Wayland, was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Mr.Goodnoh. Our Architect, Reinhardt Associates, Inc. of Springfield, Mass. presented final plans for review in July. The plans were revised and on August 2nd were approved.

Sub contract bids were received on September 27. General contract bids were received on October 4. The general contract was awarded to Weston Construction Co. of Weston, Mass., the low bidder, with a total bid of $1,009,899.

Candidates for the position of Clerk of the Works were interviewed in early November. The Construction Contract was signed at the State Department of Community Affairs office in Boston, Mass. on November 21. Ground breaking ceremonies were held on November 28 and actual construction began in early December. The construction period is estimated as one year.

During December the State conducted a complete audit of the Housing Authority accounts and files.

The Housing Authority expects to prepare and distribute formal application forms by the Spring of 1973 for the 56 apartment units under construction. Our analysis indicates a need for approximately 200 units of elderly housing. Representatives of the State Department of Community Affairs have stated that new revised guidelines for tenant selection will be provided to all Housing Authorities in the very near future. Need will be the major factor in the processing of applications, which will obviously be an extremely difficult task.

Despite the need for a greater number of units of elderly housing in Wayland, the Housing Authority cannot possibly be in a position to recommend a further plan to the Town before the Fall of 1973.

THE LIBRARY

Public library service has many facets not always evident in circulation figures and accessioned holdings. Among the more important are reference services, handled in the building and by telephone; programming for children and young people, providing them with inspiration and enrichment; art exhibits; and business services, coupled with our newspaper and periodical collections available for adult perusal. Realizing that many people use our facilities without any contact with our circulation desks, we counted our visitors during the month of March. More than 8500 persons were counted on our tabulators during the month, and we know that this is a minimal figure since at busy hours our staff could not note each and every person entering the building.

Our children's and young people's programs, directed by Mrs. Ann Flowers, Children's Librarian, and Mrs. Adrienne Dorfman, Assistant Children's Librarian, consisted of seven programs a week: five pre-school story hours, one afternoon elementary story hour, and a Junior High program held at Wayland one half of the year and at the Cochituate Branch the other half. Mrs. Flowers and Mrs. Dorfman visited the elementary schools to give book talks and special holiday story hours. Mrs. Flowers gave a workshop on children's literature for elementary school teachers. The pre-school story hours were climaxed by a professional puppet show. Children's Book Week in November was celebrated by two Paint-ins, a coffee, and gift book discussion for mothers; and the week ended with a two day chess tournament in which 83 intense children participated. A large model farm and foam building blocks were additions to the Children's Room this year and have been enjoyed by many little hands.

The Junior High program led by Mrs. Dorfman featured crafts, field trips, book talks, and discussions and films. We welcome the patter of young feet into our libraries. We know that this is a crucial phase of our work and that impressions gained there may well stay with young minds for a lifetime.

Our participation in the Eastern Regional Network has brought a much improved interlibrary loan service this year. Daily delivery service brought us books from member libraries and films from the audio-visual department of the Boston Public Library. The Eastern Regional Bookmobile made monthly visits, and staff members gained additional professional guidance at workshops sponsored by the Region.

We welcomed four new members to our staff during 1972. Mrs. Susan Panoff, a graduate of the Simmons Library School, joined us as Assistant Librarian. Mrs. Marjorie Bennett joined our staff at the Cochituate Branch and Mrs. Ann Pratt the staff of the Main Library. Mrs. Vicary Maxant, a graduate of the Simmons Library School, joined the staff at the Main Library.

We are most grateful to Mrs. Dawn Randall for arranging our art exhibits for another year and to the Wayland Garden Club members who continue to provide us with decorative floral arrangements each week.

Mrs. Susan Panoff initiated a book review column for the local newspaper on a bi-weekly basis and arranged for special book exhibits from the Eastern Region. An adult Book Discussion Club led by Mrs. Campbell met monthly and Mrs. Campbell gave book reviews at the local nursing homes.

Members of the staff took an active part in several professional organizations, and Mrs. Campbell was privileged to attend the American Library Association Annual Meeting in Chicago in June. Mrs. Flowers was elected Vice-Chairman of the Round Table of Children's Librarians and Mrs. Campbell was elected to the Board of the Greater Boston Public Library Administrators.

We are pleased to note an increase in our book and record circulation and trust that we will be able to fulfill the cultural, recreational, and informational needs of the community even better in the future.

THE MASSACHUSETTS BAY TRANSIT AUTHORITY

As of January 1, 1973, Wayland joins many other towns in the M.B.T.A. District that have little or no railroad or bus service into the Metropolitan Boston area.

Wayland's assessment for 1972 was $90,000., and for the year 1973 the estimated assessment for Wayland will be in the vicinity of $162,000. The assessment formula is based on the number of commuters leaving their own community and traveling into the Metropolitan Boston area. The M.B.T.A. records maintain that approximately 600 Waylandites are classed as commuters.

During the latter part of 1972 and now, entering into 1973, a Wayland resident wishing to go into the Metropolitan area would have to use the railroad service from Lincoln or from Natick-Framingham, or through bus service with stops at Wayland Center, Shoppers World, and Riverside, and as a last resort the trolleys from Riverside.

The schedules for some of the above services provide little or no service between the early morning and evening hours.

The only bright spot to appear on the gloomy M.B.T.A. horizon was the almost unanimous approval of the M.B.T.A. Advisory Board to acquire the rights to the Penn Central roadbeds. This could be the base for rapid transit to Boston.

For the sake of comparison, here are amounts of assessments our neighboring towns will pay in 1973:

Framingham	$491,537.	Lincoln	$79,679.
Natick	$360,752.	Sudbury	$123,607.
Weston	$ 97,778.

In conclusion, may I say our only hope of exclusion from the M.B.T.A. District has to come from the General Court, but to remain in the District our assessment must be reduced by financial aid from the Commonwealth and Federal Government.

MINUTEMAN REGIONAL VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL DISTRICT COMMITTEE

Since the end of 1971 the Minuteman Regional Vocational Technical School District Committee acquired a 64-acre site located partly in Lexington, partly in Lincoln, just west of Route 128 and south of Route 2A.

Early in '72 interviewing of architectural firms culminated in a competition between three finalists, and Drummey, Rosane and Anderson, Inc. of Wellesley, Mass. was selected. Flexibility of classroom and shop areas for the most effective use of space, in accordance with the educational specifications, has been a prime consideration in the design of the multi-storied structure of three main levels and two mezzanine levels.

Working drawings were completed in August and general bids opened on September 14. After analysis, on September 15 the Committee voted to authorize debt for the project. Since none of the twelve member towns disapproved this action within the thirty-day period allowed by statute, a contract was signed with the White Construction Company of Burlington, low bidder.

Groundbreaking was held on November 1, 1972, and construction is in progress. Indications are that the total cost of the school will be in line with the original estimates presented to the voters before the March, 1971, town elections at which the District was established, but the net cost assessed upon member towns of the District will be lower due to an increase in the state grant for construction and for the cost of interest. Bonding will be based on a ten-year issue and will probably be sold sometime next March.

The Superintendent-Director has met periodically with Superintendents of the sending schools of the Region to exchange viewpoints and ideas. A general orientation meeting with the Advisory Board of professional men was held last September. Small groups of this Advisory Board are being called upon from time to time when matters in their particular areas of interest and expertise are being considered.

With the addition of an Expediter and an Instructional Systems Analyst in October, and the prospect of further increases in staff, the Superintendent's office needed additional space. The Wayland School Committee offered space in the old Wayland Junior High building at 41 Cochituate Road, and the move was completed in mid-October. Planning for curriculum and program, as well as for hiring and orientation of the staff which will make the preparations for operating the school, is going forward. Equipment and furnishings for the building are being evaluated and selected.

A public hearing was held on November 21 on the budget for the 18-month period from January 1, 1973 - June 30, 1974, and this budget of $2,488,955 was accepted by the Committee.

The Minuteman Regional Vocational Technical School District Committee believes that it is developing an effective facility for vocational and technical education. It has adhered to the original time schedule and plans to open the school for its first class in September, 1974.

OLD MELLEN LAW OFFICE

MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC POWER COMMITTEE

During the year we refined and evaluated much of the data previously gathered and observed an emerging public concern, with Newton, Swampscott, Waltham, and Winthrop joining the four towns already engaged in study. Our work was slowed somewhat by membership turnover and by our chairman's slow recovery from surgery. Nonetheless, we have prepared a lengthy progress report for the Board of Selectmen. The summary and recommendations are excerpted here.

The answer to the question, "Should Wayland opt for its own power system?" is best summarized: "It appears economically attractive, but is difficult to accomplish." The magnitude of economic attractiveness to the Town is in the range of $200,000 to $500,000 annually, either as reduced electricity bills to residents, or as increased revenues to the Town, or a course encompassing both.

The reasons that municipal power is feasible anywhere are that municipals pay no direct Federal or State taxes, pay no dividends to nonresident or other shareholders, don't advertise, tend to pay salaries at municipal rather than large industrial rates, borrow money more cheaply, and are operated for the direct benefit of the customers rather than shareholders. The difficulties in implementing a municipal power system include procedural hurdles imposed by the General Laws, lack of cooperation by the present electric utility (Boston Edison), long-term financing restrictions, and the prevailing political climate.

Of pivotal importance in Wayland is the fair market value of the local Boston Edison distribution system serving Wayland. We recently met jointly with the Board of Assessors on this question, since the Town is undergoing revaluation. We briefed them on the difficulties other towns have faced when attempting to reassess utilities, and the various alternatives others have used. There is question in our minds whether the local utility can be successfully reassessed (including court challenges) without engaging utility consultants whose expertise has been proven by litigation. From the recent experience of towns undertaking utility reassessment, it appears that the utilities have assessed themselves at somewhat less than 50 per cent of fair market value.

We have found that municipal power, if in operation today in Wayland, would be a positive benefit with few offsetting disadvantages, and we would unanimously endorse its continued use. Because of procedural difficulties, not-yet-determined changeover and operating costs, and questions about long-term energy supply sources, however, we are unable to make a recommendation for or against conversion at this time, absent the critical data. We do recommend the following:

1. The MEPC should be continued for an additional year to complete its work to make a reasonably accurate estimation of the costs, benefits, procedures, and consequences of conversion to municipal power in Wayland.

2. During 1973, the MEPC should determine whether professional study will be required, at a cost of $10,000 to $20,000, usually recoverable by using the expert appraisal as a base for utility reassessment.

3. The MEPC should prepare oral briefings for the Selectmen relating to any pending legislation that would materially affect municipal power, short or long term.

4. The MEPC should maintain contact with the other seven municipal power study committees, taking advantage of their pooled research to improve the overall quality of the Wayland final report.

PARK-RECREATION-CEMETERY

The Park and Recreation Commission has met continuously for the past year. The fifth year has continued to progress with many refinements in our operations.

The summer playgrounds were extended one more week this year which proved very worthwhile. Again, our many recreational programs enjoyed a very successful year.

The maintenance of our many parks, schools and cemeteries continue to take a major effort from our work force while keeping the cost down.

We have purchased four additional acres for the North Cemetery from the Damon Estate. This purchase should solve a long range plan for development of North Cemetery.

The department has sold 24 lots and has had 52 burials.

Income was as follows:

Beach	$ 4,210.52
Recreation	4,570.70
Cemetery	12,799.00

The Commissioners wish to thank Robert Rier for his devoted service to our board before his resignation for business reasons.

Richard Etelman was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Commissioners thank the many town departments, clubs and individuals for their assistance; without it, we could not operate. We are indebted to the Highway, Water, Fire, and School Departments for the use of their equipment and facilities and the many volunteers who make our Recreation Program so successful.

The Commissioners also thank the men and women of our department who make our operation productive, efficient and enjoyable.

THE PERSONNEL BOARD

The Personnel Board is made up of five members appointed by the Board of Selectmen for five year terms. The term of one member expires each year. Joyce Bertelsen was appointed to replace Richard Jeffrey, who resigned.

The Personnel Board administers the Wage and Salary Classification Plan for the Town of Wayland. This Plan was established by the Town Meeting in 1952. It prescribes guidelines for governing salaries, terms of employment, job titles, fringe benefits and other related matters. No provision of this Plan applies to elected Town Officials, employees of the School Department and a few specific part-time and temporary employees. Other responsibilities of the Board are:

(a) To approve all pay or classification changes of Town employees, including all hiring rates and classifications;
(b) To establish central personnel files necessary to administration of the Plan; and
(c) To review the Plan annually, including minimum and maximum wage and salary brackets, and recommend to the Town any appropriate changes.

As collective bargaining agent for the Board of Selectmen, the Personnel Board spends a great amount of time negotiating with the several Town employee unions. During the year theWayland Permanent Police Officers Association affiliated with the National Association of Government Employees (NAGE) as International Brotherhood of Police Officers Local 310. The Highway, Park, Recreation and Cemetery Employees Union also affiliated with NAGE, as did the newly-formed Town Clerical Employees.

Negotiated salary and wage increases and those set by the Board amounted to 4 per cent for general employees, well within the 5.5 per cent maximum established by the Federal Government.

The Board continued the services of the Charles Evans Associates which has so ably assisted it in the past. They advise the Board on personnel matters, prepare and update job descriptions, prepare the Employee's Handbook, and make an annual survey of wages, salaries and fringe benefits in fifteen towns which are comparable to Wayland in several respects.

The Employee's Handbook, which contains all the information found in the Wage and Salary Classification Plan and describes retirement and insurance coverage, is made available to each Town employee. Considerable money was saved by issuing 1972 changes as a supplement to the 1971 Handbook.

A continuing liaison has been established with the School Department on collective bargaining matters concerning non-professional employees, especially secretarial and clerical.

The Board has been ably assisted by Mr. Francis X. Corliss, in his capacity as Town Personnel Officer. He has relieved the Board of many routine matters pertaining to requests for interpretations of the Wage and Salary Classification Plan and various Town personnel procedures.

Collective bargaining continues to occupy the greater part of the Board's time. It is anticipated that less time will be spent on this effort in future years when multi-year contracts have been established.

Regular meetings of the Board continue to be scheduled for the second Thursday of each month; however, an average of one meeting a week was held throughout the past year.

THE WAYLAND PLANNING BOARD

Highlights

During 1972, two matters dominated most of the Planning Board meetings - a questionnaire survey of citizen views on planning matters and our response to a proposed subdivision within a highly regarded conservation plan parcel, the Sholz property. Both of these matters have promoted much broader citizen contact and will usefully influence activity of the board for many years. A new compilation of the zoning by-laws was prepared and subsequently passed by Town Meeting. Finally, a conceptual plan for the eventual development of Mainstone Farm has been presented to the Planning Board and other town bodies. We are understandably cautious with this unprecedented undertaking and anticipate considerable study on its total impact to the town.

Membership and Representation

The Planning Board meets regularly on the first and third Mondays at 8:00 P.M. in the Planning Board room. The meetings are open; all residents are welcome and invited to participate. During 1972 the board has generally been holding an additional meeting each month due to increased workload. We anticipate this practice will continue in 1973 as we pursue more longer-term planning matters. Sybil Kevy of the League of Women Voters observed many of the 1972 board meetings.

The Planning Board consists of six elected members. There were no changes in members during 1972 affording an opportunity to increase our experience level. The board maintains cognizance of activity in planning related areas through its appointed representatives as shown below:

Allen H. Morgan	Conservation Commission
James R. Hopkins	School Building Planning Committee
Sara I. Peters	Town Office Space Study Group
Bert Cohen	Sidewalk Committee
William R. Domey	Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee
Martha C. Taub	Regional Transportation Needs Study Committee
W. Hugh M. Morton	Suburban Intertown Liaison Committee (SILC)
Mathias J. Leupold	New Power and Light Committee
Mathias J. Leupold	Road Planning Committee
Mathias J. Leupold	Suburban Intertown Liaison Committee (SILC)
Marcia Storkerson	I-290 Sub Committee (SILC)
John C. Dyer	Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC)

We direct your attention to the individual reports of these several committees to obtain a comprehensive view of all planning activity in Wayland.

Activity During 1972

Comprehensive Planning.- The Planning Board believes Wayland is approaching a pivotal period in which pressure for more intense development and urbanization will increase. Creeping commercialization, more traffic, and concern for moderate income housing are some of the symptoms. Land use control through zoning and wise use of available land by looking ahead to needs and possibilities are the keys to an orderly and desirable growth plan. To this end the board solicited citizen views as a basis for establishing needs and priorities for Wayland's future.

The board strongly supported all actions to implement the Conservation Master Plan and commends the Conservation Commission for their affirmative action. The two town centers represent a core of resources from which to begin. Traffic and parking are part of the challenge. As such we consider sites such as the Lovell parcel in Wayland center as important to permit future flexibility to consider alternate solutions. These matters will grow in importance during the coming year.

Subdivision Activity

The Planning Board was not required to hold hearings on any subdivision plans during 1972. However, on the horizon we contemplate dealing with a Swiedler subdivision on the Sholz parcel and Devens Hamlen's plan for Mainstone Farm. At the present time the significant subdivisions approved or underway are Comeau's on Reeve's Hill, Livoli's south of the Mass. Pike, a few lots remaining on Coolidge Road, several in north Wayland, and about 30 on the Weston line. The subdivision activity during the last five years is shown below:

Year	Lots Approved	New Roads
1970	17	2,530 ft.
1969	11	500 ft.

Survey of Citizens

In order to obtain a sound basis for future planning, the Planning Board undertook a townwide survey of citizen attitudes, opinions and views on a variety of planning related matters including town services, transportation, regional participation and the like. The Planning Board prepared an extensive questionnaire ably assisted in technical matters by Mrs. Sonja Strong. Out of some 3,900 mailed, the Planning Board received approximately 1,000 responses. The respondents represented a good balance of geographical, age and residence tenure distribution. The Planning Board is most grateful to Mrs. Strong for the many hours of fine professional help she gave to improving our questionnaire and interpreting the analysis of tabulated results. Our thanks also to the volunteers who prepared the questionnaires for computer processing and to the LWV whose members tabulated the many written responses. A tally of results from the questionnaires follows this report. A cross-tab analysis with more detailed data will be on file at the Public Library as will be a notebook which includes the several hundred comments received

The Planning Board considers this survey fairly represents current concerns of citizens as well as their desires for the future of the town. We intend to follow up on these in the coming year.

Approximately 50 citizens responded to our suggestion of volunteering their services to serve the Town. We trust they will find their efforts in town service to be mutually beneficial.

Zoning By-Laws

For the past year or so, the Planning Board has been working with the Wayland Codification Committee to verify and compile the Town's zoning by-laws. This involved checking the wording of the By-Laws as they are used with the wording of the article creating the By-Law as it was passed in Town Meetings back through the years to 1934, and as it was accepted by the State Attorney General, making sure there were no differences. The results of this work were presented for approval to the October 1972 Town Meeting and accepted by the Town.

The Planning Board is very grateful to the Codification Committee, and in particular to Mrs. Jean Pratt and Mrs. Ruth Smith, for all the hours of volunteer time they gave to this work. Remaining to be done is the final preparation and presentation to the Town for approval of Wayland's zoning map. Hopefully this will be accomplished at the March 1973 Town Meeting.

Sholz Property

Shortly after the March town meeting a representative of Swiedler Building Company approached the Planning Board with a preliminary plan for subdividing the parcel of land between Three Ponds Road, Squirrel Hill Road and Glezen Lane, commonly known as the Sholz property. That plan included extension of Three Ponds Road through to Glezen Lane with the creation of more than 20 house lots. Since the land was a key piece on the Conservation Master Plan of unique character and providing a vital link between other conservation land both north and south, members of the Planning Board and of the Conservation Commission entered into extensive negotiations with Swiedler to acquire all, or at least some, of the parcel for conservation purposes.

These negotiations culminated in a vote by the October Special Town Meeting to buy for conservation purposes 26 acres around a pond in the middle of the parcel. Swiedler's agreement to sell requires an access to the 19 acres it retains from the south (Three Ponds Road) or east (Squirrel Hill Road), since access from the north (Glezen Lane) would be eliminated with the sale to the Town of the portion around the pond. The Special Town Meeting did not vote to acquire either the access from Three Ponds Road or from Squirrel Hill Road. The persons who own the access from Squirrel Hill Road are favorably inclined toward conservation and negotiations to provide that access, so that the conservation purchase can proceed, are still continuing. We hope that the question will be resolved by the 1973 spring Town Meeting.

Sewage Study

We note that a townwide study of sewage problems was conducted by the Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee. On the basis of their findings we reported to MAPC our current belief that Wayland will not need to participate in any extensive sewer program warranting a regional tie-in.

Sudbury River

We expressed concern at an Army Corps of Engineers hearing on the Saxonville Local Protection Project, that its project to shield part of the flood plain in Saxonville could have adverse effect on Wayland. We asked that the environmental impact statement specifically address this problem. Congressman Drinan, Representative Gannett, and SILC assisted in obtaining information in this matter.

On Site Inspections

The Planning Board inspected several areas during 1972. These included the Sholz property, the Comeau development on Reeve's Hill, the Philbob (Waters) property - site of the new tennis club, the Lindstrom parcel on Route 30, and an extended survey of Wayland Center and environs.

Sidewalks/Walkways

We are generally pleased with the newer sidewalks and will continue to support an active building and upgrading program.

SILC

Transportation Secretary Altschuler addressed SILC during the winter and offered to work with SILC in planning balanced transportation for the region. Later in the winter SILC supported the legislative resolution which would have made the highway trust fund available for mass transportation. Politically, the individual towns' voices are amplified through a grouping such as SILC. During the fall Route 2 attracted attention. Without its membership in SILC Wayland would have no acknowledged interest in the Route 2 relocation/reconstruction project in Concord and Lincoln. As it is Wayland has had the opportunity to review the environmental impact statement and make comments appropos of its interest. Also through SILC Wayland has a keener appreciation of the differences between some of the member towns' reactions to the Route 2 project than it would have otherwise.

Transportation Planning for the Bicentennial Celebration offers both an opportunity and a challenge to SILC: opportunity because real facilities must be provided in time for 1976, and the federal and state governments will provide money, and challenge to ensure that these facilities will figure rationally in the region's transportation future.

MAPC

Wayland was represented at all three 1972 meetings of the Metropolitan Area Council. In addition we participated in one all day program on regional approaches and a working meeting on solid waste disposal. A file of several MAPC reports is available for examination in the Town engineer's office. MAPC serves as a useful link to maintain our awareness of regional planning activity and public hearings such as the Governor's transportation study task force BTPR.

Other Matters

Planning Board members have been active in a variety of situations offering useful feedback and visibility. These include participation in programs such as regional seminars, contacts with counterparts in neighboring towns, chamber of commerce, U.N. conference on environment, a reply to a TV editorial, a Norumbega Association symposium, etc.

Looking Ahead

1973 promises to be a full year again. Obviously Mainstone is the major item. Monitoring of sidewalks, refuse disposal, roads, housing, school utilization are essential to preparing coherent, comprehensive plans. Our first step will begin with redesign of Wayland Center. As has been our practice in the past, we intend to solve each problem by drawing heavily upon interested citizens as resources, augmenting their skills with professional services, where necessary. We invite those who may be interested in participating to contact any member of the board.

3. Wayland's population is presently about 14,000. Under present zoning, and unless large tracts of land are preserved as open space, the maximum population will reach about 21,000. However, multiple unit housing could raise that maximum beyond 30,000. On the other hand, a lower maximum would result if the town acquires land to be used for other than residential development. What population would you like to see Wayland have as a "maximum target population"? (Check one number for your answer.)

85%	14,000 - 21,000
11	21,001 - 30,000
1	30,001 - 40,000
--	40,001 - 50,000
--	More than 50,000

4. What do you think should be a minimum size lot required by zoning for a single family house in Wayland? (Check one)

23%	60,000 sq. ft. (1-1/2 acres)
42	40,000 sq. ft. (1 acre)
24	20,000 sq. ft. (1/2 acre)

2	No minimum lot size
2	No opinion

5. Which of the following statements most nearly expresses the way you feel about multiple housing? (Check one number for your answer.)

15%	I favor multiple housing in Wayland for any age or income group.
33	I favor multiple housing in Wayland, but only for people who work in the town and for the elderly.
2	I favor multiple housing in Wayland, but only for high income families.
3	I favor multiple housing in Wayland, but only for moderate income families.
3	I favor multiple housing in Wayland, but only for low income families.
8	I favor multiple housing in Wayland for families in every income category.
24	I favor multiple housing, but Wayland isn't the place for it.
8	I don't think multiple housing is a good idea anywhere.
3	I don't really have an opinion on this subject.

6. The State can have a considerable "say" over whether or not Wayland has multiple housing. What stand would you like to see Wayland take in the face of any state pressure to have multiple housing? (Check one.)

35%	We should oppose multiple housing.
6	We should wait for the state to force us to have multiple housing.
4	We should condone the state's ruling but take no action ourselves.

35% We should begin now to encourage and plan for multiple housing.
12 We should begin to require multiple housing in a fraction of future developments.
5 No opinion.

7. How do you think the present "open space" (undeveloped land) affects the value of your own property in Wayland? (Check one)

1% Decreases the value
31 Increases the value a little
53 Increases the value a lot
8 It doesn't make any difference
6 I'm not sure; no opinion

8. Considering the needs of Wayland, what priorities would you give to each of the following uses of existing open space in Wayland? (Rank each use in order of its importance to you. "1" for the most important, "2" for the next most important, and so on.)

Land Use	Average Rank of Importance
Residential single family housing	3.8
Residential multiple housing	6.4
Conservation	2.4
Parks for recreation	3.3
Commercial development	6.6
Industrial development	7.2
Town buildings	6.3
Farming	5.0
Other Miscellaneous	9.0

9. There are large tracts of land in Wayland which are presently undeveloped and which private owners may make available for sale to the town or other buyers in the near future. How do you feel about these tracts of land? While you may have different opinions concerning separate parcels of land, what are your general priorities for the town of Wayland as a whole? (You may check more than one answer if you wish.)

64% Most of the land should be held as it is now, to preserve the "green space" in Wayland.

29 We should permit continued growth, with existing single family zoning regulations.

27 We should encourage any future growth to concentrate the same number of people in smaller land areas, through multiple housing or cluster zoning, so that some open space can be preserved with the same overall density.

18 Permit carefully controlled commercial development.
18 Permit carefully controlled industrial development.
1 None of the above expresses the way I feel.
5 Other (please specify)_____

10. The town now owns one specific parcel of land under consideration for an alternative means of land use. It is Wayland's present landfill site (the dump!). When it has been filled, how would you like to see this particular piece of land used? (You may check more than one answer if you wish.)

22% Sold for private industrial development.
15 Sold for private commercial development.
30 Retained for conservation.
17 Retained for a municipal garage and storage.
48 Retained for other disposal uses, (such as any future sewage treatment, incinerator, compactor, etc.)
30 Retained for recreation (different from conservation in that it might include some buildings, refreshment stands, etc., associated with recreational areas).
6 Other uses_____

11. At the March town meeting, an article providing for initial financing of the Conservation Master Plan was passed. What is your feeling about the town's acquisition of land on the Master Plan? (Check one)

27% I feel we should purchase each parcel on the plan as it comes on the market for its fair market value.
46 I feel we should compromise our "ideal" plan if necessary to keep the money spent on land acquisition in line with other town needs, but we should actively try to acquire as much as possible.
13 I feel we should purchase only those parcels which are necessary for protecting the water supply or presently wet areas.
9 At this time, I don't feel I can support any further acquisition of land for conservation purposes.
2 Other_____
4 No opinion.

12. How do you feel about expansion of present commercial business areas of the town? (Check one)

37% I am opposed to expansion of commercial areas.
31 I favor expansion, but only if it provides better services to townspeople.
32 I favor expansion if it provides increased assessed valuation and potentially lower taxes for other property owners.
1 No opinion.

13. Assuming the tax burden on the home owner would be reduced thereby, would you favor increasing the town's tax base by creation of new zones for manufacturing and major industrial uses? (Check one)

36% Yes

45% Private business
42 Town boards
3 Other organizations in town_____ (specify)
8 Other_____ (specify)

15. What do you think should be the Planning Board's role in shaping future development of Wayland? (Check one)

8% Planning should be done by zoning regulations only.
9 Planning Board should be advisory; limited to administering subdivisions of land, suggesting alternatives to town.
64 Planning Board should take the lead by studying and preparing plans for the town to achieve long range designs, including comprehensive land use policies, major capital projects, roads, schools, services, etc.
8 Planning Board should work to change zoning regulations according to a Master Plan accepted by the town.
3 Planning Board should take control of the rate and type of development by acquiring all available land for the town and developing the land for the town.
2 Other_____
4 No opinion.

16. Increasing attention is being given to regional cooperation to solve problems common to many towns. We are interested in your opinions on the role Wayland should take in regional cooperation. Bear in mind that towns would give up some of their own local autonomy in exchange for solutions to problems they can't solve as efficiently on their own.

In which areas do you feel planning could best be done on a regional basis? (Place a check beside each area you think is appropriate for regional cooperation, and comment as freely as you wish about the nature of the cooperation you want.)

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

As Wayland has grown so have the responsibilities of its Police Department. Each year we find increases in our total workload.

This year has been an extremely busy year for our department with some 5000 complaints being handled. In answering these many complaints the patrols have logged a total of 167,793 miles. In addition we have checked some 6597 vacant houses.

Traffic control is still a major problem, and we feel that much success has been reached in this area. We have worked closely with the DPW, the Wayland schools, and concerned citizens. As a result we have been able to lower the speed limits on Routes 126, 27 and 30. Posting of these areas is hoped for in the near future. Our selective enforcement has paid some dividends. Radar is now being used on all shifts with the emphasis on making all roads safe.

A prime concern this year has been the increase in breaking and entering. There has been a 41 per cent increase in this area. I feel that if more citizens would avail themselves of our engraving program, and not hesitate to call when they observe a suspicious action, we would see a reduction in this area. One other area of concern is drugs. Although not directly a Wayland problem, there has been a 19 per cent increase in narcotics violations. Only through the resident's cooperation can we hope to control criminal activity--we must have your support.

In conclusion, I wish to express my sincere thanks to Wayland's Finest and the many support groups, such as the Auxiliary Police, Explorer's Post and citizens and town officials.

As a newly appointed Chief, I have found it to be an extreme pleasure to serve such a fine town. I hope that we have met your many needs, and will continue to strive for a safer town and more efficient police department.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM BLAKE, Chief of Police

THE YOUTH OFFICER

In many ways, 1972 was an interesting, yet productive year for the Youth Division of the Police Department. The welcome addition of Chief William Blake was helpful in initiating new concepts for emphasis in improving youth-police relationships. He brought new ideas that were beneficial to our organization. This year I had the honor of being elected to the position of Treasurer of the Massachusetts Juvenile Police Officers Association. It is a statewide affiliation of police, probation officers, and others with an interest in youth work.

School safety was stressed this year. With the resources of Mr. Robert Anastas, Health and Safety Coordinator for the School system, we presented a series of safety lectures at the elementary level. Familiarization with bus safety was one category. Other areas of concentration included walking and biking on the Town's new sidewalks. We are indeed grateful to all the personnel at the elementary schools who assisted in making the operation function as smoothly as it did. A safety pamphlet entitled "My Safety Notes" was printed and distributed. I am particularly thankful to the members of the Law Enforcement Explorer's Post for their able assistance. The School Traffic Supervisors were also extremely accomodating.

One of the most exciting accomplishments was the creation of a safety education booklet called "Skyler Skrump." It is the brainchild of Ms. Julie Becker, the Language Arts Team Leader at the Cochituate School. It is fashioned after the Wayland Police Department. The drawings were done by one of Ms. Becker's 5th grade students, David Johnson. It will be ready for distribution in the early part of 1973.

At the Junior High School many projects seemed to blossom with the collaboration of the teachers. Town Clerk and Selectman, Mr. John McEnroy was instrumental in suggesting the format for the highly successful "Anti-Shoplifting Crusade." It is hoped that by the end of the school year all Junior High youngsters will have been exposed to this program. It could not have functioned as well as it did without the complete cooperation of the Social Studies Department under Miss Helen Timson and without the efforts of the Reading Department Director, Mrs. Ann Bogojavlensky. In addition to that program, an Emergency Services mini-course was instituted. It is being taught by the Chaulk Ambulance Company of Framingham at no cost to the Town. Other classes were conducted in the Social Studies Department relating to the law for juveniles.

At the High School level no formal agenda were initiated, but rather a continuum of contact was maintained. I am most grateful to Dr. Goff and his staff for the guidance they have provided. Particular attention must focus on the Social Studies classes and Plan I Program where I spent much of my time. It seems as though relationships between students and police have improved immensely. Coincidental with this thought is the fact that there have been fewer juvenile arrests.

I am proud to be a member of the Wayland Police Department. Collectively they are sincere, talented, and sensitive men. The cooperation I receive from each one is indeed gratifying.

The year 1973 promises to be full of constructive programs in the Youth Division. Plans are already being made to expand the safety education. I also plan to spend time in the teaching of mini-courses to Junior and Senior High School students. At the present time there is a tremendous amount of interest in police and corrections. The first project of consequence for the first of the year involves an invitation to Commissioner John Boone of the Department of Corrections. He is scheduled to speak at the High School. Follow-up field trips and discussion groups will acquaint students with the institutional aspects of law enforcement.

Finally, I thank everyone who has not been mentioned specifically for their help in our projects.

Respectfully submitted,
SCHUYLER M. MEYER, III
Youth Officer

LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES PROCESSING SYSTEM (LEAPS)

The Massachusetts Law Enforcement Agencies Processing System (LEAPS) is an example of modern technology working hand-in-hand with law enforcement agencies to assist them in solving the complex problems which they face in today's troubled times. This new tool of law enforcement has been used successfully to combat crime by agencies across the state as well as throughout the country.

Wayland is only one of numerous cities and towns in the Massachusetts system and more communities are being added all the time. New files have been added and are being updated all the time, enabling the law enforcement community to better protect the public which they serve. The System provides instant communications with the Mass. Registry of Motor Vehicles, State Police Agencies, the Metropolitan District Police, Sheriffs Departments, Department of Public Works, the Board of Probation, Houses of Correction, the Department of Public Safety, as well as the other police departments within the System. Through the LEAPS System this Department is also able to communicate with 49 other states. Federal Investigative Agencies and their numerous regional offices, Military Service Headquarters and Canada as well. In 1972 the Police Department has been able to place all license and registration checks directly to the computer in the Registry of Motor Vehicles whereas previously we checked these through administrative message which meant the Registry personnel handled it by hand.

During 1972 the following messages were sent and received:

An estimated 34,500 messages regarding persons, property and vehicles were received.

1094 Signal #9s were sent and received (these are queries as to the owners of motor vehicles which go directly to the Registry's computer).

970 Signal #10s were sent and received (these are queries of whether a motor vehicle is stolen, and they go to Mass. State Police Headquarters and to the National Crime Information Center in Washington). These resulted in 13 hits of which 3 were arrested and convicted. The other 8 were stolen vehicles abandoned in the Town of Wayland.

423 Missing and Wanted entries were transmitted resulting in 9 hits with 5 arrests and convictions.

78 Warrants, vehicles, articles and securities missing from the Town of Wayland, resulting in several recoveries.

87 Administrative messages were sent to other Departments and States.

53 Checks were placed through the Board of Probation.

348 License checks were placed in the computer with 42 convictions resulting from operating after suspension.

24 Messages were sent through LETS to states other than Massachusetts.

49 Query messages were sent on possible stolen firearms, articles and securities.

22 Items and persons wanted have been convicted and cancelled.

THE WAYLAND PUBLIC CEREMONIES COMMITTEE

Bicentennial plans continue to take shape. This year's discussions indicate a need for several sub-committees to assist in the orderly handling of 1975-76 functions.

Plans call for the formation, in 1973, of subcommittees such as:

Historic: Research, re-creation planning of events (cannon going through on way to Dorchester Heights), authentic dress, customs, etc.

Safety: Police, Fire, Highway Departments, citizens to insure smooth, safe, and uncongested movement throughout the Town not only for ourselves and our events, but also for our fellow countrymen as they come into the New England area and pass through Wayland in search of history. We have been tourists ourselves and remember warmly those areas where good roads, clear sign markers of State and Federal highways, and courteous public officials and citizens aided our journeys. Now it is our turn to reciprocate.

Education: Liaison with schools, churches, civic and youth groups for maximum cultural benefit to the Town.

Activities: Plan, coordinate, and execute the parades, costume period balls, dances, plays, and other public observances during the year.

The above nucleus represents a point of departure with suggestions and volunteer assistance from the Townspeople most welcome as we move forward to the Bicentennial.

Memorial Day observance on Monday, May 29th, again had music furnished by the Wayland High School Band, Miss Robin Shaw, Bandmaster. Clergy assisting were Reverends Richard A. Germaine, Dr. B.Frank Kaiser, Edward G. Carroll, and Gerald J. Osterman. Stanley L. Johnson served as American Legion Chaplain. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Firing Squad provided the salute to the dead.

Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg Address was recited by Junior High School students Beth Ashack, Madeline Falvey, Kathleen O'Connor, and Nathaniel Reade.

Bills totaling $880.10 were incurred for Memorial Day. Total carryover of the Committee to 1973 is $1,121.45 as we continue building a backlog for the Bicentennial.

Our thanks to all the officials and citizens who have assisted us this year.

REGIONAL REFUSE DISPOSAL PLANNING COMMITTEE

The Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee worked on three topics during the past year:

I. Landfill for Solid-Waste Disposal

Our given purpose has been to develop some form of joint landfill operation with the Town of Sudbury, whose landfill is immediately adjacent to ours. If ever there was a model opportunity for two communities to cooperate in such a project, this seems to be it.

Sudbury's potential for population growth is greater than Wayland's, but this can be adjusted for in an agreement. We have sought to negotiate such an agreement on a trial or short-term basis, but Sudbury has not been willing.

1973 may well be the make-or-break year on this point, as Wayland must develop final plans for its new landfill during that period. The Highway Department currently estimates that we will have exhausted our present site by mid-1974.

Regulations of the State Department of Public Health require certain facilities - such as water, toilets, and telephone - at all landfills. How absurd for Wayland and Sudbury to duplicate such facilities right next door to each other!

Furthermore, if we could hire just one landfill operator for both of us and purchase just one bulldozer-compactor, instead of each Town's having its own personnel and equipment, costs should be sufficiently reduced to allow us to keep the landfill open more than either can presently afford. Finally, there will be a savings on the gravel cover which must be applied before closing each day, since it will theoretically top off twice the depth of trash in half as large an area in a combined landfill.

These arguments have not yet persuaded Sudbury, but officials of that Town did agree in principle to setting up a joint recycling station with Wayland and to permit Wayland to cross Sudbury land for access to the new Wayland landfill site from Route 20. The latter will save Wayland from having to pave River Road and from a whole new pattern of dump traffic along Old Sudbury Road, Bow Road, Moore Road, Training Field Road, and the western section of Glezen Lane.

The committees of the two Towns are still far apart on the details regarding recycling and access, but Wayland is hardly in a position to complain. Rather we are grateful for the consideration which Sudbury is giving us.

In the meantime, we must proceed to qualify our landfill site, to our own satisfaction and that of the Commonwealth. This work is moving along with the help of Camp, Dresser & McKee, Inc., consulting engineers.

Under that firm's guidance we have measured the quantities and characteristics of the refuse brought to our existing landfill and conducted a soils investigation of the proposed new site. By doing the subcontracting ourselves with Haley & Aldrich, Inc., soils engineers, and Guild Drilling & Boring Co. for the soils investigation, we were able to achieve some savings for the Town.

Camp, Dresser & McKee is now compiling and analyzing all our topographic, geological, and water pollution data. We expect to present a full report to the Town at a public hearing in the Spring and, if satisfied, request the Wayland Board of Health to dedicate the area as a landfill site for the disposal of solid waste.

Once the site is qualified, we shall have to prepare plans showing the sequence of operations at the landfill and a manual of standard operating procedures; then everything must be compiled and presented to the various State regulatory agencies and their approval obtained. We anticipate the need for further professional assistance in this work and are accordingly requesting the necessary funds in our '73 budget.

We hasten to add, however, that we are not pre-judging the outcome of the current phase of the engineering survey. Though indications to date are favorable, all the information gathered must be scrutinized carefully and the most cautious, conservative conclusions drawn.

As 1972 ended, the Sub-Region Inter-Town Liaison Committee began an effort to form a regional solid-waste disposal district of Acton, Bedford, Boxborough, Burlington, Carlisle, Concord, Lexington, Lincoln, Littleton, Maynard, Stow, Sudbury, Wayland, Weston, and Wilmington. It is suggested that these 15 towns, as homogeneous as any such group could be, should plan and construct a modern incinerator for their joint use on land near the reformatory in Concord.

Wayland (and Sudbury) residents might still have to bring their trash to a local collection point, where some would be recycled and the rest compacted for trucking to the incinerator. Or our trash could be picked up with our garbage and taken directly to the incinerator, if that were less costly.

It is too early for us to formulate a recommendation regarding the SILC proposal or, for that matter, Framingham's open invitation to join in using the incinerator it is building. One question is whether the technology of incineration has progressed to the point where its output of gases and solids are sufficiently clean; we also need to know whether incineration is still 3-7 times as expensive as operating a landfill and weigh the relative dangers of pollution against the economic costs.

II. Sewage Needs

During the Spring of '72 we conducted a postcard survey of the Town to determine how residents were getting along with their septic systems. Some tabulated results of the survey, as compiled by a helpful band of citizens, are appended to this report.

There are just over 3,700 water services in Wayland, and these have been divided fairly equally into four districts by the Water Department for billing purposes. In order to try to determine whether different areas of the Town had more serious problems than others, we sent out different colored survey cards in each water service district (see map).

On the theory that water in produces water out, we are confident that using the Water Department's addressograph plates made our survey thorough as well as economical. Thanks to the cooperation of many, many people in Town, we received a 46% return.

We were surprised at how few residents were dissatisfied with their septic systems, only 1/7th, though the proportion is higher in Cochituate. It appears, however, that only a quarter of the unhappy people have tried rebuilding their systems.

Some, to be sure, may not be able to do so with much chance of success, but if half could, our tentative conclusion is that the Town ought not to be considering the installation of great pipelines, pumping stations, and a sewage treatment plant. Local facilities, almost on a neighborhood level, should be planned where needed.

In order to gather more data, especially where it is easily available, we are preparing to test some of our brooks and streams for evidence of leakage from septic systems. The Lake Cochituate Watershed Association is interested in participating in this program, and we are planning a joint effort in the Spring to see what can be learned by monitoring one water course as a start.

III. Septage Disposal

Because such a large proportion of the Town is adequately served by private septic systems, based on our survey, and because these are far cheaper than house sewers, we must provide a facility for the disposal of septic-tank pumpings. Further, if the availability of such a facility will prompt property owners to pump out their septic systems regularly--every 2-to-3 years is recommended by the Board of Health, every year if a garbage disposer empties into it--Wayland should be able to avoid Town house sewers in most areas forever.

Sudbury is every bit as anxious as we are to provide a septage disposal facility for its residents. Not only is it expensive for local "honey wagons" to transport their loads elsewhere to be dumped, but we recognize our responsibility to take care of our own needs ourselves.

In addition, septage must be chemically treated when it is disposed of; airing, drying, and liming it will not suffice. The expense of such a treatment facility mandates that the two Towns consolidate their efforts.

We are therefore well embarked on a joint planning venture. We have formulated a request for proposals from engineers, and we hope to select one who will prepare plans for a facility to serve both Towns, if that proves feasible.

We expect that an appropriate place for the facility can be found at Sand Hill, on land belonging to either Town. In the meantime we are starting to work out details of an agreement that will enable us to combine on a fair and equitable basis and sever as simply and easily as possible if things don't go well.

This joint venture is moving ahead smoothly so far and hopefully presages similar cooperation in landfill efforts. Combining in any way with another town requires great care, lest either side feel it holds the short end of the stick, but responsible government must make a responsible attempt.

The Committee thanks Lewis L. Bowker, Jr., Town Surveyor, and new Highway Superintendent Harry E. Williams, Jr., for their steady and thoughtful assistance on all fronts. Their doing of our labors and participation at our meetings may go unobserved by others but are recognized by us as invaluable contributions.

THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE 1972

The report of the RTNC for 1971 closed with the statement that because of the great amount of effort required to find solutions to the regional transportation problems that the committee should acquire "members who are not employed full time in other capacities."

Accordingly Chairman Klumpp arranged for the reorganization of the committee immediately after the New Year. He appointed four new members-at-large, Mesdames Russell, Pultz, Leith and Storkerson. (All of these had served on the League of Women Voters Transportation Study Committee.) These members were to have co-terminous terms with the chairman, and were to have the rights and responsibilities of the town appointed members. Subsequently, Polly Russell was elected chairman. Monthly meetings were scheduled (except during a summer recess), and the committee sees itself both as "advisory" and as "action oriented" in dealing with regional transportation problems.

In the past year RTNC has concerned itself with transportation questions as Wayland relates to the region and transportation questions as related to in-town internal problems.

In the first category, RTNC has participated in the regional effort to move state policy towards more public transportation and away from a reliance on highways for all our transportation needs. To this end, it has acted in the following ways:

1. Planned to participate in the SILC Task Force Transportation Study. This study was initiated by the State Department of Transportation and was to be a local, detailed transportation review by the citizens, with technical help and funding from the state. RTNC proposed to move early to help focus the study on public transportation needs in the area. However, a year has passed and little more has been heard of the study.

2. Asked Jack Wofford, Director of the Boston Transportation Planning Review, and Tunney Lee, of the Department of City Planning at M.I.T. to come and give us an analysis of the plans, problems and policies of the BTPR. On the basis of the meeting RTNC proposed a statement to the Selectmen that the Town of Wayland support the BTPR, but urge methods and funding for the development and planning of public transportation.

3. Also prepared a statement that theTown of Wayland support the local groups that were opposing the new, expanded Route 2 in the Lincoln, Concord corridor.

4. Both these statements were incorporated into a larger statement of policy, which also included a statement of support for the Governor's Commuter Rail Improvement Program, and was sent to the Governor, with copies to state and local officials, the Congressional delegation and the press.

5. Sent telegrams, through our Selectmen, to our U. S. Senators questionning the appointment of Mr. Brinegar as Secretary of Transportation, as well as letters to Representative Drinan and Mr. Brinegar, indicating our hope that they would support former Secretary Volpe's emphasis on public transportation.

In the second category, of in-town, internal transportation problems, the Committee is involved in the following areas.

1. Has suggested to the MBTA, through the Selectmen, that the M & B buses, which took 6 trips daily from the Wayland R. R. Station to Newtonville and seemed to have little or no ridership be taken off, in hopes of lowering Wayland's MBTA assessment.

2. Is studying the proposed Five Paths reconstruction, with a view to determining the all over effect on traffic patterns in and through Wayland, with a view to making a recommendation at Town Meeting.

3. Is looking for new approaches to local and express bussing.

4. Is developing recommendations for new traffic patterns and traffic flow through the center of town.

5. Is about to study the problems likely to be encountered by the Bicentennial celebrations and the increased traffic flow they will cause. These problems will be approached in conjunction with SILC, as well as independently.

The suggested work load for the coming year is such that it has been recommended that the Committee meet bi-weekly.

THE ROAD COMMISSIONERS

The past year for the Highway Department has been very productive. We have gone through major personnel changes and emerged as a stronger Department because of them. Three changes of importance in the administration of the Department occurred in 1972. First, the Department was fortunate early in the year in securing the services of Francis J. Pellegrini as Assistant Superintendent. Second was the resignation of the Highway Superintendent in July. Mr. Pellegrini ran the Department until August. Third, the Department was able to secure the services of Harry E. Williams, Jr. as Highway Superintendent. Mr. Williams brings a high degree of professionalism to the Department.

Roadside cleanup, so important to the good image of the town, was performed to the limit. The cooperation of all citizens in not littering the public ways, and keeping their property frontage clean, is urgently requested by the Road Commissioners.

Bids were obtained by the Board for one Heavy Duty Dump Truck, one 1-ton Dump Truck, Two Sanders, one Street Sweeper, Pipe, Tires, Bituminous Concrete, Salt and other miscellaneous items which were purchased from their respective appropriations.

During the year the following pieces of equipment were disposed of in accordance with Town regulations: one 1-ton Dump Truck, one Heavy Duty Dump Truck and one Street Sweeper.

DUMP: In 1966 the Town was prohibited by the State from further burning at the dump on Route 20. The operation was then converted to a sanitary land-fill system, which increased our operating costs. The future of rubbish disposal in Wayland continues to be an intriguing problem. The following steps were taken: 1. Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee has employed the Boston firm of Camp, Dresser & McKee, Inc., engineering consultants, to prepare operating procedures and plans, and to secure approval by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and Natural Resources for the use of the new dump site on land north of the old site; 2. Solid Waste Recycling. We are now recycling the following: Glass--white, green and brown, paper, metal, tires, plastics.

The following projects were undertaken in 1972:

1. Betterments: Algonquin Path and Park Lane were started with storm drainage, and binder "hot-top" was installed. Top course of "hot-top" and landscaping will be completed early in the 1973 construction season.

2. Chapter 90 Work: A continuation of the Chapter 90 maintenance program resulted in a repaving of Old Connecticut Path from south of the High School to the Framingham line and on some parts of Commonwealth Road. Old Sudbury Road was sealed in some parts from the town line of Sudbury to Wayland center.

3. Sidewalks: Sidewalk construction was given emphasis in 1972 and will continue on a larger scope in 1973. Sidewalks were constructed on Main Street, Pequot Road, School Street and Loker Street during the year adding to the safety of school children.

4. Drainage: Major repairs were made on Route 30 at the Snake Brook culvert and at the bridge over the turnpike on Route 30. Repairs were made on Concord Road at Sherman Bridge Road. Washouts occurred on many roads where the shoulder of the road had to be replaced. Drainage and catch basins were installed on Dunster Avenue.

5. Oiling of Roads:

Old Connecticut Path	Stonebridge Road
Sherman Bridge Road	Dean Road
Old Tavern Road	Pemberton Road
Bald Rock Road	Rice Road
Plain Road	Snake Brook Road

Our policy remains to keep the Highway Department essentially as a maintenance operation with snow removal being the determining factor for the number of men on the department.

The Board of Road Commissioners wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the Highway Superintendent, to all members of the Department, to all other Departments and Boards and to all citizens who in any way have cooperated on matters of mutual interest to the town.

Respectfully submitted,

THE ROAD PLANNING COMMITTEE

The function of the Road Planning Committee is to make or suggest priorities for road construction projects that have been suggested by Town boards, employees, officials and the general public. The extremely tight budgets of the past few years have slowed to some degree the amount of road construction that has taken place, so that the priority lists which are prepared by this Committee annually for submission to the Road Commissioners have remained fairly constant for the past two or three years.

The following priorities have either been adopted at our 1972 meeting or have been carried over from 1971:

A. Accepted Town Ways:

1. Draper Road, from Decatur Lane to Old Weston Road.
2. Sherman's Bridge Road, from Alpine Road to the bridge.

B. Betterments:

1. Castle Road (Since betterments must be initiated by petition of abutters, the Road Planning Committee does not suggest priorities for betterments unless there is a conflict. In recent years, the number of requests for betterments has declined as the Town slowly gets caught up with improving older roads.)

C. Special Hazardous Spots:

1. Sherman's Bridge Road, at the crest east of Oxbow and Alpine Roads.
2. Plain Road, northwest of Bigelow Road, to the railroad tracks.
3. Rice Road, at the curve by the Church of the Holy Spirit.

This is the same list of priorities established in 1971. Lack of funding for any of these projects for a variety of reasons results in the same list being submitted in 1972.

D. Small Improvement Projects:

1. Old Connecticut Path East, at the entrance to the High School.

Again, this is the same recommendation contained in our 1971 report. In view of the concern over traffic conditions on Route 126 in the vicinity of the High School, the Road Planning Committee recommends that this project be a number one priority for the Highway Department in the coming fiscal year.

With increased legal and administrative responsibilities for the provision of public ways and highways, the Road Commissioners have found it particularly useful to have a broad-based planning committee to provide assistance in choosing construction projects to be included in the Highway budget. The problems which will be encountered in formulating an 18-month budget for 1973-4 have made the inputs of the various other Town committees concerned with roads and sidewalks more significant.

However, in view of the slow-down in highway construction in Town and the substantial list of projects which the Road Planning Committee has designated, and furthermore, since so many of the priorities have been carried over from 1971 to 1972, the Committee recommends that it be dissolved until such time as the Road Commissioners request its reinstatement. The selection of "crisis" projects by the Road Commissioners without the need to consult the Road Planning Committee has further reduced the need for the Committee in the immediate future.

SCHOOL BUILDING PLANNING COMMITTEE

Two school building construction projects were completed during 1972 and a third is nearing completion at the year's end.

Addition to the Claypit Hill School. The addition to Claypit Hill Elementary School is completed. New classroom areas surround an expanded library or "media center," a gymnasium has been added, and special purpose rooms have been created. Reports from faculty and administration indicate that the added areas are functioning well educationally and provide a pleasant learning environment.

New Junior High School. This new school was operational with the opening of school this fall and the normal "debugging" process is well along. For example, adjustments to the heating and air conditioning system will continue throughout the school year as various seasonal conditions are encountered. Leaks around windows and flashings are being hunted down and corrected. Outside, some landscaping will not be done until next spring, and we are waiting to observe the use of pathways by children walking to the new school before making final decisions about locations and paving for walks into the school site from Joyce Road and from School Street. Although a number of such finishing touches need to be applied, we are pleased to report that the new school has already met with wide acceptance by students, faculty and visitors.

High School Addition and Remodeling. A new media center building is under construction at the High School, and certain areas in the Arts and the Commons buildings are being remodeled to gain more useful space. Regrettably, there have been serious delays in this project which was expected to be ready for use this fall. While we are anxious to have the addition ready as soon as possible, we have no wish to compromise construction quality and are determined to see that all phases of the work are done properly.

High School Sanitary System. Repairs to the High School's septic system appear to have improved its operation. At the same time, we have proceeded with engineering studies and designs for a new sanitary system. If the Department of Public Health finds the existing system still to be deficient despite the repairs, we will be prepared with plans for a new treatment plant.

Remodeling the Old Junior High School Building. In 1969, when the present School Building Planning Committee was created, we made a detailed study of pupil capacity in the school system, in relation to expected enrollments. In the three years since that study, several trends have resulted in reduced enrollment projections. Housing starts in Wayland have slowed and remained at a low level, and the birth rate has declined. Thus, even with the addition of new kindergarten programs and other improvements in the educational offerings in our schools, the need for additional space has been reduced in comparison with the outlook in 1969.

Our 1969 recommendations included plans for remodeling the old Junior High School building into an elementary school for grades K through 6.

Funds for this purpose were appropriated at a Special Town Meeting in November, 1969. However, remodeling of the old building could not begin until the new Junior High was completed. Now, in light of the reduced need for elementary space, we have decided to restudy the question of how best to meet projected space requirements and for this reason have postponed remodeling the old Junior High building. We hope to be able to report our conclusions and recommendations to the Annual Town Meeting next spring.

Committee Changes. The Committee accepted with deep regret the resignation of Robert A. Sanderson. Bob had served as the Selectmen's appointee to our Committee since its creation in 1969 and performed with dedication and great concern for the Town's interests. We were glad that his considerable talents were recognized by a new employer, but regret that Bob's new job will be in Chicago. We will miss him.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE
1972

During the past year the School Committee has attempted to respond to two major concerns expressed by the Town; the need to practice every fiscal restraint and to communicate to the Town and be responsive to its wishes.

In order to realize economies while continuing to offer a strong educational program, the Committee directed the administration to:

1. Implement a Programmed Budget System.
2. Computerize the budgetary process.
3. Analyze staffing patterns and, where possible, make appropriate personnel reductions.
4. Re-organize and streamline the administrative structure of the school system and make every possible reduction in that area.
5. Develop and implement the most cost effective and efficient busing program.

These and other steps were taken to hold costs in check; they appear to have been effective.

In an effort to establish greater communication, we have taken the following steps:

1. Re-organized our regular meeting to allow periods of time for observer comments.
2. Established a phone information system to share general information. (358-7216)
3. Held 39 open meetings.
4. Re-organized the budget-making process to allow increased participation.

It is with much satisfaction that we have seen the building programs moved forward. It is exciting to see the new Junior High School in operation and we look forward to the opening of the High School Media Center this Spring.

We would like to thank the many citizens who have given so freely of their time in support of our schools, in particular, the members of the School Building Planning Committee, the Transportation Study Committee, the Alternative Education Steering Committee, and the Goals Committee.

It is with much satisfaction that we have observed the efforts of our new Superintendent of Schools. We feel that he has done an excellent job in re-organizing and revitalizing our school system. We will continue to evaluate his efforts carefully and look forward to our continued association with him.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

This is the seventy-sixth Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Wayland Public Schools and my second such report to the town.

I. Present Directions

1. Good progress was made on the implementation of the first stage of a Planning, Programming, Budgeting System (PPBS). The first step involved the development of the budget and accounting systems by program, rather than by the traditional "line item" accounts. This will be most helpful to the staff in its analysis of the costs of operating specific programs and determining whether there are higher priorities or more economical ways to operate the programs. It should also provide a school budget which is more understandable by the public.

2. The second stage in this process is the development of specific program objectives for each academic and support program and a method of assessment or evaluation to determine the extent to which the objectives have or have not been met. It is hoped that this stage of development of the PPBS system will be completed by the close of the 1973/1974 academic year.

3. Concomitantly, there are other significant steps which we are taking to implement the PPBS system. The Citizens Committee on Goals for the Wayland Public Schools has completed a series of public hearings throughout the community and has distributed a questionnaire widely throughout the community. The returns of the questionnaire survey are presently being readied for computer analysis. Eventually, the Goals Committee plans to submit its report to the School Committee. It is hoped that sometime during the 1973/1974 academic year the School Committee will establish a set of goals for the Wayland Schools. The goals, would set the general directions for the school system and under the umbrella of goals would fall the several programs, each with a specific set of objectives.

4. The overcrowding in the elementary schools has been relieved somewhat with the completion of the building additions and general decline in pupil enrollments. Further steps in this direction are in the planning stages and include such things as central supply and distribution of materials and supplies, remodeling and renovating of Happy Hollow, Loker, and Cochituate schools.

5. A major study is under way to change the emphasis and hopefully improve the effectiveness of the guidance and pupil personnel services programs.

6. Additional staff and facilities are being added this year and further expansion will probably be necessary in the next few years in the special education programs in order to comply with new state legislation. We are particularly concerned with increasing the effectiveness of our screening, early identification, and corrective programs for pupils with learning disabilities.

7. Curriculum articulation, analysis, and long-range planning have been started and will receive increased emphasis during the next few years.

8. Continued emphasis on upgrading of the building maintenance program will be given as well as every other effort to manage the fiscal affairs of the school system carefully and prudently.

III. Curriculum AND Instruction

Kindergarten--The program is now fully housed in public school facilities and under the direct supervision of the principal of the elementary schools. The Happy Hollow and Cochituate kindergartens will continue to be housed in the old junior high school but we plan to bring them into those two elementary schools for the following year, 1974/75, provided the current down trend in enrollments holds.

Elementary--We have learned a great deal from our experiences with the "Open Classrooms" at Loker. Those programs have been modified significantly during the past three years and the more successful components are being used in a number of elementary classrooms throughout the system. Significant forward movement has been made in implementing a new, more sophisticated social studies program and we have budgeted monies to purchase more science materials and supplies to accelerate the implementation of general upgrading of the science program. The health program continues to be a very sound and productive addition to our curricular offerings. Results of our academic testing program (standardized testing) show our pupils well above national norms in both ability and achievement in nearly all subject areas. There are a few problem areas, especially in mechanics of expression (punctuation, spelling, and the like), to which we will begin to give greater focus and emphasis.

Junior High School--The new junior high school in the Cochituate area was occupied by staff and students in September of 1972. During the formal dedication ceremonies, the School Committee dedicated the building "to the youth of the Town in continuing memorium to all the citizens of Wayland, past - present and future through whose sacrifice this school has been provided". The new school is an open, flexible school which should accommodate the inevitable changes in program for amny years to come. It has proved to be a very functional building, relieved the impossible overcrowding experience in the old building, and enabled the school to implement several new programs which have been well received by pupils and parents. The library-media center area, serving as the central core of the new school, has proved to be an invaluable and exciting resource for supporting the academic offerings. The curricular offerings in art, music, home economics, physical education, and industrial arts have been doubled and a new program in personal typing has been added. These are extremely important areas in the junior high school program. For many youngsters, they open up alternatives not previously known to them. For many other youngsters, experiences in the Fine and Applied Arts will begin and end during their junior high school years. A most important breakthrough in scheduling has been made possible in the new building. We no longer have to "track" pupils; we are now able to assign pupils to specific courses on the basis of their achievement and readiness levels. For example, a pupil may be in a relatively fast-moving class in English but a slower-moving one in mathematics. In summary, the Town has gained a very significant asset in its new junior high school, one which already has resulted in tremendous improvement in the program with the full potential for program development not yet tapped.

High School--Because of unanticipated delays in the construction program, the high school has had to operate under very strained conditions and with substantial disruption during two full academic years. Despite these conditions, the administration, staff, and pupils have been able to keep the programs going and even make some advances and improvements in them. The independent study, work study, industrial arts, and business education programs were expanded slightly this past year, and the home economics, physical education, and athletic programs will undergo slight expansion this coming year. We plan to discontinue the "math tutorial" program inasmuch as it did not appear to be as effective as originally hoped for. We also plan to continue close surveillance of staff assignments, class sizes, and the like to assure greatest efficiency in the management of our resources. While continuing to perform well academically, our students, again, have excelled in athletics, drama, art, and have improved in music. The value to a town and its young people of these co-curricular programs should not be underestimated. The entire high school community is anxiously awaiting the day when the new facilities will open, all renovation work will be completed, and construction crews and equipment will leave the school campus.

IV. School Governance

These past few years could be characterized as a period of stock-taking and consolidation. The school system has undergone an extensive staff reorganization. A number of positions have been discontinued; those that have been continued now have clear job descriptions. A number of staff positions have been discontinued because of enrollment declines or the dropping of programs which the administration and School Committee did not perceive as being sufficiently effective. The extent of this reorganization and staff reductions has neither been understood nor appreciated. During the past two years, we have discontinued eleven (11) supervisory positions and added two (2); we have discontinued twenty-two (22) teaching positions and added fifteen (15). This is a significant advance in school governance in that it reverses the trend of simply adding staff to implement new programs or expand existing ones. Moreover, it refutes the "Murphy-Law" principle that a staff position, once established, remains in existence indefinitely. We have been able to add programs, expand others, improve still others with a net reduction in staff. A complete set of School Committee Policies have been encoded, compiled in manual form, placed with each administrator, and filed for public reference in the School Administration Building, Town Hall, and Public Library.

Significant steps have been taken to place the school system on a PPBS (Planning, Programming, Budgeting System) operations system. The budget has been cast in programmed budget format and the accounting system is being converted for computer utilization.

We have embarked on a modest program of cooperative purchasing with eight other towns and this has already resulted in some savings.

There has been nearly a 100% increase in the fiscal allocation for maintenance of our school buildings and the results of this should begin to be seen and felt during the next few years.

Communications (always a knotty problem) have been improved. Over 300 citizens attended School Committee meetings last year. The Committee now allows for two fifteen-minute periods on its agenda to receive citizen comments. An information telephone has been installed in the School Administration Building. Principals and school staffs have re-doubled efforts to get information out to parents. The High School Principal has initiated a Parent-Advisory Council and the staff has embarked on a number of "living-room" meetings with parents throughout the community.

Performance of the staff is now much more closely evaluated. The School Committee and administrators are committed to the principle of doing everything possible to reward high performance and improve the performance of these below standards expected in this system. Repeated non-performance has resulted in adverse recommendations relative to continued employment. This is an area which will need continued close surveillance.

V. Conclusion

No institution can function effectively unless it is organized on a rational basis. The organizational structure must be sound. Personnel need to know what is expected of them and what it is they are supposed to do. Moreover, it is imperative that personnel who know how to do what is expected of them must be hired, encouraged, and supported. Wayland's school system needed a thorough re-organization and conversion to a more rational, business-like operation. We have taken a number of steps to move in this direction; it will take another year or so to complete. Essentially, we have tried to "put the house in order" before taking on much by way of new directions. This, we felt, was sounder than going off in all directions at once.

I wish to express my appreciation for the fine work of the staff of the schools, assistance from other town agencies, the many individuals and volunteer groups who have assisted the schools, and the untiring efforts of the School Committee to preserve and improve the public schools of the Town of Wayland.

THE OLD STONE BRIDGE

THE SIDEWALK COMMITTEE REPORT FOR 1972

As voted by Annual Town Meeting, March 13, 1972, the Sidewalk Committee is composed of representatives of the following: Conservation Commission, Park and Recreation Commission, Planning Board, Road Commission, School Committee, Selectmen, the Police Chief, and as consultant, the Town Surveyor.

The Committee generally meets the first Tuesday of the month to discuss and plan future walkways for the town, and concerns itself with the safety and construction of these walkways in conjunction with the Board of Road Commissioners and the Highway Superintendent.

During the year an attempt was made, without success, to convince the State Department of Public Works to reconstruct the walkway along Route 20 in the area east of Wayland Center to the Weston line, where traces of preexisting sidewalk are visible.

Due to the hard work of the Highway Department and the cooperation of abutters, the 2 miles of walkways voted in March relating to the new Junior High School were completed and children were walking when school opened in September.

Hearings relative to the construction of a walkway along a portion of the north side of Stonebridge Road culminated in an article for this year's Annual Town Meeting. If voted, the Highway Department will be able to begin work on a project under consideration for 11 years.

Another area of concern, and subject to Town Meeting approval, is construction of a walkway along West Plain Street to Old Connecticut Path, and north on Old Connecticut Path to connect with the existing walkway. This is another project long desired by many residents, and in the opinion of the committee would increase pedestrian and bicycle safety to a large extent.

As its first year closes, the Sidewalk Committee looks ahead to continued progress on a plan for walkways in Wayland in areas of need, and is investigating the possibility of a future proposal for walkways connecting the Claypit School to Wayland Center; one which would connect the center to the new Junior High School, and to the High School, and completion eventually of the Stonebridge walkway from Old Connecticut Path to Riverview Road.

It is the desire of the committee that abutters of proposed walkways be fully informed. To this end there will continue to be preliminary hearings at which the committee will seek the cooperation and approval of citizens in particular areas.

THE SOUTH MIDDLESEX OPPORTUNITY COUNCIL, INC.

This is the third year I have made a report to the town on the activities of the South Middlesex Opportunity Council and I am happy and relieved to state that SMOC is lively and very well established as an important and viable agency for social good in our neighborhood. At this writing, because of the reassigning of federal monies and the re-assessment of aid programs, the future of the anti-poverty agencies as they are now constituted is perilous. It is our very real hope that Washington will continue to fund these particular useful, economical programs as they have been carefully planned and tailored to suit the needs of our area. The work of our agency brings information, incentive and help to a few (in comparison to large urban areas) low-income people who are being made aware of the possibilities for improving their situations or are being helped in some way to overcome the conditions of their poverty.

Below is the official report from the Executive Director of SMOC, Mr. Paul Houlihan:

The South Middlesex Opportunity Council is a Community Action Agency funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity to service low-income families and individuals in Framingham, Ashland, Bellingham, Holliston, Hopkinton, Marlboro, Natick, Southboro and Wayland.

The responsibility of the Agency is to:

1. Meaningfully involve low-income people in developing and carrying out anti-poverty programs.

2. Mobilize public and private resources in support of anti-poverty programs.

3. Coordinate efforts with other Agencies so as to avoid duplication and improve delivery of services.

4. Serve as an advocate for the poor on matters of public policy and programs which affect their status, promoting institutional improvements.

5. Support neighborhood level and community based organizations.

During the past year SMOC has continued to expand its programs to more effectively serve low income residents in the nine community areas. Outlined below are the programs that SMOC has developed and presently operates:

A. A Head Start Program which provides 126 pre-school age children and their families with an educational experience, medical assistance, and supportive social services.

B. A Day Care Program for forty-five low income children operating five days per week fifty-two weeks per year. This program is available to Wayland residents.

C. An Alcoholism Rehabilitation Program providing counseling, access to detoxification, and follow-up to individuals and their families. This program is available to residents of Wayland.

D. A Prisoner Resocialization Program providing job training, accredited education through Framingham State College, and re-socialization opportunities for fifteen inmates of Massachusetts Correctional Institute Norfolk. The program operates five days per week at Medfield State Hospital.

E. A Neighborhood Youth Corps Program providing employment and supportive services to low income teenagers. This past Summer thirteen Wayland youth were employed through this program and a total of 750 were employed throughout the area. Presently thirty out-of-school teenagers are employed through this program.

F. A Consumer Protection Program, operated in conjunction with the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, providing counseling, investigation, education, and, if necessary, court action to ensure the rights of consumers in the South Middlesex area. Since the program's initiation in August 1972 over 300 area residents have been assisted. This program is available to Wayland residents.

G. A Manpower Program which provides job counseling, job development and supportive services in unemployed and under-employed residents of the area. In the past year SMOC has assisted 800 area residents in finding employment. This Program also coordinates the activities of the West Suburban Manpower Planning Board, which is the State designated manpower planning body for this area. The services of the Manpower Program are available to Wayland residents.

H. A Housing Program which has two thrusts:
   a) SMOC is recipient of a Grant through Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to provide information, advice, and technical assistance to area groups and non profit housing sponsors concerning the construction, rehabilitation, and operation of low and moderate income housing. Legal, architectural, and land development assistance is presently available through SMOC.
   b) SMOC is currently engaged in a two year planning activity determining the feasibility of developing low and moderate income housing and economic development Program in the South Middlesex area.

During the next year SMOC will continue to operate the above programs while concentrating its efforts in the areas of housing, health, manpower, and the support of local low income groups.

The Board of Directors of SMOC, which sets policy for the agency, is composed of twenty-seven local residents. The Selectmen of the Town of Wayland presently have Mrs. Joyce Bertelsen serving as their representative on the Board. Reverend Bruce Jones serves as the low-income representative from Wayland. If anyone desires further information on SMOC, either of these Board members can be contacted, or you may call the Central Office located at 36 Concord Street, Framingham, 872-4853.

A VALUED LEGACY

SUBREGION INTERTOWN LIAISON COMMITTEE

In 1972 SILC continued to move towards concrete realization of a working region. Lexington joined us to make us ten towns strong. The Dept. of Natural Resources and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation found SILC an ideal organization on which to try out their thoughts for a "cultural district". The result, so far, is an excellent inventory of our cultural, conservation and historic resources.

SILC's Proposal #2 for Transportation during and after the Bicentennial is receiving ever growing support. Whether this support translates into dollars and action in the near future remains to be seen.

SILC is most fortunate that Mrs. Richard Thornton of Concord agreed to head our Solid Waste subcommittee. Thanks to her we have a Sloane School graduate student designing a regional refuse system for us. So far eleven cities and towns have expressed great interest in forming a region.

For the first time SILC is advocating two warrant articles for Town meetings: one providing for matching funds for transportation planning, and one allowing the formation of or the rejoining into a Solid Waste Planning Board. Both are important to us all.

Secretary Altshuler promised state aid for transportation planning, but so far has not been able to provide it. SILC chose to comment on the Route 2 Environmental Impact Statement as well as on the Third Harbor Crossing. At Wayland's request we also monitored the Corps of Engineers planned reconstruction of the Sudbury River in Saxonville. We have represented the Towns unofficially to BTPR and the most recently organized northwest corridor coalition of 14 cities and towns. Similarly, we are monitoring carefully the operations of the new Joint Regional Transportation Committee of the MAPC and Secretary Altshuler.

SILC is indebted to two very special people. Secretary, Mrs. Peter Holland gave me exactly the help I needed and Bud Koester of Weston, SILC Vice Chairman provided the support and was my unfailing right arm. It is with deep regret that I received both their resignations. They will be sorely missed.

I look forward to a crucial 1973. The Bicentennial must come under control. Route 2 must be resolved. The Boston and Maine rights of way must be purchased. The Solid Waste Disposal system must begin to take shape and our land use plans and patterns must be refined on a regional basis. In this, our fourth year, SILC looks forward to some of the first real steps toward regionalization.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN R. CASWELL, Chairman
MATHIAS J. LEUPOLD
BRUCE M. PUTNAM

THE TOWN COUNSEL

The hurricane of legal problems referred to in our last report continued without respite in 1972, but the strongest gusts came from a different direction.

Where 1971 had been a quiet year as far as litigation was concerned (83 hours of time recorded representing about 12 % of Town Counsel's time), the past year found the Town engaged in contesting an unusual number of important matters in addition to the usual code enforcement cases and appeals to the Appellate Tax Board:

> Coleman Gorham, with the financial support of a fund administered by the National Education Association, sought tenure as a guidance counselor and damages from the Town in the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts.
> E. William Seeckts' petition for the assessment of damages allegedly sustained as a result of the widening and improvement of Oxbow Road in 1966 was tried before a jury despite an earnest effort to achieve a compromise.
> The $80,000 dispute between William S. Carroll, Inc. and the Town arising out of school bus service rendered in 1967-1968 was reached for trial in November only to be postponed at the last minute.
> Donald J. MacMillan and forty one of his neighbors sought an order from the Middlesex Superior Court enjoining the Town to commence an expert appraisal of all real estate for tax purposes.

Although the petitioners in the latter case ultimately agreed to dismissal of their Bill in Equity, more than sixty hours were spent to avoid such litigation and to assist the Assessors in their effort to begin the revaluation that they had previously proposed on a number of occasions.

Similarly, Town Counsel worked closely with the School Building Planning Committee in a persistent effort to press the contractor charged with building the new media center at the High School to complete his work without further delay.

Collective bargaining with the Town's employees commanded an increasing amount of Town Counsel's time and the demands of the School Committee and the Personnel Board for more help are being heard more frequently.

To protect the Town's interest in these matters, approximately 350 more hours of time were invested in 1972. Our good fortune may not continue without occasional reverses, but our record remains unblemished so far.

Thirteen cases pending at the end of 1971 and four cases arising in 1972 were concluded during the past year leaving an inventory of eighteen cases on December 31, 1972.

Respectfully submitted,
C. PETER R. GOSSELS

DUDLEY POND

THE TOWN SURVEYOR

During the past year the office, consisting of three men, has handled numerous surveying and engineering related jobs for departments, boards and commissions of the town. Jobs which required major efforts timewise were as follows: survey, computations, drafting of plans, and construction layout of the sidewalks on Pequot Road, Main Street, Loker Street and School Street; the layout for construction of Park Lane and Algonquin Path; the preparation of eighteen plans and the associated descriptions and transparencies for articles involving land transfers presented at Town Meetings; the compilation, checking and review of the zoning by-laws for the construction of an up-to-date zoning map; work at the proposed land fill site, including the monitoring of the water table and the development of outside engineering studies; work with the Conservation Commission in the different phases of their land acquisition program; liaison between federal, state, county and town governments; work with the Planning Board in relation to the subdivision of tracts of land which has remained very slow, with only three active areas.

The task that we again were not able to accomplish to any significant degree of success was the setting of road boundary stones. However, surveys for road centerline location, necessary for this project, were completed on Claypit Hill Road and Loker Street.

This year has been busy and mutually beneficial for the Town of Wayland and its employees. Thanks are given to all those who have helped us cope with the varied duties and responsibilities of this office.

Respectfully submitted,
LEWIS L. BOWKER, JR.

VETERANS' SERVICES

I hereby submit my report of the Department of Veterans' Benefits and Services for the year ending December 31, 1972.

Veterans Benefits. We had 95 persons aided in the year 1972. These cases were thoroughly investigated before aid could begin, and follow-up investigation must continue. Bills and budgets are submitted monthly to the Commissioner of the Department of Veterans' Services for his approval. This enables the Town of Wayland to be reimbursed 50 per cent from the State.

Each year we help veterans, widows and dependent parents fill out income questionnaire cards. These cards must be filled out correctly as an error could mean loss of pension. We also help veterans in securing employment, pensions, etc.

For complete details, list of expenditures and receipts of the Department of Veterans' Services and Benefits, I refer you to the Town Accountant.

As Veterans' Graves Officer I have seen that all markers are placed and that all graves are properly marked for Memorial Day. This year I will ask for an appropriation for more grave markers.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM P. LeBLANC
Veterans' Agent

SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

The following is the report of the Sealer of Weights and Measures for 1972. The number of gasoline pumps and scales inspected and sealed, fees collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer:

Scales 10 pounds or less.	27
Scales 10 to 100 pounds	12
Scales 5,000 to 10,000 pounds	1
Apothecary scales	4
Gasoline pumps tested and sealed. . .	72

Sealing fees collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer--$203.40

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD L. LINGLEY

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

No supply problem was encountered in 1972, thanks to the additional pumping capacity and also a very wet season. Ground water is at a level not attained for ten years or more.

About a mile of 12-inch main was laid, completing the loop over Rice Road. This greatly strengthens the system and gives us a second large main connecting the two ends of Town, something that has been recommended for over twenty years.

About 30 new services were added to the system but the years pumpage is down about 50 M.G. due to the frequent rains that made lawn watering unnecessary.

All meters on new services now have a remote reading register that can be mounted on the outside of the house so that the meter can be read without entering the house. These eliminate a lot of inconvenience for the house owner and save the meter reader's time.

Remote readers can be installed on old services at a cost of $20., which is the cost to us of the equipment. We will be glad to make the installation at this price. Call us if you desire a remote reader.

Statistics 1972

Number of services	3729
Number of new services	30
Water Pumped	550 MG Est.
Number of Hydrants	526
Miles of main	89.5
Renewals	31
Relocations	5
Leaks	8

WATER PATROL

This is a general report from the Water Patrol Officer on Dudley Pond for the 1972 season.

I placed the boat in the water May 20th, officially starting the season. Buoy markers were placed on May 21st and removed on September 30 making a total of twenty weeks. During this period I checked out 68 boat of five horsepower or over. Eight citations were written during the season, of which two were complaints and six were warnings. I assisted several people with capsized catamarans, canoes, and sail boats, as well as disabled motor boats. Next season all motor boats will have to be registered.

The pilfering and vandalizing of buoy markers goes on as usual and I would suggest that a sum of $150.00 be set aside for the 1973 season.

Several fishermen used the pond during the season, and it looks pretty good for the future. I hope that we can get the pond treated again as soon as possible.

Respectfully submitted,
BRADFORD E. BERNARD

WAYLAND HOTLINE, INC.

Cherry Sheet Explanation

The left hand section of the Cherry Sheet represents the State and County Assessments which the Town must pay, and must be used in determining the tax rate. The two largest items are the M.B.T.A. assessments and the County Tax (the Town's share of the County's expenses).

The right hand section of the Cherry Sheet represents the estimated tax distributions and various reimbursements which the Town will receive. These amounts must also be used in determining the tax rate. The two largest items are the reimbursement for construction of schools and the distribution under Chapter 70 for School Aid.

If the total of the reimbursements and distributions continue to become increasingly larger than the State and County Assessments, it would represent a favorable financial position for the Town and would help to stabilize the tax rate.

VOTES ENACTED AT THE ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

WAYLAND HIGH SCHOOL FIELD HOUSE

Town Clerk's Office
Wayland, Massachusetts

Roger P. Stokey, Moderator:--

Pursuant to the Warrant dated January 29, 1973, signed by L. Thomas Linden, John R. McEnroy, Herbert N. Odell, John B. Wilson, and Catherine W. Seiler, Selectmen, served and return of service given by Frederick Perry, Constable of the Town, the inhabitants of the Town of Wayland qualified to vote in Town Meeting met this day in the Field House of the Senior High School; and at 7:47 P.M. the Moderator called the meeting to order, declared a quorum to be present, and the meeting proceeded to transact the following business:

The Moderator requested consent of the meeting to dispense with the reading of the Articles. Duly seconded, it was:
VOTED: Unanimously.

ARTICLE 1. To hear the reports of the Town Officers, agents and committees, and act thereon.

Mr. Theodore R. Magoun moved and was duly seconded, that we receive with thanks the reports of Town Boards, Departments, and Committees as contained in the 1972 Annual Town Report, an integral part of the history of the Town.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. Theodore R. Magoun moved and was duly seconded, that all Boards, Commissions or Committees of the Town who have complied with Article 5 of the By-laws, other than those created under General Laws of the Commonwealth be continued in existence unless the vote creating the same shall have provided otherwise.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. John Dyer presented a: REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD ON THE STATUS OF THE MAINSTONE DEVELOPMENT.

Last December Devens Hamlen came to the Planning Board with some preliminary ideas for the development of Mainstone Farm along lines of an open-space multi-residence district. About the same time he submitted an article for this meeting to initiate zoning changes which would permit such a development.

The Planning Board recognized the significance of such changes and the thorough examination required to evaluate their impact. Since there was not sufficient time to carefully study the open issues as well as the potential benefits Mr. Hamlen agreed it was preferable to withdraw his article to permit sufficient time for Planning Board evaluation, and to reconsider the development and required zoning changes in the Fall Town Meeting.

This matter is currently under study for impact using a variety of resources available to the Planning Board. A draft of a zoning by-law with the desired controls is in preparation, if the Town elects to support the zoning changes. A subcommittee to coordinate the interests of several Town boards has met. Numerous citizens have expressed opinions or volunteered their services in this matter. We encourage their participation and where practical intend to draw upon them as resources. We intend to make use of consultants and have some tentative arrangements which now require formalization. A progress report to the Town will be made before the Fall Town Meeting, possibly by June.

Mrs. L. William Bertelsen:

Under ARTICLE 1, I would like to make this short report on S.M.O.C.

This report is a postscript to the one in the Town Report about the South Middlesex Opportunity Council. The Town Report is put together in the middle of December, and at that time, I wrote that anti-poverty programs as we have known them were in a perilous situation. In February, the Office of Economic Opportunity was abolished and all its funding for anti-poverty programs will cease in May. Therefore the basic source of money to run the SMOC programs will no longer be there.

Unless alternative funding can be secured, SMOC will be forced to curtail many of its programs: day care, head start, neighborhood youth corps, alcoholism rehabilitation, manpower development, etc. The Board of Directors and the staff are exploring all means available for continued funding including the use of a portion of revenue sharing monies from the nine towns served by SMOC. I have contacted the Selectmen in regard to this.

Thank you for the opportunity to bring you up-to-date on the grave situation facing the social action programs here, as well as all over the nation. As your public sector representative on the SMOC Board, I want you to know that we will be doing all possible to continue whatever we can of the anti-poverty programs currently serving your community.

Dr. Goldman presented the report of the Pesticide Study Committee, and moved that the Pesticide Study Committee be continued for one year and to report to the next Annual Town Meeting.

Upon motion duly seconded, it was:
VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. Stanley U. Robinson, III moved and was duly seconded, that the Police Department be directed to include, in the next Town Report, a statistical tabulation of its usage of the N.C.I.C. computer system, including the following information:

(1) Number of inquiries by type of inquiries and reason for inquiry, with particular attention to explaining the various reasons for inquiry;

(2) Results of inquiries, including arrests and convictions;

(3) A summary of information entered by Wayland Police; and

(4) Troubles encountered (downtime, false results, breach of security, complaints by citizens, etc.)

Motion was: Defeated.

ARTICLE 2. To choose all necessary Town officers, agents, and committees not elected by the official ballot.

Mrs. Bruce M. Jones presented the following motion duly seconded, that a committee be formed to study the feasibility of low and moderate income housing in Wayland.

This committee shall consist of seven members: two to be appointed by the Selectmen, two to be appointed by the Planning Board, one to be appointed by the Housing Authority and two to be appointed by the Moderator.

This committee shall prepare and submit a written report with recommendations for action to the Moderator prior to the next Annual Town Meeting, and shall report to the Town at that Meeting.

VOTED: In favor.

Upon a motion by Mr. Theodore R. Magoun, duly seconded, that the following persons be nominate- for the following offices:

As Trustees of the Allen Fund: John C. Bryant, Benjamin W. Johnson III, Thelma L. Moulton.

As Fence Viewers: The Selectmen.

As Field Drivers: The Constables.

As Measurers of Wood and Bark: Frank S. Tarr, John R. McEnroy, J. Clifford Walker.

As Surveyors of Lumber: John R. McEnroy, J. Clifford Walker.

And that if there are no further nominations, the Clerk be instructed to cast one ballot for the same.

Nominations were closed, and those so nominated were unanimously 'ected.

ARTICLE 3. To see if the Town will amend its By-law establishing the Wage and Salary Classification Plan originally adopted by vote under Article 3 of the 1954 Annual Town Meeting and amended from time to time thereafter and establish the effective date for any and all changes created by such amendments; or take any action relative thereto. To see whether the Town will vote to amend the Wage and Salary Classification Plan previously adopted by the Town by making the following deletions, additions, or modifications, and by establishing effective dates for such amendments:

(a) Amend ARTICLE II, SECTION 1, SCHEDULE A in the following respect:
(1) By deleting:
S-1 after Junior Clerk
S-3 after Machine-Room Clerk
S-9 after Payroll Supervisor
S-8 after Principal Clerk
S-7 after Senior Accounts Clerk
S-4 after Switchboard-Operator Receptionist
Schedules B, C, D, E, F and G
(2) By adding: Data Processing Coordinator S-17

(b) Amend ARTICLE III, SECTION 2.
Delete the first sentence and substitute:
"Employees, other than members of the Police and Fire Departments, required to work more than 8 hours in any day or 40 hours in any week, shall be compensated for such overtime with time off equal to the amount of overtime worked or at a rate based on one and one-half (1½) times their regular rate of pay"
(Change indicated by underlining)

(c) Amend ARTICLE V-A.
Add: "SECTION 4. Vacation time in excess of two (2) weeks may be taken discontinuously with a minimum of 1 day at a time"

(d) Amend ARTICLE VIII, SECTION 1.
Delete in last sentence: "All Civil Service Positions" or take any action relative thereto.

Mr. Robert Swain moved and was duly seconded, that this article be passed over.

Mr. Moderator, we are asking that the Town pass over this article because at this time only one collective bargaining contract has been signed, and that one is both tentative and conditional. The Town is currently in negotiations with four other groups; the economic sections of the pending contracts are incomplete and still in process. These negotiations have been in process since October and are not likely to be ended prior to the conclusion of this Town Meeting; particularly since, in one instance, we are presently in mediation. The bargaining has been earnest and strenuous on both sides and continues unabated. Final contracts will, in all eventualities, probably be ready within the next few months and we will then report to the Town at the next special Town Meeting, probably in early fall.

VOTED: In favor.

ARTICLE 4. To see what sums of money the Town will raise and appropriate for the operation and expense of the Town.

Mr. Robert Swain requested unanimous consent of the meeting to omit the reading of the first portion of the motion starting on page 29 starting with (All employees, etc.) and concluding with the sentence (All fees, wages or payments made to the Tree Warden, from whatever source, be turned over to the Town as Town Income) on page 30.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. Robert Swain moved and was duly seconded, that the report of the Finance Committee be accepted, that its recommendations be adopted, and that each and every item set forth in the Finance Committee's budget be voted, granted, and appropriated as a separate appropriation for the several purposes and uses set forth in said report with the following additions:

Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee $10,000.00, making a total budget of $12,936,685.00 which sum be granted, appropriated and assessed for the several purposes designated and that the same be expended only for the purposes shown under the respective boards, committees, and officers of the Town, and that:

All employees in the Town Office Building, other than elected officials and those of the Police and Fire Departments, come under the supervision of the Executive Secretary and that he be charged with the operation and maintenance of the two Town Office Buildings, the equipment and their grounds;

The operation of the dumps be under the supervision of the Road Commissioners;

The money from Dog Taxes be allocated in its entirety to the "Libraries - Appropriation Account";

The Appropriation under Fire Department for "Purchase-Major Equipment," and under Conservation Commission for "Conservation Fund" be maintained as funds against future purchases and not be expended without further direct vote of the Town;

The Town Collector continue to act as Collector for the Water Department, and that all fees and penalties from whatever source be turned over to the Town as Town Income;

The appropriation for "Hydrant Rental" of $19,500 for the Water Department granted in the Budget be transferred to "Water Available Surplus";

The sum of $113,000 from "Revenue Sharing PL-92-512" shall be transferred from that account for application against the item "Town Office-Salaries."

The sum of $20,000 shall be transferred from "Water Available Surplus" to available funds, "Excess and Deficiency."

In addition to the sum of $2,000 included in the 1973 Budget to meet the Town's share of "Chapter 90-Maintenance" and $7,500 to meet the Town's share of "Chapter 90-New Construction" the sum of $4,000 for "Chapter 90-Maintenance" and $22,500 for "Chapter 90-New Construction" be transferred from "Unappropriated Available Funds" in the Treasury to meet the County's and State's share of the cost of the work, the reimbursement from the County and State to be restored upon their receipt to "Unappropriated Available Funds in the Treasury".

The Office of the Town Clerk be continued on a salary basis and that all fees from whatever source derived be turned over to the Town as Town Income.

All fees, wages or payments made to the Tree Warden, from whatever source, be turned over to the Town as Town Income.

VOTES ENACTED AT THE ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

HELD: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1974

WAYLAND HIGH SCHOOL FIELD HOUSE

Town Clerk's Office

Roger P. Stokey, Moderator:--

Pursuant to the Warrant dated February 12, 1974, signed by L. Thomas Linden, John R. McEnroy, Herbert N. Odell, Catherine W. Seiler and John B. Wilson, Selectmen, served and return of service given by Frederick Perry, Constable of the Town, the inhabitants of the Town of Wayland qualified to vote in Town Meeting met this day in the Field House of the Senior High School; and at 7:50 P.M. the Moderator called the meeting to order, declared a quorum to be present, and the meeting proceeded to transact the following business:

The Moderator requested unanimous consent of the Meeting to omit the reading of the Articles.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Article 1. To hear the reports of the Town officers, agents and committees and act thereon.

Mr. Theodore Magoun moved and was duly seconded, that we receive with thanks the statutory interim 1973 Annual Town Report for the calendar year knowing that the full Annual Town Report for the eighteen month transitional period to our new fiscal year will be due in 1974 after June 30th.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. Theodore Magoun moved and was duly seconded, that all Boards, Commissions or Committees of the Town who have complied with Article 5 of the By-Laws, other than those created under General Laws of the Commonwealth be continued in existence unless the vote creating the same shall have provided otherwise.

VOTED: Unanimously.

RESOLUTION

Mr. Bruce Kingsbury moved and was duly seconded, to place before the Town Meeting a memorial resolution putting into the record our respect for Bill Bertelsen whom we lost in January.

From time to time a man steps forward who turns out to be a leader. Bill was such a man--not flamboyant, not famous for his speeches, but the proof of his leadership is all around us. Every leader makes a commitment--Bill's commitment was to preserve the character of Wayland.

He was on the Planning Board for sixteen years - longer than any other person. While he was chairman or a member of the Planning Board most of the present zoning laws were enacted -- liberal laws which at the same time, controlled land use. I know from long personal friendship with Bill, as well as being a fellow member of the Planning Board, that it was through his initiative, his intelligence, his concern for people, and his leadership, that Wayland has retained so many of its fine features -- which, after all, is one of the principal reasons most of us chose Wayland as a place to live.

Bill's commitment to the preservation of the environment was continued as a charter member of the Sudbury Valley Trustees. The Trustees were pacesetters in preserving marginal land which could be enjoyed by people for recreation.

Bill was a warm, friendly, intelligent man of good judgement who loved his Town. His memorial is all around us. Let our daily appreciation of his work be the greatest honor we can bestow.

Unanimous standing vote.

RESOLUTION

Mr. Theodore Magoun moved and was duly seconded, that We, as citizens in Town Meeting assembled, by a rising vote, make known our appreciation for those who have died in the past year and their service to the Town:

Mr. John B. Wilson presented the report of the Wayland Bicentennial Committee.

The Wayland Bicentennial Committee has been active for over a year planning for Wayland's role in the Bicentennial celebration which begins April 19, 1975, scarcely a year away, and ends July 4, 1976.

Planning for the Bicentennial is not easy as there seems to be few reliable indications as to the degree of public participation. We have no reliable estimates as to the number of additional tourists to be expected during the period. Even if we did, we have no way of estimating the degree to which the gas shortage will affect the number of tourists. Another problem has been an uneven attitude about the Bicentennial on the part of state officials and only vague indications as to the degree of commitment of state funds and manpower to the effort.

In spite of these uncertainties the Wayland Bicentennial Committee has evolved some guidelines and is planning a project designed to be of interest and educational value to Wayland residents, particularly its school children, during the Bicentennial celebration and for many years to come after it is over.

The Committee has adopted the policy of encouraging public and private agencies to develop Bicentennial programs on their own, although we are anxious to coordinate the various activities and assist where possible in such aspects of them as applying for matching funds from state and federal grants. An example of this is the Public Ceremony Committee's imminent purchase of two sets of colonial flags. These are to be flown in rotation on the flag pole in front of the Town Hall and in at least one other appropriate place in Town until the end of the Bicentennial period in 1976.

The Bicentennial's own project for which matching state funds have been applied consists of two tours of historic places in Wayland. The first is a walking tour of points of interest near Wayland center. Points of interest will include the Heard House, the Public Library, which is the oldest free library in the country, the Unitarian Church, the Meller Law Office, and the railroad station. It is contemplated that the railroad station will be refurbished and that it will serve as an information center from which a pamphlet describing Wayland's history and places of interest will be distributed. The second tour is a longer one. It encompasses the Knox Trail and marker at Five Paths, Stonebridge, Four Arch Bridge, Vokes Theater, and the recently relocated William Coal Office. The Coal Office will serve as a counterpart informational center, as it is strategically located near a point where many tourists are likely to enter the Town. Appropriate descriptive markers of each element in the two tours are to be designed and made by high school students in the industrial arts sections.

The Committee wants to express its thanks for the cooperation of many individuals and organizations that have been helpful in the effort to date. Interest in the celebration seems to be growing at a rapidly accelerating pace now. We welcome suggestions from any person, and if anyone wants to make a continuing contribution to the effort, he will be welcome as a member of the Committee.

Mrs. Harold Hoge presented the report of the Wayland Low and Moderate Income Housing Study Committee.

Background

1. Members of this Committee have reviewed many past studies and activities in the field of subsidized family housing that seemed instructive given our circumstances in Wayland. In the course of this review, some of us met with experienced developers, lenders, and public officials who have successfully undertaken to provide such housing in Massachusetts. Based on this work, and on our shared conviction about the Town's responsibility in this area, we have reached a number of conclusions.

Action Conclusions

2. As a next phase beyond the almost completed subsidized project for the elderly, a small initiative should be supported to provide some additional low and moderate income rental housing for families in Wayland.

3. Further study of the extent of need in this area is unnecessary to justify the economic viability of a program comprising 50 to 75 units. A program on this scale would be large enough to be reasonably efficient, and at the same time give the townspeople an opportunity to learn from experience on a small scale what is involved in bringing subsidized family housing into Wayland.

4. The essential and necessary ingredient for the Town to move forward in this direction will be committed leadership now from Wayland Town officials and support of townspeople.

Elements of a Program

5. The best financing approach currently available appears to be that offered through the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency. It is funded from multiple sources, and continues to have funds available. MHFA would like to support a reasonable program in Wayland. Their programs offer the greatest possible versatility and flexibility in project design, financing, and legal sponsorship to suit local conditions. While this program is considerably more complex than the program Wayland is completing for the elderly, MHFA has had considerable successful experience helping develop and finance family housing programs in towns such as ours in Massachusetts. The major demand imposed on participants in their financing programs by MHFA is that 25 percent of the housing units in each project be reserved for low income individuals and families. This generally means welfare recipients in need of some form of public housing. The remaining units in a MHFA project are distributed so that 50 percent are for moderate income families and 25 percent for middle income families. The rationale behind this approach is to develop communities that combine low, moderate, and middle income elements in the same neighborhood or project.

6. While the organizing thrust and sponsorship for such an initiative could, and we think should, come from some official and unofficial ad-hoc group in Town, the project should be planned and carried out on a for-profit basis by a professional developer familiar with the MHFA programs. In this area, experience can yield large returns in effectively dealing with the complex legal, tax, financial, and development alternatives that are available. At the same time, the local sponsors can operate and mediate between this developer and the many parties of interest locally in Wayland.

7. The people at MHFA suggest that the most successful overall legal, tax, financial, and development approach in cases similar to ours had been to form a limited dividend partnership funded with State and Federal funds and subsidy programs, all coordinated through MHFA. In such a partnership, the tax shelter deriving from depreciation charges can in effect be sold by the developer to a group of limited partners. The general partner in such an arrangement would normally be the professional developer engaged by the local sponsors to carry out the project. The disposition of the limited dividend among these parties is determined entirely by negotiation, and can be allocated by agreement either to the limited or to the general partners.

Timetable

8. This spring, Town officials should agree to encourage a subsidized family housing initiative in Wayland. A small group of local sponsors should then be appointed by the Selectmen. These sponsors can then proceed to define a project, identify possible sites, select a developer, and work out financing and subsidy arrangements with MHFA in time to come to the regular Town Meeting with a proposal in 1975. Rezoning approval would be sought from the townspeople at that time, when a concrete development proposal could be presented. If successful at this stage, detailed plans and financing arrangements would be finalized over the balance of 1975 and construction might be started in early 1976. With luck, this path might allow some families to move in, in early 1977.

Recommendation

9. This report has been reviewed with the Town officials and Boards which appointed the members of the Committee. We believe we have completed the assignment we were given. We recommend the Committee be laid down and that a sponsoring committee be appointed by the Board of Selectmen to go forward with a program along the lines outlined in this report.

Mr. Stanley U. Robinson, III moved and was duly seconded, that the Police Department be directed to include, in the next two Town Reports, a statistical tabulation of its usage of its computer terminal including the following information:

(1) Number of inquiries by type of inquiries and reason for inquiry, with particular attention to explaining the various reasons for inquiry;

(2) Results of inquiries, including arrests and convictions;

(3) A summary of information entered by Wayland Police; and

(4) Troubles encountered (downtime, false results, breach of security, complaints by citizens, etc.)

Motion: DEAFEATED.

(b) In the event that any organization established under G.L. chapter 183 A, sections 8, 19 through 12 shall at any time fail to maintain its common areas and facilities in reasonable order and condition in accordance with the development plan set forth in the special permit, as the same may have been amended or modified from time to time, the Inspector of Buildings may serve written notice upon such organization or upon the residents of the planned development setting forth the manner in which the organization has failed to maintain its said areas and facilities in reasonable condition, and said notice shall include a demand that such deficiencies of maintenance be cured within thirty days thereof, and shall state the date and place of a hearing thereon which shall be held within fourteen days of the notice. If the deficiencies set forth in the original notice shall not be cured within said thirty days or any extension thereof, the Town may maintain the same in reasonable condition at the expense of such organization and/or pursue any and all remedies that may be available to it under G.L. chapter 40, section 31, chapter 40 A, or otherwise to assure the continued maintenance of all such residential land.

THE BOARD OF ASSESSORS

The Special Town Meeting held in October, 1972, passed Article 6, which authorized "an expert appraisal of taxable property in accord with the provisions of G. L. Chapter 40, Section 4." A similar article was introduced by the Assessors in the regular Town Meeting in the spring. It was defeated during the interim period in 1972, a taxpayers' suit was initiated, and made necessary the passing of Article 6 in the Special Town Meeting.

Work was begun by United Appraisal Company in the spring of 1973. As the result of several unforeseen circumstances, the appraisal was not completed in time for use in 1974. In addition, a statutory change in the fiscal year made any accelerated effort to complete the work, needless. The appraisal should be completed during the first half of 1975.

This appraisal represents the first complete valuation of the Town by an outside firm.

THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Despite political turmoil at the Federal level of government, severe economic strains at the State level, and apparent unresolvable social problems in the cities, the New England Town Meeting form of government seems to go on largely unaffected by the unstable conditions of higher levels of our political system. Your Selectmen believe the tax dollar paid to your local government is the most efficiently managed tax dollar paid to any governmental unit, and that a much higher proportion reverts back to the benefit of the residents in the form of direct services. Your Selectmen are convinced of the loyalty, dedication, and honesty of all those who work for the Town of Wayland, whether they be volunteer, elected officials, or paid employees.

Some of the matters that we have been concerned with that cannot be classed as routine during the past year and a half are the mandated change in the fiscal year, the change to 100% assessment valuations, and the rezoning of the remaining large undeveloped tracts of land. Even though each of these is under the direct preview of other Town boards, we were vitally concerned and spent considerable time on each subject. We are convinced that each of these matters is being handled well by your Town officials and that each will in the end be resolved in a way that will be in the best interests of the Town.

The following are areas of activity that were more under our direct influence:

1. The appointment of the Housing for the Elderly Committee. This Committee under the Chairmanship of Francis J. Hartin produced a fine condominium type project in which the citizens of Wayland can truly take satisfaction.

2. The acquisition of a small computer to systemitize and make more efficient some of the more routine and detailed functions of Town government. This project is well in hand and during the year its value should become quite apparent.

3. The retirement of Chief Francis J. Hartin after 37 years of dedicated service to the Town has caused us to begin the search for a new Fire Chief. Chief Hartin's shoes will be hard to fill.

4. We are also beginning the search for a new Executive Secretary because of the resignation of Frank Corliss effective at the end of this fiscal period.

The Selectmen anticipate that some of the major problems that will face the Town in the next few years are regionalization of such functions as land use and police protection, public transportation, housing requirements for the Town offices and the Police Department, the disposition of the Old Junior High School, the Bicentennial celebration, and the continued encroachment of state government in functions that have long been the domain of local government.

BICENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

The Bicentennial Committee has concerned itself for the past year with the kinds of projects and activities which are best suited for Wayland's observance of the Bicentennial. In addition to activities and observances to be held in the Town during that time, the Committee is also planning projects which will have a more lasting benefit to the Town.

In March, the Committee submitted a proposal for matching funds to the State, which was not approved, primarily due to the fact that over 100 towns applied and the State had only $50,000 funded for that purpose. When more State funds become available, a new proposal will be prepared. In the meantime, the Committee feels that most of the proposed plans can be tailored to those funds available at the local level.

One of the major thrusts of the Committee is the preparation of walking and driving tours in the Town. A booklet is being written which will outline the historical significance of the various buildings, bridges, and sites included in the tours. Maps are being prepared to depict the areas involved -- as they are presently, as they were in 1775-1776 and as they were in 1638 when Wayland's first settlers arrived. It is hoped that the residents of the Town will avail themselves of this look at Wayland's history during the Bicentennial and in the years to come. Though the tours are being prepared primarily for Wayland residents, the Committee is keeping in mind that tourists may also wish to learn about the Town.

Another project of a lasting nature is an inventory of documents and materials dealing with the history of Wayland which are at various locations in the Town. The culmination of this effort will be the creation of a cross-indexed catalog which would be located at the Town Libraries and the Historical Society. It is hoped that such a catalog will be helpful to students, residents, and historians.

Other projects and events which are being studied include: a Colonial Craft Exhibition; a Farm Museum; the Recreation of Colonel Knox's trek through Wayland; a Colonial Herb Garden; and the possibility of Workshops to be conducted on a field trip approach to studying Wayland's history.

The Committee is most grateful to the Public Ceremonies Committee for the purchase of two sets of colonial flags. These flags will become increasingly visible as the Bicentennial approaches and they will have their main use during the Bicentennial year.

It is hoped that as the Bicentennial draws near, more and more Wayland residents and organizations will become involved in some facet of the Town's celebration of the Bicentennial.

The program of inspections of all public buildings in Wayland is being carried out by the Building Department in conjunction with the Fire Department. Every effort has been made to see that all building, zoning, electrical, plumbing, gas, and fire codes are being followed by owners of these public buildings in an effort to have them meet all safety standards.

During these eighteen months, 91 applications for the Zoning Board of Appeals were filed in this office for formal hearings related to site plan approval, special permits and variances.

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE DIRECTOR

The Ambulance Study Committee continued its activities during the first few months of 1973 in bringing to the Town professional ambulance service. Starting July 15 we used the services of a private contractor but finally settled on using a leased vehicle, manned by members of our Fire Department.

During January and February members of the Auxiliary Police completed the personal self-defense preparedness training which began in the fall of 1972. In February, 27 man hours of time were donated in conjunction with the Boy Scouts delivering Public Safety brochures throughout the Town.

The Auxiliary Police provided traffic control supervision for the Walk for Mankind and also assisted Framingham authorities at a Rock Concert at the Nobscot Reservation. They also served on Senior's Night, Memorial Day and the Strawberry Festival.

From June 19 to June 23, many Auxiliary Officers donated their time providing police services during the Wayland Town Fair which was held at the High School.

On July 15 the new Auxiliary cruiser was placed in service and during the summer months, manned by volunteers, was extensively used making house and school checks.

In the fall of 1973 it was with a great deal of regret that we accepted the resignation of George Norton as Chief of the Auxiliary Police. We welcomed Officer Robert Parker of the Wayland Police Department, who was appointed as the new Auxiliary Police Chief. A new training program with Chief William Blake, as principal instructor, was instituted and Auxiliary Officers are now being taught professional skills not previously available. Elections were held and Guy Werner took over as Captain and Operations Officer; with Bob Carson serving as Lieutenant and second in command.

During the December ice storm with many homes out of power, we had an opportunity, working with the School and Fire Departments, to go through the exercise of setting up an emergency overnight shelter at the new junior high school. This self-contained unit, which has its own source of emergency power, is now equipped with blankets and cots as an emergency shelter capable of sleeping and feeding townspeople who may be affected by the elements, a major fuel shortage, or power outage.

During the spring of 1974 a new class of Auxiliary Officers were trained in First Aid, Firearms, Patrol Duties, Civil and Criminal Law, and Self-Defense methods and added to the roster as new members.

Advanced training in police techniques was continued to the Auxiliary Officers by Chief Blake and Officers Arthur Walch and Bruce Cook. All Auxiliaries qualified with the .38 service revolver on the police combat course, and many received heavy weapons instruction with the shotgun and rifle course.

Auxiliary Police uniforms were updated with the men changing to new style hats, badges, ties, pant stripes, and batons.

The men were called out several times during the spring of 1974 including the Memorial Day parade, and during seniors night. Regular weekend cruiser duty assignments have been carried out by the volunteer members during the past 18 months, as well as weeknight and weekend duty, making school and house checks, in the Auxiliary Police Cruiser. About 2500 man-hours of donated time have been provided to the townspeople by this dedicated group of men.

In June the Auxiliaries sponsored the Wayland Town Fair and made enough profit to completely cost-share with the Town in providing all officers with raincoats and heavy winter overcoats, two items which were sorely needed and heretofore not available because of limited funds in the Civil Defense budget.

Our plans for the future include:

(a) Integration of communications facilities with the regular Police Department, away from Citizens band, to secure low-band equipment.

(b) Continued emphasis on professional training.

(c) Preparation for the Bi-Centennial year with its obvious crowd and traffic control activities.

(d) Establishment of a "Wayland Balanced Response Disaster Plan", bringing many departments of Town government into a coordinated plan to deal with emergencies.

(e) Continued recruiting into the Auxiliary Police using sophisticated training methods including our new T. V. training tape display monitor.

We continue to express our thanks to Chief William Blake and his Officers for their enthusiasm and support of our activities, and look forward to further opportunities to provide service to the Town.

Respectfully submitted,
C. DONALD ZEARFOSS
Civil Defense Director

CODE ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE

This 18-month "year" of the Code Enforcement Committee--from January 1, 1973, through June 30, 1974--began with a change in chief administrator of the Health Department. It was an opportune moment to push for closer meshing of the work of that agency and the Town's Inspection Department, which has been largely achieved through the cooperation of Mary E. Cooper and the Board of Health.

This was the "year" when the Zoning Board of Appeals had to face the issue presented by the word, "family", in the Town's By-Laws in the light of modern groupings of cohabitants in dwellings. The ZBA held to a traditional view.

This was the "year" the Selectmen were confronted by treehouses. They asked the Building and Zoning Inspector to do whatever was necessary for the protection of life and limb (not explicitly distinguishing between human and tree) short of actually banning such structures.

This was the "year" we thought would see full compliance with the code requirement of installation of heat detectors in specified types of buildings open to the public. Indeed, this would have been accomplished, but the By-Law was amended to cover more structures.

Usual concerns over delapidated buildings and the dangers that ensue continued. Increasing in both frequency and severity are the problems of failed or inadequate septic systems, and there is no inexpensive solution for them.

We shall be giving attention in the coming fiscal year to service stations which are developing related businesses on their premises contrary to By-Laws of the Town. In addition, a State building code comes into effect on January 1, 1975, and we shall be concerned with how it varies from the current Town code which it supersedes.

CODIFICATION COMMITTEE

The compilation of By-Laws of the Town prepared by the Codification Committee was adopted by the Town at the 1973 Annual Town Meeting, Article 14. The Zoning Plan which accompanied the amendment of Section III of the Zoning By-Laws, voted under Article 15 of the 1973 Annual Town Meeting, was based on documentation provided to the Planning Board by this Committee.

The Zoning By-Laws, a Description of the Zoning Plan, the Town By-Laws and Indices of Accepted Statutes Since 1870 and Special Acts Pertaining to East Sudbury and Wayland Since 1780 have been prepared for printing, indexed and proofread. Three booklets, designed so that amending pages can be easily inserted, will be ready for public sale early in July.

With the help of the Town Clerk of Sudbury, the Committee has been able to complete the research on all Special Acts pertaining to Sudbury and East Sudbury dating back to 1638. A book containing copies of each of these Acts is on file in the Town Clerk's office.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION
REPORT FOR JANUARY 1973 TO JUNE 1974

Meetings and Personnel

During this period the Commission held 70 business meetings, 10 hearings under the Wetlands Protection Act, and about 20 inspections of land. We have continued our long-standing policy of trying to inform and involve citizens in our planning and decision-making processes. Several public meetings were held for this purpose. Nevertheless, pressure of business sometimes produces lapses in this respect, and we urge all citizens to let us know when they have criticisms or suggestions. Our standard meeting night was changed in January 1974 from Thursday to Tuesday. We meet regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, and usually on the other Tuesdays also.

In 1973 Gordon Fellows and Allen Morgan resigned from the Commission, and Margaret Norwood and William Gagnebin were appointed by the Selectmen. In 1974 the appointments of Margot Black and Charles Hart were renewed. Kenneth Moon succeeded Charles Hart as chairman in May 1974. Mr. Hart had been chairman from May 1973, following the term of Gordon Fellows.

Mr. Morgan had served on the Commission from its beginning in 1961, and was its chairman for seven years. His many contributions to conservation and land-use planning are well known to most residents of Wayland.

At the date of this report, our associate members include Gordon W. Fellows, Michael D. Goldman (on leave of absence), Perry R. Hagenstein, and Francis D. Kennedy. Barry S. Gilvar was an associate member in 1973. Mrs. Richard E. Robinson and Mrs. Andrew J. Staiano have served as co-chairmen of our Outdoor Education Committee until Mrs. Staiano's recent resignation consequent upon her moving to another town. Mrs. Black was selected by the Metropolitan District Commission for the Citizen Advisory Committee associated with the MDC's study of water management in the upper Sudbury River watershed. Mrs. Marcia D. Henderson continues as our nominee to the Sidewalk Committee. Mr. Stephen J. Maddock has succeeded Kenneth Moon as the Commission's representative on the Refuse Disposal Planning Committee.

Various members have attended a number of regional workshops on technical matters such as the Wetlands Protection Act. Our informal contacts with other groups involved in conservation and land-use planning have increased in accordance with the growing importanc of these subjects in the Boston metropolitan area.

The Commission is grateful to the many citizens, too numerous to be listed by name, for informal assistance in the form of consultation and advice, field work, performance of routine chores, etc. It is also a pleasure to report that, in our increasing contacts with other Town boards and with Town employees, we have encountered a spirit of cooperation which has improved steadily throughout recent years.

Land Acquisition

A second $500,000 bonding authorization was approved by the Town in March 1973. Two purchases of land were approved: the Stewart parcel, 12.2 acres at $54,700, in March 1973; and the Swiedler (formerly Scholz) parcel, 17.7 acres at $90,000, in March 1974. About $355,000 of bonding authorization remains uncommitted. Three gifts of land were received: from E. Linn Company 5.4 acres in the Coolidge Road subdivision; from Brenton H. Dickson and Edward M. Dickson, a small parcel at the end of Three Ponds Road which provides access to the Upper Mill Brook Conservation Area; and from Mr. and Mrs. B. Allen Benjamin, a small parcel connecting the Upper Mill Brook Conservation Area to the property of the Peace Lutheran Church on Concord Road. The Church has graciously made its parking lot available (except on Sunday mornings) to visitors to that conservation area.

Reimbursements on account of conservation-land purchases amounted to $134,365.51 during the report period. Major additional amounts are still expected for purchases already completed.

The Swiedler/Scholz parcel was actually purchased from the Sudbury Valley Trustees, who had acquired the parcel, at our request, at a time when the Town could not act quickly enough to buy it directly. The SVT also donated to the Town a walking easement which made it possible for us to comply with an access requirement imposed by the Commonwealth as a condition for reimbursement on the Barrel parcel.

The Planning Board was of material assistance in our negotiations for purchase of the former Scholz property. Also, their Planned-Development By-Law, approved by the Town in March 1974, holds promise of securing large amounts of permanent open space. See the report of that Board.

Activities on Conservation Lands

More than twenty advertized public outings were sponsored during the report period. Visits by school groups for outdoor-education sessions have continued and increased. A picnic area with tables has been assigned near Old Sudbury Road, across from the cemetery. Six informal picnic areas (no facilities - just a small sign identifying the site) have been assigned on a total of four parcels.

Cross-country skiing is a rapidly growing family activity in this area, and we have continued to cooperate in the laying-out of suitable routes. We have cooperated with local horse-riding enthusiasts in a project to inventory, improve, and maintain the bridle trails in Wayland.

Several recent land acquisitions have included cultivated fields, and it is our intention to continue agricultural use of suitable conservation lands. We have set up an advisory committee to study the use of conservation land for individual garden plots. The chairman is George K. Lewis.

Wetlands Protection

In 1972 the Wetlands Protection Act, Mass. General Laws Chapter 131 Section 40, was strengthened and primary responsibility for its administration was transferred to the local conservation commissions. This has produced a large increase in work-load, but we believe that both changes were desirable. We dealt with 25 cases during the report period, of which 8 concluded with formal Orders of Conditions, 4 were terminated informally, 5 are dormant, and 8 are currently active.

Problems Encountered

All conservation commissions are experiencing rapid growth in both size and difficulty of their work-load. We are certainly no exception, although, unlike several towns in this area, we have not yet found it necessary to ask the Town for a paid employee.

In connection with land acquisition, competition by developers and the slow pace of government action place us at a serious disadvantage unless the seller has a strong preference to see his land devoted to conservation. Increasing land values and tax rates make the problem more urgent, although the new Agricultural Assessment Act (Chapter 1118 of the Acts of 1973) may help to moderate the pace of development. The demonstrated willingness of the Town to pay fair market value for conservation land of high priority, and the new Planned-Development By-Law, provide partial solutions of this problem, but the Town must expect, under its policy of eschewing use of eminent domain, to lose a substantial fraction of the land on the conservation-land acquisition program.

In connection with the land management, there are problems that neither money nor finesse can solve completely. Resolution of conflicting legitimate uses of available land is such a problem. Other human problems, such as preventing use of conservation land for dumps by neighbors, are soluble in theory, but actual solution is time-consuming and traumatic.

In connection with wetlands protection, there is difficulty in establishing contact with landowners before they unwittingly begin work which puts them in violation of the law.

In connection with the old Wayland-Water-Works pump-house below the Snake Brook dam, we are torn between reluctance to spend substantial sums of money for repair and preservation, and reluctance to demolish a handsome and historically significant landmark. We are working with the Historical Commission on this problem.

Outdoor Education Committee

In addition to sponsoring some of the outings on conservation land mentioned above, this Committee continued to work with the schools to encourage environmental education programs through workshops, school-grounds evaluations, and direct assistance to interested teachers by preparing curriculum materials and working with children outdoors.

The Committee published two more field guides to conservation lands: one for the Richardson parcel and one for the Heard Farm Conservation Area.

COUNCIL ON AGING

In April 1973, the Wayland Selectmen appointed seven members to the Council on Aging; three members for three years, two members for two years and two members for one year.

The members were sworn in by the Town Clerk during the month of May and elected officers in August.

The Council prepared and mailed a questionnaire to 1,100 Senior Citizens (60 years of age and over) concerning the needs of Senior Citizens in Wayland.

A "Well-Care" Clinic, co-ordinated with Parmenter Health Center, was established January 1974 meeting every other Wednesday at the Senior Citizen Center, Old Junior High School. A Practical Health Diet Course was initiated by the nurses from Parmenter and meets at Parmenter every other Friday. The Council would like to thank the nurses from Parmenter for their cooperation in making the clinics a success.

A letter co-signed by the Council, Board of Selectmen, Board of Assessors, and the Finance Committee was sent to the Governor and members of State Legislation in an effort to help our Senior Citizens regarding real estate tax abatements.

The Council has been active in a Supplementary Security Income program for the elderly.

A weekly shopping trip for the elderly was established--expenses for which have now been assumed by the Council beginning July 1, 1974.

The Council would like to thank Miriam Krieg, first chairman of the Council, for her untiring efforts in furthering the Council's development.

The Council would like to thank the School Committee and the Park-Recreation Commission for their continued assistance and support and the residents of Wayland for their interest in helping our Senior Citizens.

Installation or Alteration of Oil Burning Equipment	70
Blasting Permits	7
Model Rocket Permits	19

The Fire Prevention activities by this Department included the periodic inspection of all public school buildings, other municipal buildings, churches, nursing homes, commercial occupancies, private kindergartens, nursery schools, day care for children facilities, and multiple family dwellings. In addition to oil burner inspections in single family dwellings, home inspections were also made on request and escape plans were presented to single families or groups of families under our program "Operation Edith" Evacuation Drill in the Home. Fire prevention education programs were presented to school children, clubs, and organizations. Special projects by Junior and Senior High students, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts were counseled by members of the Department. Part of our fire prevention program was carried out in a cooperative inspection effort with the Building Department resulting in considerable reduction of potential hazardous fire conditions.

The Department training program was conducted on a regular and continuous basis. In addition, members of the Department attended training schools, seminars and conferences conducted by the Massachusetts Firefighting Academy, the Massachusetts Institute of Fire Department Instructors, the Fire Apparatus Maintenance Association, the International Municipal Signal Association, the New England Association of Fire Chiefs, the New England Institute of Fire Department Instructors and the Massachusetts Association of Fire Chiefs. Personnel of the Department are presently attending Community Colleges during off duty hours. These men are taking courses in Fire Science Technology leading to an Associate Degree. Men of the Department have taken Emergency Medical Technician courses at three local hospitals.

The Municipal Fire Alarm System was extended by the installation of six (6) New Master Fire Alarm Boxes, supervising auxiliary fire protection systems in commercial and/or industrial occupancies and connected to the municipal system.

Approximately forty-five (45) Boston Edison Company poles required existing fire alarm construction to be transferred to new poles because of automobile accidents or Edison Company replacement programs.

Normal repairs, maintenance and testing of existing fire alarm construction continued on a regular basis.

After a study by the Ambulance Committee, appointed by the Selectmen, a private ambulance service was brought into the Town in July of 1973. The ambulance was housed in Fire Department Headquarters and piloted by a Fire Department vehicle. This service was found to to be unsatisfactory for a number of reasons. In November 1973 the Selectmen gave authorization and an ambulance was leased and placed into service operated by Fire Department personnel. The Annual Town Meeting in March 1974 authorized the purchase of this ambulance. Over half the personnel operating the ambulance are now trained Emergency Medical Technicians.

On May 1, 1974 Captain Arthur E. Flieger was appointed Acting Fire Chief due to the forthcoming retirement of Chief Hartin. Chief Francis J. Hartin retired June 30, 1974, after thirty seven (37) years of service on the Wayland Fire Department, 17 of those years as its first permanent full time Chief.

I wish to extend my thanks and appreciation to the members of the Department and to all persons who have assisted in any way in the operation of the Department.

Respectfully submitted,
ARTHUR E. FLIEGER, Acting Chief
Fire Department

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The Wayland Board of Health respectfully submits its reports for the period of January 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974.

Mrs. Joan Carroll was elected Chairman of the Board for 1973. Dr. John Taub was elected Chairman for 1974 with Dr. John Neumeyer and Mrs. Joan Carroll as second and third members.

There were several staff changes made during this period. Mr. Thomas Rinaldo, Sanitary Engineer, resigned September 1, 1973 and Mr. William Domey was appointed as Sanitary Engineer for the Town. In October 1973, Mr. Kevin VanArsdell was appointed Assistant to the Director of Public Health, Mrs. Mary Cooper. Mr. VanArsdell periodically inspects all grocery stores, restaurants, boarding houses and trucks from which food is being sold. If violations are found, necessary recommendations are made and followed up in order that the establishments will comply with the State Sanitary Code. Mrs. Cooper inspects nursing homes, summer camps and nursery schools with the same follow up if violations are present.

All complaints concerning health problems are promptly investigated and rectified.

At the annual rabies clinic, 340 dogs were inoculated against rabies in 1973, and 294 in 1974.

2. WAYLAND PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING SERVICE AND PARMENTER HEALTH CENTER

STAFF:

The generalized nursing program is carried out by six public health nurses, the director and five staff nurses. This year we have had nine senior nursing students from Boston College and a graduate nursing student from Boston University who were working as part of their community health experience.

WELL CHILD CONFERENCE:

Well child clinics are offered to Wayland residents whose financial circumstances might preclude preventive health care for their pre-school children. Dr. Freda Beer is the clinic pediatrician.

SCHOOL NURSING:

School nursing accounts for almost 50% of the nurses' time. The actual school visit, including emergency calls, is just one aspect of school nursing. The remaining time is spent visiting with parents or in conferences with students, school personnel, physicians, or clinic personnel. In this way, the nurses become acquainted with the students and their families and provide better service helping to keep them at their highest level of physical and emotional health.

Vision and hearing screening is done yearly on all students grades 1-12. Kindgergarten children are screened in the spring at pre-school registration. Parents of students who fail the tests are notified and referred to their physicians. Screening for "Lazy Eye" is done yearly at Parmenter Health Center for pre-school children in Wayland.

An immunization clinic was held in the elementary and junior high schools last year upon recommendation of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Although measles vaccination is required for entrance to school and no case of measles had been reported in Wayland for five years, a state-wide measles epidemic prompted immediate action. There were twenty-one cases of measles reported in Wayland at that time.

The staff nurses and students have been involved this year in teaching segments at the schools as part of the health education program.

THERAPEUTIC NURSING:

Therapeutic nursing refers to patients who are receiving skilled nursing care such as general personal care, dressings, injections, and treatments in their homes or at the office. The nurse also provides emotional support to the patients and family and helps the patient cope with his illness. Teaching the patient and family is an important facet of therapeutic nursing.

For the period January 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974, the therapeutic home visits totaled 2,052 and 69 office visits.

There is a fee for therapeutic nursing visits, but frequently payment is handled by third parties such as Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans' Services and Blue Cross, Blue Shield. If not, the fee is based on a sliding scale and no patient is refused care because of inability to pay.

HEALTH PROMOTION:

Health promotion visits, unlike therapeutic nursing visits, require no direct nursing care but focus on teaching, supervision, and referrals. They include visits to families with newborns, pre-school children, school children, specific health problems, and adults of all ages. Teaching growth and development patterns, coping with physical disabilities, communicable disease control and supervision of the elderly with chronic disease are some of the areas included in these visits. Health promotion is one of the most important functions of the public health nurse as the focus is on disease prevention and control.

Health promotion visits for this period totaled 1,154 home visits and 213 office visits. There is no fee for health promotion visits.

PHYSICAL THERAPY:

Physical therapy is available for patients in their homes and the fee arrangements are the same as for therapeutic nursing service.

As of June 30, 1974, 373 visits were made to patients for physical therapy.

SPEECH THERAPY:

Speech therapy is available for patients in their homes and the fee arrangements are the same as for therapeutic nursing service.

The speech therapy program includes speech evaluation and classes for pre-school children in Wayland and vicinity. The total number of children this year was 44.

Framingham	14	Dover	1
Sudbury	9	Holliston	1
Natick	8	Millis	1
Wayland	9	Westboro	1

Three speech therapy classes were held from September through June with 15 children enrolled.

FRIENDS OF PARMENTER:

The "Friends" continue to provide volunteer service for the programs at Parmenter Health Center. They provide transportation for residents of Wayland and provide volunteers to assist at pre-school registration, dental clinic, well child clinic and special health programs such as vision and hearing screening and Glaucoma clinic. During holiday seasons they provide cards and gifts for the patients. Because of their generosity, the nurses have more time to devote to nursing functions.

GLAUCOMA CLINIC:

A Glaucoma screening clinic was held this year at Parmenter Health Center in conjunction with the Sudbury Public Health Nursing Association and the Sudbury-Wayland Lions Club.

WELL SENIOR CLINIC:

A clinic was started in January to provide preventive health services to all senior residents of Wayland. The clinic is held at the old junior high school on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 2:30 P.M. Some of the services include:

Screening procedures; vital signs, simple urinalysis and weight.
Teaching re: general health, chronic problems of aging, medication, diet, specific problems.
Individual counseling re: emotional and physical health.
Information re: other community resources.
Education programs held this year:

School dietician - "Nutrition"
Library Director - "Talking & Large Print Books"
Podiatrist - "Foot Care"
Film - "Glaucoma"
Dental Hygienist - "Oral Hygiene" Physical Therapist - "Arthritis"

Patients are referred to their physicians when the public health nurses feel it is warranted.

Transportation is provided and the clinic has been well attended.

In the fall, the Board of Health provided flu vaccinations for all senior residents.

In addition to the clinic, the public health nurses continue to make health promotion visits to all senior residents who are unable to attend the clinic.

The Trustees of Parmenter Health Center and the members of the Wayland Board of Health continue to work together to provide high quality health care for the residents of Wayland.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY E. COOPER
Director of Public Health

3. SCHOOL PHYSICIAN'S REPORT

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS:

Routine school physical examinations and those required for participating in specified sports were carried out for eligible pupils.

MEDICAL COVERAGE OF SPORTS:

The medical coverage of the Varsity home football games was provided by Dr. Ernest Damon whose unflagging interest and devotion is gratefully acknowledged. The Jr. Varsity games were given the required medical supervision by Dr. Robert M. Kim whose help is much appreciated.

In November 1973, the wrestlers were weighed in at the high school at the request of Coach Eric Moyer and the class of each participant registered as required by the New England Wrestling Association.

HEALTH EDUCATION:

Assistance was given in teaching in the health education program with increased participation by the school nurses and teachers. The students appeared to have benefited from the extended, organized health education curriculum, resulting in questions which reflected a basic knowledge of anatomy and physiology. The assistance of Dr. John S. Taub and Dr. Louis N. Rashin is gratefully acknowledged.

SCHOOL PERSONNEL EMERGENCY FORM:

The devising of a health emergency plan for school staff with medical problems was initiated in order that treatment of medical emergencies occurring during school hours could be rendered more effective by a prior knowledge of the patient's condition.

Teaching and non-teaching staff were requested to complete a brief medical questionnaire which is kept in a confidential file at the Parmenter Health Center. Participation in this plan is, of course, voluntary; it is planned to distribute the forms annually each fall so that the data may be kept current and an opportunity to participate be given to newly appointed school personnel.

The help and support of the school nurses, the director of Parmenter Health Center and the Board of Health is gratefully acknowledged.

Respectfully submitted,
JOYCE R. VETTRAINO, M.D.

5. INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS

I was appointed Inspector of Animals in November of 1973. After being sworn in I began the process of inspecting every known barn and stable in the Town. All of the animals and barns passed inspection.

In March of 1974, a clinic was held for the vaccination of the Town's horses against Equine Encephalomyelitis. Also offered were vaccines against flu, tetanus and Coggins testing. The two clinics were held with the cooperation of the Wayland 4-H Club. This will be an annual event for all the Town's horses.

A new set of stable regulations will soon be put into effect for the Town. These will require certain minimum standards for the care and stabling of horses and other large animals in the Town. Their primary objective will be to safeguard the public health of the residents and the physical health of the animals.

Respectfully submitted,
KEVIN VANARSDELL

6. THE YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE--DETACHED SOCIAL WORKERS

In October, 1970, an ad-hoc committee was formed to "deal with the problems and issues of Wayland youth," focusing on the specific concern of "drugs, alcohol, and anti-social behavior."

On January 12, 1971, this ad-hoc committee presented a paper defining the scope of the problem, educational aspects, enforcement aspects, and a proposed program. The program was presented to the Finance Committee for inclusion into March, 1971 Town Meeting.

At that meeting the Town approved the establishment of a Youth Advisory Committee and the hiring of "a detached social worker."

The committee hired Mr. Neil Hickey and he began work on August 15, 1971. The social worker was hired to test "solutions" as they occurred. The Y.A.C. gave him freedom to experiment. As his presence became more known to individuals and agencies, his workload increased and the structure of his job and his relationship with other agencies became more clear. His routine administrative responsibilities, and, more particularly his heavy caseload and increasing variety of tasks (most of which is confidential) came to demand more and more time.

Because of a phenomenal growth in the numbers of young people who sought out and were receiving help from Mr. Hickey, it became apparent to the Y.A.C. that a real need for an assistant detached social worker existed. In July of 1974 the committee hired Miss Nancy Brennan to assist Mr. Hickey. Over 90% of all clients are self-referred or referred by peers.

Individual Counselling

The Y.A.C. asked Mr. Hickey to document only statistics on his activities. No confidential files exist for any person who has worked with the detached social worker. "Detached" equals "Anonimity" and it is the firm conviction of the Y.A.C. that this degree of anonimity and Mr. Hickey's and Miss Brennan's expertise, that is responsible for the high degree of effectiveness and success in working with Wayland's youth. The following numbers indicate the growth of the program, in the number of "total contacts" ranging anywhere from a 15 minute phone conversation to a formally scheduled one hour session to an eight hour crisis intervention.

Aug. 1971-Aug. 1972 12 mos.		Jan. 1973-Jan. 1974 12 mos.		Jan. 1973-June 30, 1974 18 mos.
Male client	109	Male client	720	Male client	1,050
Female client	369	Female client	756	Female client	1,130
Parents	94	Parents	312	Parents	463

Relationships with Other Agencies

Mr. Hickey's and Miss Brennan's relationships with other agencies have been excellent, and have enhanced the help to the young people who have availed themselves of their service. For the period extending from January 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974, the following contacts have been made:

School Contacts:

Guidance 1,504
Teachers
Administration

In-town Relationships

Y.A.C. (weekly meetings with chairman; monthly with full committee)
Board of Health, Police, adult contacts, speaking engagements, etc.

Total: 259

Agencies (Non-School)

Private Psychiatrists and Psychologists 1,116
Police Department
Framingham Youth Guidance and similar agencies (both public and private)

Total contacts for January, 1973 - June, 1974: 4,018

Summary and Evaluation

The office of the "detached social worker" has developed a large counselling caseload. It is obvious that problems do exist in the lives of Wayland's young people. It is just as apparent that the existence of the program and especially the two people who work with the youth has provided, and will continue to provide, an invaluable service to the children and parents of Wayland.

This is a unique program of 24-hour on-call service to the youth, and we expect it to continue growing. The Youth Advisory Committee, (made up of representatives of the Clergy, Board of Health, Selectmen, Schools, and Police) is unanimous in its approval and support of Mr. Hickey and Miss Brennan.

Respectfully submitted,
(REV.) PAUL B. McINERNY
Chairman

7. REPORT OF THE SANITARY ENGINEER

During the 18 month period from January 1973 to June 30, 1974, 102 Disposal Works Construction Permit applications for septic systems were reviewed for which permits were issued by the Board of Health. Of these permits, 37 were for new construction, while 65 were for repairs of existing septic systems.

New Rules and Regulations were prepared for the Board of Health, which adopted them on May 21, 1974. These new regulations contain a number of features which should help prevent premature septic system failure and should increase their length of service. A program was initiated by which the Sanitary Engineer personally observed all test holes. A policy of requiring test holes to be dug during times of high ground water was strictly enforced. All septic systems constructed with permits from the Board of Health were inspected to insure compliance with regulations and all septic system complaints were investigated, with recommendations made to the Board of Health as to their disposition. During the summer bathing season, water samples were collected weekly from Lake Cochituate for a check on water quality. The water met the accepted standards for a bathing area during the entire season.

WILLIAM R. DOMEY
Sanitary Engineer

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION

The eighteen month period ending June 30, 1974 has been marked by the restoration of the Mellen Law Office building on the delta opposite the Town Building and the enlargement of the Historic District area. At the March 1973 Town Meeting action was taken upon the recommendation of the Historic District Commission adding 20, 780 square feet of vacant land at 11 Millbrook Road adjacent to the Town parking lot to the District. The added parcel is bounded on three sides by the original District and its addition fills in a gap within the former boundaries.

With the cooperation of other Town bodies, the small building on the Town green built in 1826 and occupied by Judge Edward Mellen as his law office in the second quarter of the nineteenth century was moved to a new foundation and the decayed sills of the building replaced. The building and its land were given to the Town by Mrs. Edmund H. Sears, and thanks to the competent volunteer work of Miss Martha Green, a student of historical preservation, the interior has been restored and repainted.

The routine work of the Commission has included the granting, after public hearings, of applications for authority to make specified changes in the external appearance of the building now occupied by the Waybridge Book Shop at the intersection of Pelham Island and Cochituate Roads and of the First Parish Church.

THE HISTORICAL COMMISSION

Voted into being at the March, 1973 Town Meeting, with members appointed in May, The Wayland Historical Commission held its organization meeting May 29, 1973. In the ensuing thirteen months, ten official all-evening meetings were held. In addition, all or part of the Commission met once each with the Selectmen, the Bicentennial Commission, and the Historic District Commission.

As soon as it was organized, the Commission plunged into a hectic series of work sessions during June in an attempt to comply with the request of The Massachusetts Historical Commission that Wayland's inventory of buildings of historical or architectural significance be made ready for the State by the end of June. It was impossible to complete our inventory in one month, but on June 30 forms on 45 of the older buildings were submitted. This inventory is a mandatory duty of a local historical commission; the completion of it has been our continuing task. Additions to the inventory were submitted in January and the completion of considerably more is expected in the summer of 1974 with work proceeding as fast as the research can be accomplished and photographs taken. It is hoped that a copy of this inventory, when completed, can be placed in the Wayland Library as reference material.

In addition to its duty to provide an inventory of buildings, cemeteries, special areas, historic monuments, and sites such as bridges, The Historical Commission is charged with promoting historic preservation within the Town by providing information to appropriate Town boards and suggesting action. In the past 13 months the Commission has done the following:

1. sponsored an article in the March, 1974 Town Meeting designating 18 of the Town's roads as Scenic Roads for the purpose of protecting roadside trees and stonewall

2. asked the Selectmen to appoint a study committee to explore the feasibility and appropriateness of recommending to the Town that an historic district be constituted in Cochituate

3. filed an application with The Massachusetts Historical Commission to have the Wayland Center Historic District placed on the National Register of Historic Places

4. been an advocate of preservation of significant buildings in the town by:
    a. appearing before The Historic District Commission as opposed to certain proposed exterior changes in the First Parich Church

b. working with the Conservation Commission to try to find a solution other than the tearing down of the deteriorating 1879 Cochituate Water Works Gatehouse off Rice Road

5. with the Selectmen attempted to persuade the Massachusetts Department of Public Works to place a more meaningful and correct date on the state road signs entering Wayland.

We are glad to report that, as envisioned in the concept of a local historical commission, we have been able to provide research data and historical judgment to various Town boards. We have also worked cooperatively rather than competitively with such private organizations as the Wayland Historical Society and the local chapter of the D.A.R. We have had good relations with the Massachusetts Historical Commission whose conferences we have attended and advice we have sought. In April, the Commission joined the Bay State Historical League in order to be able to take advantage of that organizations's advice and avenues of communication with other bodies in the State concerned with historical research and preservation. In May, we called on and received advice from the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities.

We have had a strenuous and successful thirteen months. We are pleased that citizens are becoming aware of our existence and are asking for information or making suggestions on historical matters.

REPORT OF THE WAYLAND HOUSING AUTHORITY FOR THE PERIOD January, 1973 through June, 1974.

Construction for our first elderly housing community in Wayland began in December of 1972 with Weston Construction Co., Inc. of Weston as the General Contractor and Alton Flanders of Wayland as Clerk of the works.

During the time of construction there were changes in the requirements of the State; residency in the Town of Wayland was not necessary for eligibility and four units for handicapped persons were incorporated within the construction.

In mid-January of 1974 two of the four apartment buildings were ready for occupancy and late in February of 1974 the other two. All units except three of the handicapped were occupied immediately with a 70% ratio of tenants previously living in Wayland. Within one month the remaining three handicapped units were occupied and a waiting list established of thirty-four eligible applicants.

In February, 1974 we held an open house with everything completed but the furniture in the community room and the proverbial "punch list".

In April, 1974 the State conducted a complete audit of the Housing Authority accounts and files. Development cost was $1,180,000.00 for the entire community with a breakdown of $21,070.00 per unit. All costs were subsidized by the State. Site acquisition cost to date is $30,000.00

The personal adjustments involved in moving were naturally felt by everyone at the sametime... within a month or two things began to roll socially and individually. The atmosphere intended for this way of living, free of shoveling snow, repairing ceilings, leaf raking and so many other chores that can be awesome, engulfed the tenants and leaves the Authority feeling this is not only a necessity for Wayland but a true asset.

In April, 1974 the tenants held their first meeting and formed the "Tenants Organization" electing officers for a six month period. Social functions are carried out here in the community room and "away trips" planned as they choose.

At the Annual Town Election held in March, 1973 Mary M. Howard and Edward F. Thorburn were elected as Authority Members.

At the Authority's Annual Meeting held April 4, 1973 the following positions were duly and unanimously filled:

Chairman	Francis J. Hartin
Vice Chairman	Victor G. Pesek
Secretary	Mary M. Howard
Member	Edward F. Thorburn

The Authority at this time was awaiting a new appointee from the state to replace Mr. George H. Robinson. In October 1973 Mr. A. Elliott McNeill was introduced as the state appointee. Mr. McNeill will be a "holdover" until July of 1974.

At the Authority's Annual Meeting held April 3, 1974 the following positions were duly and unanimously filled:

Chairman	Francis J. Hartin
Vice Chairman	Victor G. Pesek
Treasurer	A. Eliot McNeill	(State Appointee)
Asst. Treasurer	Mary M. Howard
Member	Edward F. Thorburn
Exec. Director	Joanne E. Bache

The evidence of need for elderly housing has become more evident along with housing for mixed income families of lower age. We have a waiting list of eighty-six eligible senior citizens as of June 1974. The Authority therefore, plans to seek Town approval of a second site and development of another elderly community under the same State subsidized program utilized at the "Bent Park" site. Articles will be presented for the Spring Town Meeting in 1975, or if possible a Fall Town Meeting in 1974.

The Authority wishes to thank the homeowner's in the Bent Avenue area for being so patient during the time of construction, and understanding of the inconveniences that it caused. So much of what has been accomplished could not have been done without the compassion, assistance and time given by many residents of the Town. Cochituate School, Police and Fire Departments, Parmenter Health Center, & various young peoples' organizations such as Blue Birds, Brownies and Boy Scouts.

One visit here and we feel you will know all efforts and time given have helped to construct more than the Town originally knew. It isn't just Wayland Housing, it's home for those who need it.

GOAL-SETTING One of the primary activities of the library this past year was the identification of the library goals relating to the areas of administration and planning, education, information, recreation and culture. A participative process was used to determine these goals and included, in addition to the Board of Trustees, the administration and staff of the library, and community feedback from the user, non-user survey conducted by the library.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT The new administration of the library took as its specific goal this past year, the implementation of a participative model of management. The emphasis was on the institution of staff development and team-building program with three foci: (1) the decision-making process; (2) organizational and inter-personal communication; and (3) job analysis, reclassification and the development of new job descriptions.

PHYSICAL FACILITIES During the past year, the Library Building Planning Committee, using the goals as developed by the Board of Trustees and working with the staff and the architect, developed a program statement detailing the library's acute need for additional space. The staff, who have the responsibility for functioning as effectively as possible under increasingly crowded conditions, have adapted by filling every available inch of space with books and bookshelves. Old program have been carried on and new programs instituted under great handicaps PROGRAMS The Children's Department conducts programs year-round for preschool to junior high school age patrons. These include story hours weekly, puppet shows, an elementary school story hour focusing on folk tales and seasonal stories, summer program and junior high library club. The children's librarian on invitation has visited classrooms to present book talks and story hours. This spring the children's librarian has given a series of sessions on children's literature for the staff, school librarians and volunteers.

In addition to the children's programs, the library has begun a modest expansion of its adult programming activities -- one of the needs revealed by the library survey. The library offered two book discussion groups, one in Wayland center and one in Cochituate, a workshop on the handling and preservation of historical materials and the America and other film series. The newly formed Friends of the Library hosted a series of spring membership sessions which ranged from a jazz sextet to a Renaissance evening featuring madrigals sung by the Town House Singers and readings by the Vokes Players.

MATERIALS The library for the first time expanded its collection to include art prints and sculpture which have added a popular and exciting visual dimension to the library. The library has also expanded its reference collection to include an expanded line of stock and financial services. Additional periodicals were added bringing the total now received to 127.

SERVICES In addition to a major expansion and emphasis on the reference and adult services within the building, the library has made a modest beginning to reach out to persons with library needs who for one reason or another cannot come to the library. The major "outreach" effort this year has been on developing services to the nursing homes in Wayland. A library staff member visits the nursing homes once a week with materials and films.

THE LIBRARY BUILDING PLANNING COMMITTEE

The LBPC was established at the March 1973 Annual Town Meeting in response to the Trustee's assessment that the present library building was inadequate for present and future library needs.

The Wayland Free Public Library is the second oldest library in the country. The building was built in 1899 and remodeled in 1966 providing effectively 5,617 square feet.

The building has served the library needs of the Town well for the last 75 years, but today, the library is beyond capacity in terms of its ability to house materials. Every available space is used for bookshelves. There is no room for periodicals; there is no space for studying in the reference area; there is inadequate space for seating in the browsing area; public programs must be carried out in library space that becomes unavailable for its normal use during the program.

The library now houses 45,000 volumes with an expected increase to 75,000 volumes. The existing building with a 6,000 square foot addition would provide space for the 75,000 volumes, adequate space for staff for technical processing, receiving and cataloging, sufficient reader seats for browsing and periodicals, reading and studying, reference and children's area. Space will be provided for group activities to be shared by both adult and children to be used for story hours, discussion groups, film programs, etc.

It is feasible to construct an addition and make alterations to the existing building which will meet the Town's library needs. The facility would consist of a two floor addition to the north of the existing building. The existing basement area would be remodeled into staff work areas and administration. The new portion of the basement would provide for an improved children's library with children's activities room.

The main floor would provide basically the services it provides today, but greatly expanded and reorganized. The wall behind the existing circulation desk would be removed so the existing library space and new space together would provide one large open space. It is important also to preserve and enhance the atmosphere and character of the present building.

The parking at the library particularly during periods of peak activity is inadequate. It is proposed to improve and increase the existing lot. The feasibility of leasing or purchasing adjacent railroad land for additional parking is also being studied.

The Library Building Planning Committee and the Board of Trustees recommend an addition of approximately 6,000 square feet with remodeling as described be constructed at an estimated cost of about $475,000.00, based on 1974 construction costs.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1973

In the spring of 1971, the towns of Acton, Arlington, Belmont, Boxborough, Carlisle, Concord, Lexington, Lincoln, Stow, Sudbury, Wayland and Weston voted to establish the Minuteman Regional Vocational Technical School District. Since then the District has made significant progress. Our goal is to open a regional vocational technical high school in September 1974.

In 1971 Superintendent-Director Samuel Sains was employed by the Regional School Committee, a $900,000 bond issue was authorized and approved for site acquisition and planning costs, a site for the new school was selected, and educational specifications for the school were developed. Major milestones in 1972 included the selection of Drummey Rosane Anderson, Inc. of Wellesley as architects for the new school, the completion of building plans and specifications, the authorization of a $12,900,000 bond issue for constructing and equipping the school, and the award of a construction contract on October 26, 1972, to White Construction Company of Burlington, the low bidder. The Minuteman School is located at the Lexington-Lincoln line, a short distance west of Route 128 and south of Route 2A.

During 1973 construction continued. Minuteman now has a building where but a year before there was only a pile of pipe and wood chips. The school's structure and exterior masonry are complete and the building virtually closed in. Interior finishing, mechanical and electrical work, equipment installation and furnishing are now taking place inside the nearly complete shell. Construction has been on schedule to date, so that a September 1974 opening appears still to be a realistic target.

The temporary school offices are in Wayland. In September 1973 our staff was enlarged by the addition of seven teachers and two student program coordinators. This core group participated in an intensive training and orientation session during its first two weeks at Minuteman. Since then this group has proceeded to outline educational processes for the school and plan the techniques which will be used to put them into practice. The student program coordinators have been contacting representatives of the school departments in the twelve-member towns. They have been planning an information program for students on Minuteman and the application and admission process.

We have had extensive investigation and discussions with the Educational Advisory Committee. This Committee consists of the Superintendents of Schools from all the member towns. As a result of these discussions, the Minuteman Regional School Committee has adopted an open admission policy designed to serve students with varied interests, abilities and needs. The Committee plans to review continually the actual operation of the procedures established for admission to Minuteman.

A freshman class of 450 students is scheduled to enter in September 1974. The Committee has voted to base each town's quota in this class on the ratio that the number of pupils in grades 9 through 12, residing in and receiving education at the expense of each member town, bears to the total pupil enrollment in grades 9 through 12 throughout the District. This ratio is also the legal basis for apportioning Minuteman costs among the member towns for the 1974-75 fiscal year. Should the number of applicants from a member town exceed its quota, that town may select up to 20% of its quota in a manner determined by that town. The remaining 80% of each quota would be chosen by a random selection process.

An information booklet on the Minuteman School has been distributed to parents of 8th graders in all of the member towns and to each junior high or middle school. The booklet describes the location and layout of the building, the school's course offerings and its educational process, and includes complete information on how to apply for admission.

Current plans call for hiring an additional group of faculty in February of 1974. Once the new teachers have been familiarized with Minuteman philosophy and processes by the core group, the entire staff will plan and develop the curriculum for the school's openings in 1974, and ensure that the necessary materials are available for the programs being offered in the first year. The first year vocational and technical course offerings will be:

Building Trades	Foods
Power Mechanics	Distributive Education
Machine Shop	Health Services
Metals Fabrication	Commercial Art
Horticulture	Electronics
Printing	Instrumentation

Students will also be required to take courses in:

Communication Arts (English)	Mathematics
General Science	Human Relations (Social Studies)

The Minuteman School Committee and staff look forward to completion of the building in the summer of 1974 and to welcoming the first freshman class in September.

The Committee notes with sorrow and deep regret the death on Christmas Day, 1973, of Paul Alphen of Wayland. Paul served as a member of the original Minuteman Regional School District Planning Board, and since the establishment of the District in 1971, as the Minuteman School Committee member from Wayland. As Chairman of the Policies Subcommittee and a member of the Building and Budget Review Subcommittees, Paul made a significant contribution to the Minuteman School. His dedication, hard work and good humor will be sorely missed.

With the death in September 1973 of Vernon C. Page, we lost yet another friend and co-worker. Vernon, a member of the Lexington School Committee for many years, was a past member of the Minuteman Regional School District Planning Board, a member of our Building and Site Committee, and an enthusiastic supporter of vocational education. We shall miss Vernon and his advice and support which always expressed his warm concern for youth and his belief in the importance of expanded educational opportunities.

During 1973 four members of the original Minuteman Committee submitted their resignations. Anna Manion of Concord resigned following her election as a Selectman in the spring of 1973, and Walter Verney of Arlington resigned in September. In December Erik Mollo-Christensen of Lexington, the Vice-Chairman of the Committee, and Glen Pippert of Stow, Chairman of the Education and Curriculum Subcommittee, announced their intention of retiring in early 1974. Each contributed greatly toward building a strong basis from which Minuteman will develop. Their contributions to our success were invaluable.

The entire committee and staff express their appreciation to the school and town officials, parents and townspeople in the District's twelve-member towns for their cooperation and understanding, without which the progress achieved to date could not have been sustained.

MINUTEMAN REGIONAL VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL DISTRICT COMMITTEE

Report for the First Six Months of 1974

During the first six months of 1974 the program for Minuteman continued as outlined in the report for the calendar year 1973. The school is scheduled to open in September 1974 with a ninth grade class of 450 students. It is expected that Wayland's quota of 37 will be filled.

The students who are to attend Minuteman and their parents have been meeting with representatives of the school. Tests have been given to determine the reading and math levels of each student and questionnaires sent out to learn about their background, interests, hobbies and expectations. Individual discussions with students and parents have also been held to assist students in the selection of the subjects in which they are interested. Based on this data, every attempt will be made to place students in the areas of activities which will come as close as possible to building a foundation for success upon which future growth and development of the individual can be planned.

The net operating budget for the fiscal year July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975, after reimbursement, has been set at $1,234,000 and the net capital assessment after reimbursement at $679,000 for a total assessment of $1,913,000 to the twelve towns of the region. Wayland's share of this will be $161,368. It should be noted, however, that Wayland's Cherry Sheet reimbursement from the State was increased by $97,619.98 by virtue of Wayland's membership in the Minuteman region.

As an item of interest, it should be noted that the budget was arrived at by the Minuteman Regional Vocational-Technical School Committee working closely with the Minuteman Regional Finance Committee. The latter committee consists of a representative from each of the Finance Committees in each of the towns in the region. This concept proved so successful that there is a bill before the State legislature to require the formation of such committees in all Vo-Tech regions. Wayland's representative on the Minuteman Regional Finance Committee has been Mr. Palmer D. True.

MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC POWER COMMITTEE

The Municipal Electric Power Committee has been studying the easibility of establishing a Municipal Electric Light Department to rovide electric utility service to residents. We had already pre- iously determined that the forty existing Municipal Light Depart- ients offer substantial benefits to their customers, approximating 0% savings. We have continued to gather and study data.

We are currently waiting for two events, either one of which will ropel us forward toward conclusions. They are the appraisal of oston Edison property in Wayland and the enactment of Senate 18. /hile we wait, certain advances are being made which have favorable mplications for municipal electricity. We intend to keep track of iese, and also to fill an advisory role on various other utility matters rising from time to time.

The utility appraisal is being conducted by a contractor for the oard of Assessors, as approved by Town Meeting last year, in onjunction with town-wide revaluation. The taxable fair market value s clearly higher than the present assessment which is based on dison's original cost minus depreciation. When the fair market alue is competently determined, we will have appropriate numbers o use in our cost-of-acquisition study.

Senate 18 was filed at the State House by our Swampscott counter- arts. At present, under M.G.L. Ch. 164 s43, private utilities have ie right to refuse to sell to a town electing to municipalize, thus rcing the town to erect its own parallel system if it wishes to pro- eed. This law, in effect since 1929, causes uncertainties which ave successfully deterred municipal power development throughout lassachusetts. These uncertainties are acknowledged by study com- ittees like ours in Brookline, Framingham, Sudbury, Swampscott nd Winthrop. Senate 18 ends this difficult situation, affirming our ight to take by eminent domain, as already established in forty other tates. At this writing, Senate 18 has advanced to Third Reading, ut its future status is unknown.

One of the recent advances we have noted is greater municipal cess to power wheeling and pooling facilities, as a result of legal ctories. Another is improved feasibility of local generation, rough development of recycling trash technology and small-plant fficiency enhancements, while nuclear technology is running into ouble. Finally, the present utility "crunch" seems to be causing idespread consideration of consumer ownership. On May 30, the own of Massena, N.Y., elected to municipalize at a projected avings of 38%. Ralph Nader's research group in Massachusetts is focussing on a state power authority. The cost of private capital has soared in relation to municipal bonds, with many larger utilities having difficulties raising capital at all, increasing the likelihood that public and private utilities will have to proceed jointly and cooperatively in future construction programs.

This Committee reaffirms its belief that municipal electric power is an increasingly worthwhile project for further study and action. We look forward to substantial progress in the year ahead, and offer our assistance in general on utility matters of concern to the Town.

PARK-RECREATION-CEMETERY

The Commission would like to extend thanks to the people in our)epartment who combine to make our teamwork productive, efficient, nd hopefully enjoyable.

The Commissioners also thank other Town departments, clubs and host of individuals for their invaluable assistance. We also have a pecial thank you for the many volunteers whose many hours, and vhose creativity make our recreation program so successful.

On May 17, 1973 Dominic Anzivino, Jr. resigned from the Com- nission and his fellow commissioners thank him for the time and ervice he has contributed to our Town. Dominic had been a Com- nissioner since March, 1969.

William C. Brooks was appointed on July 9, 1973 to fill the vacancy eft by Dominic's withdrawal and, subsequently, elected to a full term f three years.

The following statistical information is presented for your inspec- ion and generally gives a reasonable picture of your Commission.

In the 18 month year that was completed June 30, the Department as sold 37 cemetery lots and has had 98 burials.

Income was generated in the last 18 months as follows:

Beach	$ 7,091.77
Recreation	3,337.06
Cemetery	20,608.00

The percentage relationship between our budget and the total Town udget in the six years of our operation is as follows:

	Total Town Budget	Park, Recreation & Cemetery Budget	Percentage Relationship
1969	$ 5,674,070.00	$171,559.00	3.0%
1970	6,214,963.00	191,857.00	3.1%
1971	6,810,061.00	181,477.00	2.7%
1972	8,041,077.00	197,865.00	2.5%
1973-74	12,936,685.00 (18 mos.)	306,517.00	2.4%
1975	9,790,876.00	233,549.00	2.4%

Within our 1973-74, 18 month budget it is interesting to note the detail that makes up the total. The major categories that we would like to focus on with you are:

	Percentage
a. Personnel: Superintendent, General Foreman, Working Foreman, Five Permanent Maintenance Men & Five Temp. Men	46.4%
b. General Maintenance of all equipment and grounds for which we are responsible. This included, in the 18 month year, 4 trucks, 1 bronco, 1 front end loader, 10 mowers - various sizes, 1 tractor assortment of 20 small machines, leaf vacuum, sweepers, generators, trimmers, chain saws, sno-blowers and trailers, and 350 acres.	23.1%
c. All activities and expenditures geared to tree and moth supervision and control.	9.1%
d. Recreation. This would include all programs and equipment and supervision specifically geared to recreation.	21.4%

Hopefully this report will bring your Commission into sharper focus.

On September 15, 1973, Alex Foldeak was hired by our Town and the Commission feels strongly that this has been a positive step in the direction of raising the level of expertise and the level of professionalism required of our Department by our Town.

It is interesting perhaps to note that a significant amount of money .ppropriated in the 18 month budget, although properly appropriated, ıas been judiciously not expended and as of June 30 has been turned ›ack into the Town reserve account.

In closing, your Chairman would like to report to our Town that the Commissioners will, indeed, continue in their efforts to represent he will of the citizens of our Town. Our Town, hopefully, will continue o keep us alert to the level of effort required by its Commission.

Personnel Board Report

As of the regular Town Meeting in March 1974, collective bargaining negotiations were in progress between the Personnel Board and representatives of four separate bargaining units -- fire, police, highway and water. The fire and police units were represented by the International Association of Firefighters and the International Brotherhood of Police Officers, respectively. The highway and water units were represented by local associations. Park and Recreation employees have withdrawn from union representation, and clerical employees are covered by a collective bargaining contract which remains in effect until June 30, 1975.

Settlements negotiated in 1972 and 1973 included relatively modest general wage increases of 4% (March 1972-March 1973), and 5.5% (4.4% on an annual basis for the period March 1973 through June 30, 1974). The Personnel Board has hoped to be able to reach agreement for 1974 and 1975 to a 6% range. However, the impact of settlements in other towns and the increase in the cost of living for the Boston area rendered a settlement in this area unrealistic. It should be noted that under the Town's collective bargaining agreements and wage policies, step increases are only paid during the first three years of employment; consequently, many employees receive only the general increase and are not eligible for a step increase.

Following a number of meetings with each unit in which the employees vigorously expressed their need for increases of 10% and greater, agreement was reached with all four units. A 7.5% general increase was agreed upon with the fire, highway and water units.

In order to equate Highway Department wage rates with those in comparable jobs in other towns, most highway classifications were raised one salary grade. An agreement was reached with the Wayland Highway Association, however, which provided for the assignment of particular classifications and rates on a merit basis. As a result of this adjustment in classifications, some employees did receive in excess of the 7.5% general increase.

In addition to the wage settlement, all three units received improved medical and life insurance coverage under a new plan which will be applicable to all Town employees, including those in the School Department. The cost of medical and life insurance will continue to be shared by the Town and employees on a 50/50 basis. With respect to the fire and highway units, sick leave benefits were amended to provide that in the event of death or retirement, an employee or his estate would receive 25% of unused sick leave to a maximum of $1,250. No severance pay provision was included in the contract with the Water Department employees association, but annual sick days for employees in that unit were increased from 12 to 15.

In addition to the concern for inflation which affected all negotiations, he negotiations with the police unit were complicated by a demand that .n educational incentive allowance be included. Almost every town in he immediate vicinity has some type of educational incentive plan, nost of which are based upon the statewide "Quinn Bill." An article ;ubmitted to the regular Town Meeting in 1974 by representatives of he police unit which proposed adoption of an educational incentive)lan was withdrawn following a representation that a Town plan would)e negotiated. Ultimately the parties did agree to a Town plan which .pproximates one-half of the Quinn Bill. Following tentative agree- nent on the educational incentive issue, the parties were unable to ·esolve the issue of a general wage increase. The police, emphasiz- ng the salary paid in Weston and some other surrounding towns such .s Natick and Framingham which the Personnel Board deemed to be nappropriate comparisons, were seeking an increase of substantially nore than the 7.5% increase agreed upon with the other units. (The)riginal demand was 18% for one year.) It appeared that the dispute vould be submitted to the fact finding and compulsory arbitration)rocesses. During mediation, however, the parties ultimately settled or a general wage increase of 8%. Only one police officer is eligible or a step increase in addition to the general wage increase.

Negotiations during the year were conducted by the entire five nembers of the Personnel Board, although not all members of the Board were present at every meeting. The number of meetings with he various units and the additional preparatory work posed a substan- ial burden on Board members. It has been decided to defer a deci- ;ion as to whether the Town should hire a full time personnel officer)r retain a professional negotiator. In the meantime, the Personnel Board in an effort to use its resources more efficiently has assigned ;ach member to a particular bargaining unit. That member will .ssume responsibility for negotiations for the particular unit. The Board is considering obtaining associate members to assist in the ndividual negotiations. This method will enable each member to :oncentrate on a particular unit. The Board would meet as a group ;t regular intervals to coordinate bargaining positions.

THE WAYLAND PLANNING BOARD

Highlights

From January 1973 through June 1974 the Planning Board devoted its time to a number of projects. Paramount among these were the preparation of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws to permit planned developments in Town under tightly controlled conditions and our review of the project of that nature proposed for a portion of Mainstone Farm.

Other Town Meeting articles sponsored by the Planning Board included extension of the power of the Board of Appeals to require environmental information from applicants before them and review by the Board of Appeals of the need in Town for additional restaurants. Restaurants of the "drive-in" type were prohibited.

We reviewed our existing subdivision regulations and began preparation of regulations for planned developments. In conjunction with the Conservation Commission, we were concerned with the Town's acquisition of the final portion of the Scholz property between Three Ponds Road and Squirrel Hill Road, south of Glezen Lane.

Planned Development By-Law Amendment

The Planning Board spent over 14 months researching and writing this zoning change. Every effort was made to solicit the advice and to include the recommendations of other Town boards, officials, the Wayland League of Women Voters, and other residents. The response was both gratifying and helpful in the final drafting effort. At least a dozen meetings and public hearings were held and residents were asked to comment on two drafts. Town Counsel, C. Peter R. Gossels, translated these drafts into a legal document.

As a result of this cooperative effort plus advice from consultants, Planning Services Group, Inc., Norman Abend and Elizabeth Kline, the Planning Board produced a By-Law Amendment which it feels fulfills the Town's major objectives (as determined from the Planning Board questionnaire): 1. to provide an alternative type of housing 2. to protect environmental features such as ponds, streams, historical sites, etc. 3. to preserve open space 4. to stabilize the tax rate.

This By-Law change was approved at Town Meeting by a vote of 508 to 35. Following this approval voters passed an article which permits a few neighborhood stores within a planned development.

Mainstone Proposal

A proposal in 1972 by Devens Hamlen to construct condominium units on a portion of Mainstone Farm, zoned to permit single family houses on 1 1/2 acre lots, stimulated the Planning Board to explore the possibility of having a form of housing other than single family houses in Town. This type of land development presented potential advantages to the Town in preserving open spaces, providing housing in Town for people who wished to give up large houses but wished to remain in Town, and appeared to have financial advantages as well.

Such a major departure from the historical pattern of land development in Wayland, however, indicated the need for careful analysis of potential impacts upon the Town both from the proposed Mainstone Farm Project and from other projects which might arise in the future. We solicited opinions and suggestions from the Town as a whole and from the other boards in Town. Overten meetings, five walking tours and several public hearings were held during 1973. Copies of the Preliminary Development Plan filed by Devens Hamlen were given to all Town boards, filed with the Town Clerk, and deposited at both libraries for public review and comment.

We studied potential economic, social, political and environmental impacts of the Mainstone proposal. We concluded that condominium development was preferrable to single-family subdivision. At the March, 1974 Town Meeting the townspeople agreed unanimously with this recommendation.

Devens Hamlen is now preparing a detailed plan for implementation of the project for submission to the Planning Board and the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Other Town Meeting Articles

The Planning Board submitted two additional Zoning By-Laws changes at the 1973 Annual Town Meeting. The first enables the Zoning Board of Appeals to make explicit environmental impact assessment of commercial site plans especially as regards traffic and septic accommodation. The second requires the ZBA to make a determination that a clear need exists for restaurants prior to granting permits; this procedure is similar to that in effect for automobile service stations. Both changes were adopted.

Subdivisions

During the past 18 months, subdivision activity has been limited. This reflects the long term trend of increasing costs of building and of land. In addition, high interest rates on mortgages defers development of already approved lots.

Over the last five years, the number of subdivision plans handled has gone down more or less steadily and is reflected in the following statistics:

Year	Lots Approved	New Roads
1974 (6 mos.)	6	1,800 ft.
1972	30	2,900 ft.
1970	17	2,350 ft.

Within the last year, a prior approved subdivision of Garden Path consisting of 10 lots and 900 feet of roads, started under construction. In addition, the Planning Board continued to monitor construction on Reeves Hill -- along Deer Run, Bridle Path, and Poet's Path. Subdivision plans for the Scholz property were considerably reduced in scope by the recent acquisition of the majority of that site for conservation purposes. A smaller portion of it along Glezen Lane and Draper Road is under consideration as a subdivision. Twelve subdivision approval-not-required plans were received.

Land Use Study

During the fall of 1972 Martha Taub enrolled in a class of the Radcliffe Institute. The class project during the spring semester was an open space and town centers study of Wayland. Approximately twenty students inventoried, on maps, the water bodies and wetlands, slopes, vegetation, soils, scenic views, transportation network, historical development, landuse, recreational lands, conservation lands, and town centers. Information from these maps, existing reports, studies, and conversations were analyzed to determine which lands were most and least suitable (from a land-use viewpoint) for development or for open space protection.

At the conclusion of the study, the Radcliffe Institute group presented its findings and recommendations to the Town. They also submitted a written report (available at the Town Building) and more than 15 large maps at a scale of 1" = 500' (on display in the Planning Board Room).

Looking Ahead

Most Planning Board reports since 1929 indicated their concern and need for long-range planning. We have the same feelings, but now realize that little time is available to take planning initiatives without the services of someone with professional background in planning to assist the Planning Board. Therefore, Elizabeth Kline has been asked to continue her work on a part-time basis.

Our future plans include:

1) revision of the cluster zone
2) promulgation of Planned Development Regulations
3) revision of the Subdivision Regulations
4) work to alleviate major problems in the commercial areas
5) evaluation of the Mainstone Farm Development Plan
6) work on changes in the Zoning By-Laws

Membership and Representation

During the year Allen Morgan reluctantly resigned from the Planning Board because of other commitments. He had served since 1960. Along with his many talents he brought to the Board the experience of living a lifetime in Wayland. A professional conservationist, he pioneered in the integration of conservation with land-use planning. His early efforts resulted in the creation of Wayland's Conservation Commission in 1961. More recently his efforts crystallized in the Master Plan for Conservation and in the Watershed Protection District.

In the last elections James White was elected to complete Allen Morgan's term. Sally Peters and Hugh Morton were reelected to 5 year terms.

The Planning Board is represented on various committees by the following people:

Kenneth Moon	Conservation Commission
James R. Hopkins	School Building Planning Committee
Sara I. Peters	Town Office Space Study Group
Bert Cohen	Sidewalk Committee
William R. Domey	Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee
Martha C. Taub	Regional Transportation Needs Study Committee

In Memory

The Planning Board takes this opportunity to pay its last respects to L. William Bertelsen. Bill came to the Board in 1953, a time of rapidly rising development pressure, and brought professionalism to the Board when it was needed most. Through the years he gave a lot of himself to Wayland, and we who take pride in our Town, owe Bill our gratitude.

If he were to be memoralized for one of his achievements it would be for Wayland's Flood Plain Zoning. Recognizing the need to protect us from the Sudbury River and it from us, he led the Town into adopting his zoning by-law which was the first of its kind in the Commonwealth and still stands as a model throughout New England.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

It has been a distinct pleasure for me to be a part of the Town of Wayland serving in the capacity as your Police Chief. I have enjoyed working with the Board of Selectmen and the many other committees striving to make Wayland a better place to live for its residents for the year 1973 and look forward to many more progressive years.

We have accomplished many new innovations during the 1973-74 period and with the assistance of a federal grant have attempted to provide the best professional police force at the lowest cost to the citizens of Wayland. Some of our accomplishments are as follows:

1. Two civilian dispatchers have been hired to handle the desk, and in doing so we now have two patrolmen available for patrol duties. It is my contention that having police officers handle routine work that can be handled by trained civilians at a lesser cost, is only depriving the Town of the needed protection that they so deserve and costing them much more in the end.

2. We now have two college interns from Wayland working for the department. Their job entails many avenues and covers all phases of police work. It is our feeling that these young men and women will become police officers in future years. These interns which make up this intern program receive actual experience in police work and hopefully will be a reservoir for recruitment in the future years.

3. In an effort to upgrade the professionalization of the Wayland Police Department we have sent many of the officers of this Department to specialized training schools and in some cases have brought in outside agencies to conduct schools within the Town of Wayland. It is our desire to insure that the officers of the Wayland Police Department receive the very best in training and education. By this process we will, as promised, make the Wayland Police Department one of the most progressive in the State of Massachusetts. We have evaluated the educational needs and will try to achieve them in 1974. The schools, seminars, and conferences attended by officers of this Department are as follows:

   A. Emergency Medical Technician, 80 hours of training including hospital emergency room.
      1. Ptl. Cook

I. A substantial number of men are attending college. Three men have their degrees at present. It is hoped that with their education and experience we will have a more proficient officer.

J. We have received a grant of $2,900 from highway safety to purchase a video tape recording unit. Its intended

J. uses are in education, training, and highway safety. It is our intention, through the VTR unit, to make Wayland a much safer community.

K. A new patrol unit has been added to the Department ensuring additional coverage during peak hours. We are going to assess the use of intermediate sized cars with full-size. Three Torinos and two Custom Fords have been purchased. In addition, we have changed the color scheme and added our phone number - 358-4721 in hopes of altering the citizens. It is only with your cooperation that we can be successful in our day-to-day operations. Please call.

Suggestions from the public are most welcome. It is the desire of our Department to be known as the most progressive and proficient law enforcement agency in the State of Massachusetts. We thank you for your support and cooperation in achieving some of our objectives in 1973-74.

WILLIAM BLAKE, Chief of Police

REPORT OF THE YOUTH OFFICER

The past year has been an eventful one for the Youth Division. Most of the efforts have been rewarded with more support from individuals in the community, less juvenile crime, and more understanding of the police mission.

Safety continued to be an important educational subject at the elementary school level. Working with Mr. Robert Anastas toward the goal of improving safety attitudes of youngsters was the major consideration. Although some classes were handled individually on a request basis from teachers, most of the effort was channelled toward large group contact with outdoor sessions. The emphasis is focused on busing, walking, and biking. The Wayland Fire Department also played a large part in the success of the safety crusades. As there have been a large number of kids setting fires in the woods and pulling fire alarm boxes, it was felt that continual emphasis be directed toward the dangers and expense of such acts. Safety folders and pamphlets have been handed out to reinforce the lectures and demonstrations. An effective demonstration of the foolhardiness of challenging a car on the road was the skidding of a police cruiser on dry pavement using traffic cones to represent children playing in the street. (The demonstration is done in the spring just prior to cars being turned in!) Reaction time and consequent locking of brakes causing a skid toward the "children" actively portrays real-life dangers of being in the street without having responsibility or concern for drivers.

Bicycle registration was also an important aspect of the Youth Division programming. Assistance from Scout groups, individuals, and Camp Fire Girls was most appreciated. Nearly 3,000 bikes have been registered by these people in the past two years. With new legislation affecting the way people ride bikes, it is felt that a good registration system will have to take place. Bicycle theft also has increased causing a need for adequate registration.

The Traffic Crossing Supervisors have done an excellent job on their new posts. As this is the first year of permanent posts, there was some thought given to each woman getting to know the children on her respective post. It seems to have worked much better than the old system of rotation. Many of the women were most helpful in safety programs and reinforced safety procedures at their respective posts.

The Wayland Junior High continued to be the major area of effort expended in providing the youth of Wayland with information about their responsibilities and legal rights. With the superior cooperation of the Social Studies Department under the direction of Miss Helen Timson a curriculum of law focused education was designed and presented to all eighth graders. As part of the integrated program, the minicourse on law was well received. The demonstrations of police equipment attracted the most attention.

The High School effort was largely in the area of meeting with teachers and individuals about specific issues. An excellent crime and law program is conducted by the Social Studies Department under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Brennan and assistance in providing field trips, speakers, and films was given at their request.

Other events which affected the Youth Division covered many areas. First of all I supported the change in the drinking law to 18 which was passed this term. Some towns have witnessed increased problems and accidents because of teenage drinking. Wayland, as well as many other towns, has had a decrease in accident rate since the law went into effect. Wayland's youths are to be complimented for their mature handling of the drinking problem. We are however, finding that there is an increase in drinking alcohol which can be compared to the drug issue of several years ago. This has little to do with the lowering of the age because kids have always been able to obtain liquor. It does reflect on the social acceptance of alcohol and the hassle of the drug cult. Although a great deal of marijuana still pervades the scene, there seems to be a general feeling of avoidance for other drugs, which of course is not to say there are none in the system.

Open drinking in public places is a problem which the Town will have to deal with eventually. An article intended to handle this issue failed to pass Town Meeting. Wayland is one of the few towns which does not have a law covering this nuisance. Trash and noise are the least of the problem.

After serving as State Treasurer of the Massachusetts Juvenile Officers Association for the past two years, I resigned to take a position on the Board of Governors and Legislative Committee.

Another article was published in THE POLICE CHIEF magazine this year by Ann Bogojavlensky, formerly chairperson of the Reading Department at the Junior High, and me. The article covered the "Crusade Against Shoplifting" which was part of the integrated program at the Junior High last year.

I ran a short program on safety for women at the Parmenter Health Center which met with enthusiasm. (Husbands suffered as wives practiced punches and pulls!) Evaluations indicated that other courses should be considered along the same lines.

In closing this report, I want to express my gratitude to the many fine people in the Town of Wayland who provide the many support services to my position, including brother officers, school personnel, Town officials and others. Perhaps one of the most important contacts for the Wayland Police is Detached Social Worker Neil Hickey. He has provided excellent service to the Department in serving as referral for difficult cases. He is an extremely valuable resource for me, especially because of his high standards and sense of values which provide direction for many of Wayland's youths.

Future direction of the Youth Division is to increase social contacts and helping agents. Education of safety and law will remain as important features.

THE WAYLAND PUBLIC CEREMONIES COMMITTEE

The transition from calendar year to fiscal year budgeting over the past eighteen months (1/1/73-6/30/74) presented no problems to our Committee, and we are happy to report that with two Memorial Day observances and mounting inflation pressures we were still able to stay well within budget.

We are grateful to Mr. Edward J. Connolly and Mr. William R. Withington for their services on this Committee and report with regret their resignations due to business reasons. We welcome Mr. Francis D. Kennedy and Mrs. Katherine W. Lyons appointed to fill their chairs.

Mrs. Lincoln serves as our representative on, and is a member of, the Bicentennial Committee appointed by the Selectmen following our 1972 Report to the Town.

Memorial Day 1973 (Monday, May 28): Wayland High School Band; clergy assisting were Reverends David K. Johnston, Dr. Quinton S. Ivy, Cornelius J. Hogan, and Frederick J. Hobbs; American Legion Chaplains Stanley L. Johnson and Ronald S. Campbell; Veterans of Foreign Wars Firing Squad; and Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Grammar School students-- Kevin Barney, Julie A. Gridlik, Adam Levy, and Bruce Wright.

Memorial Day 1974 (Monday, May 27): Wayland High School Band and Wayland Junior High School Band; clergy assisting were Reverends Cornelius J. Hogan, Frederick J. Hobbs, Thomas D. Howells, and Dr. Quinton S. Ivy; American Legion Chaplain Ronald S. Campbell; Veterans of Foreign Wars Firing Squad; and Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Grammar School students -- Sharon English, Mark D. Geffen, Gerard Keating, and Barbara Nelson.

The debut of the Wayland Junior High School Band in the 1974 Memorial Day Parade was an instant success and the Town should be justly proud that it now has two superior marching bands in its own school system. Fine Arts Director George V. Doren, Bandmaster David Faucher, and Superintendent of Schools William G. Zimmerman, Jr. have sparked the transition from tempo-changing players to professional quality musicians.

Our thanks go to the Wayland Auxiliary Police, who assist at every turn in the smooth movement of the parade; to the Wayland Police Department for their protection of, and participation in, the parade; to the Wayland Park and Recreation Department for their updated lists of deceased veterans and superior care of the cemeteries; to the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars for their decorating of the graves and Town Memorials and their participation in the parade; and to the youth groups and Town officials who add so much to the parade.

REGIONAL REFUSE DISPOSAL PLANNING COMMITTEE

A. Landfill for Solid-Waste Disposal

The draft report we received from our consulting engineers, Camp, Dresser & McKee, Inc., toward qualifying our site north of Boston Post Road, has been critically reviewed by the Committee. We must conclude this phase of our investigation so that operational plans and procedures may be developed.

The Road Commissioners advise that we have only three more years to go at the present landfill. We hope to obtain approval of the new site from the Board of Health this fiscal year and then seek the same from State authorities.

Access to the new site still remains to be negotiated with Sudbury, if possible. We hope for more - joint recycling and joint operation - but must also prepare to take care of meeting our own needs ourselves.

B. Facility for Septage Disposal

Considerable progress has been made in planning for this with Sudbury. We have received a technical report and recommendation from the engineering firm both towns agreed to retain, Roy F. Weston, Inc., and meanwhile developed operating guidelines and a proposed agreement.

Sudbury's officials were ready to request their Town Meeting to undertake action on an aerobic treatment facility, including a bio-disc unit, at an estimated cost of $560,000 (operational cost of $92,000 per year, including amortization), but we deferred doing so because we did not have the support of our Finance Committee. We plan to put the issue to Wayland's voters at our next opportunity, and we hope to have the support of all Town boards at that time.

The question is one of need, in both the short and long run. Wayland provides no place for the legal disposal of septic-tank pumpings, and yet the Town exists on septic tanks.

Contractors take our septage elsewhere to be dumped, and twice in the past six years they have been shut off from their out-of-town disposal sites. How much longer can we continue without providing for our own waste?

The need to do something was emphasized during the past 18 months by an analysis we cooperated with the Lake Cochituate Watershed Association in making of Snake Brook. The evidence reveals apparent leakage from neighboring septic systems, since the coliform counts in the Brook at mealtime jump markedly.

Sewers may be the answer to the condition in some areas, but we believe that the first step should be a septage disposal facility, which will aid most of the Town, narrow the scope of the remaining problem, and minimize expense.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS

The Highway Department is under the supervision of three unsalaried Road Commissioners who are elected, one each year, for a three year term. The Commissioners appoint a Highway Superintendent to take charge of the daily running of the Department.

With the exception of Route 20, the only state road maintained in Wayland, the Highway Department is responsible for the maintenance of all public ways, sidewalks, and storm drain systems in Town, as well as operation of the dump. The Department's main function is considered to be plowing and sanding during the winter and the size of the Department has been geared to these requirements.

In 1974 there were 17 employees in addition to the Superintendent and the Department clerk. This is a minimum number to meet our personnel needs as we are faced with a growing number of town-accepted roads, new sidewalk building, and the maintenance of existing sidewalks.

We now have approximately 100 miles of roads and over 10 miles of sidewalks or bike paths. The increasingly wet years have brought to the fore drainage problems which must be confronted now. A major new project for the coming year will be to trace and clear old drainage systems, construct new ones, and then institute an annual maintenance program to keep them clear and running. This will be interesting and challenging as we must acquire expertise in this field as well as work closely with the Board of Health and Conservation Commission.

Under the supervision of our relatively new Superintendent, Mr. Harry E. Williams, Jr., we see a rise in morale, responsibility and team spirit in our working force. The Department owns nearly $500,000 worth of equipment and it all requires careful maintenance and treatment while in use. We appreciate the care and personal concern the men have been showing over the past two years. Our new Annual Spring Open House has attracted good crowds of fascinated townspeople of all ages to inspect our equipment and "sit in the driver's seat". The large grader and small sidewalk plows seem to be the most popular choices. This gives the men a chance to show off their equipment and the townspeople a chance to see where their tax dollars are going. We intend to continue this practice.

Complaints are being handled in what we hope is a more expeditious manner. We hope to answer adequately any legitimate request for assistance or accept any constructive criticism. While there is room for improvement, we have made progress.

Equipment requests have been considered carefully for versatility and longevity. For instance, the West Plain and Old Connecticut Path sidewalk was done at 70% of its estimated cost (despite blacktop price increases) because of two pieces of machinery we were permitted to buy. We will continue to try to contain costs by such positive actions.

However, we are faced with sharp increases in material prices. Bid prices for the next year are not firm, but are keyed to inflationary increases. Many of our supplies are petroleum-based so we face shortages, uncertain delivery dates, and unpredictable costs. To remain within our budget for the next year we may be forced to cut our services and maintenance programs much against our own wishes. As it costs more to run the family car, so it costs more to run the Town machines. A truck plowing snow or distributing sand has a rate of about four (4) miles per gallon.

One of our bright spots has been marked improvement in our relations with the other Town boards. One way or another we work during the year with the Selectmen, Conservation Com., Finance Com., Personnel Board, Planning Board, Board of Health, Water Dept., Fire and Police Departments, Park and Recreation, and the School Department. We also serve on subcommittees such as the Sidewalk Com., Waste Refuse Disposal Com., and the new Transportation Council. Attendance at these many meetings fosters a cooperative spirit which serves to cut some of the red tape and result in faster, better service for the citizens.

Over the last year we have been instrumental in obtaining agreement from many of the Town boards to exert every effort to make the present landfill last another three years. This will use existing space more economically and allow time to plan properly for the eventual move to the site off River Road. General agreement was required because we needed additional funds to improve conditions at the present site to meet Board of Health regulations. We also have plans to improve the appearance within the landfill and to conceal most of it from the road by the addition of a windrow with wood chips and plantings.

In summary, we feel that we are making progress at a difficult time and with limited means. We appreciate the understanding and support we have received from the other boards. We are grateful to the men in our Department for their part in our past improvement and their interest in our future plans. We hope the citizens will realize the difficulty of our job, the sincerity of our desire to be of service, and the fact that inflation may force us to delay some of our plans.

REPORT OF THE
SCHOOL BUILDING PLANNING COMMITTEE

During the period January 1973 - June 1974, the school construction project at the high school was completed and preliminary planning for a project at the Happy Hollow School was commenced.

New Junior High School

Final construction details, so-called punch list items, at the new Junior High School were completed. The new school had opened in the fall of 1972. Pathways and landscaping at the school were substantially completed during this period.

High School Addition and Remodeling

Although delays continued to plague the project, the new media center building and the remodeling in the high school were completed during this period. Occupancy of the new media center began in the early spring of 1973.

Old Junior High School Building

As noted in the 1972 Town Report, the 1969 decision to remodel the old junior high school building into an elementary school for kindergarten through sixth grade was restudied. Upon completion of the study, the Committee recommended that the concept of remodelling the old junior high school into an elementary school, funds for which had been appropriated at a Special Town Meeting in November, 1969, be abandoned. This conclusion was reported to the voters at the 1973 Annual Town Meeting. At the same meeting the voters endorsed the expenditure of up to $25,000 of Committee funds for the study of elementary school needs.

Elementary Schools

The Committee studied all of the elementary schools in 1973 and concluded that, although significant additions of classroom space were not needed, there were deficiencies, particularly in the core facilities of the Loker and Happy Hollow Schools. Because the needs were found to be substantially greater at the Happy Hollow School, the following proposal was developed for presentation at the 1974 Annual Town Meeting. The Committee's proposal for the Cochituate School presented at the same meeting is also described.

Happy Hollow Project

At the 1974 Annual Town Meeting the Committee presented a $950,000 proposal for construction and remodeling work at Happy Hollow School, principally for the purpose of solving core-facility deficiencies, but also to provide for modest additions to classroom space, including addition of kindergartens. The proposal was approved and the architects who had assisted with the preliminary planning were retained by the Committee to design the project and develop working drawings in preparation for putting the project out to bid during the summer of 1974.

Cochituate School

Although the future of the Cochituate School is uncertain, the School Building Planning Committee proposed that the sum of $45,000 be appropriated principally to upgrade the lighting, meet critical maintenance needs, and paint portions of the school. The proposal was approved by the Town and work was commenced to be completed prior to the opening of school in the fall of 1974.

Committee Changes

During the period the Committee accepted with deep regret the resignations of Chairman Robert Mainer, Theodore C. Rhodes and William R. Domey. All served with dedication and great concern for the Town's interests for which the Town is indebted to them. Special thanks are due to Bob who served tirelessly and with exceptional skill as the Committee's chairman from its establishment in 1969 until his resignation. We miss them all.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE REPORT

"Wayland High School provides an environment in which students can develop the skills and acquire the knowledge they need to function effectively in our rapidly changing society. We strive to provide the opportunities for individuals to make decisions and we encourage them to satisfy their needs responsibly and effectively.

We appreciate the students for their differences and encourage them to view their individuality as a potential asset to the community. We offer a wide range of educational options for our diverse student body.

We believe that we can and ought to provide the environment that promotes the growth of students socially and emotionally as well as intellectually and physically. We believe that with the guidance we are able to provide, our students can be expected to exercise freedoms and responsibilities and to gain clearer insights into themselves, their abilities, limitations, potentials, and interests."

Wayland High School Statement of Philosophy-1974

During the year ending December 31, 1974, the School Committee made significant strides in public information, program definition and cost control. It was generally a year of consolidation and implementation; a year that sets the stage for rigorous evaluation of programs, educational structure and personnel.

During the Spring, the Committee considered reports of each academic department, with emphasis on strengths and weaknesses, and future goals. For the first time, these departments codified their offerings in a single document, which will serve as reference as well as guide for curriculum coordination and for future development. This year also saw the report of the Committee on Goals for Wayland Schools which was adopted, after a series of public meetings. The goals, as modified and adopted, will serve as a standard against which to measure our programs and will stimulate very extensive program evaluation; a need perceived by the Committee as well as many in the Town. Along the same line, the Committee heard this fall from Committee on Philosophy and Objectives for the upcoming High School Accreditation visit and was entirely supportive of their goal statement, which prefaces this report.

The School Committee continues to feel the importance of communication with the Town. With that end in mind, the Committee publishes its newsletters, maintains the increasingly used information phone and, in the fall, visited each school for informal discussions with PTO groups. Town involvement with education is essential to good education, and Wayland's schools benefit from such dialogue, and from contacts with volunteers in the schools and specialized Town interests such as those parents particularly interested in Metco, Capa, Boosters, etc.

The wide reaching special education bill, Chapter 766, Acts of 1972, was implemented as planned and budgeted. A very extensive preparatory program was very well carried out and the spirit of the law, strongly supported in Wayland, is being met within budget limitations. The implications of this legislation are broad and will have very far reaching effects on education in Massachusetts. After extensive preparation, the Metco program, in a similar way, was expanded as planned. That expansion will be complete next year with Metco students in every school. Kindergartens were moved from the Old Jr. High School into Loker, Claypit and Cochituate and next year, with the completion of the Happy Hollow building program, each class will be in its own school.

The area of effective budget control, long a concern of the Committee and administration, is finally within reach. This is a major virtue of the program budget process with which we have been working for 3 years. The Committee now has tools to control the budget it develops and that is extremely important to the Town.

A final word about the budgeting process is especially appropriate this year. Education to the standard of the Town of Wayland is expensive. The Committee is increasingly trying to define educational goals, to develop standards against which to measure the success of programs to support these goals, and to evaluate those programs to make sure that they are fiscally efficient. The Committee recognizes, further, that this process will be carried out against an economic background that dictates a close appraisal of the level of services offered and that may require reductions of programs and changes in level and allocation of supporting resources. Very hard choices will be required amongst competing educational needs. Therefore, the budget format and budget building procedure are designed to encourage the participation of the Town in that process, and that interest is here, again, earnestly solicited by your Committee.

Mr. W. H. Irvine, Vice Chairman

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

This is the seventy-seventh Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Wayland Public Schools and my third such report to the Town. The report covers the 1973/74 and the 1974/75 academic years.

I. ENROLLMENTS AND STAFF

Enrollments have continued to decline at a fairly consistent rate of about 100-125 pupils per year. The present enrollment (Oct. 1, 1974) of 3648 is down from the peak enrollment of 4002 on Oct. 1, of 1972. The enrollment declines have progressed through the elementary grades and are now beginning to affect the secondary school enrollments. It is anticipated that the enrollments will continue to decline for the next three to five years, but at a slower rate. After a few years of leveling off, it is anticipated that enrollments in the early to mid 1980's will begin to increase again. There are so many variables which can affect the Town's population that the school enrollment pattern may well fluctuate several times during the next decade.

Since 1971, a total of 41 positions have been discontinued, reflecting the enrollment decline and certain program curtailments. During this same period, however, several new staff positions were added at the junior high as a function of deferred program expansion which had to await the completion of the new school and at the high school for some of the same reasons as well as to accommodate a still-expanding student population. Also, the new special education law (Ch. #766) necessitated the addition of several positions throughout the system. This offset of position reductions at the elementary level by position additions at the secondary levels and for special education programs will not pertain next year. In 1974/75, a net staff reduction of 15½ positions is planned. These staff reductions have presented some difficult problems. The nation-wide teacher surplus, staff reductions, and "no new hire" practices have created a tense and anxiety-laden condition among school staffs. There are a number of concommitant problems which the Town itself needs to recognize. The extreme scarcity of open positions, anywhere, has resulted in an almost static condition among school staffs. Fewer people leave voluntarily; a higher percentage of the total staff is on tenure and on maximum steps of the salary schedule; reductions take place among the younger, non-tenured staff.

Following are enrollment and staff data:

II. CURRICULUM

Kindergarten.--During the 1973/74 academic year, the Happy Hollow and Cochituate kindergartens were housed in the "Old Junior High School". In 1974/75, the Cochituate School housed its own kindergarten program due to the timely completion of the renovation program in that building. The Happy Hollow kindergartens are housed, temporarily, in the Claypit Hill School but will be housed in the Happy Hollow School in 1975/76 with the completion of the addition and alterations to that building.

Elementary.-- Wayland has taken a moderate approach to implementing the "open classroom" program. We established some modified open classrooms in schools and at grade levels where there were staff members willing and able to use this methodology and classroom organizational pattern effectively. We have also established several multi-age or cross-graded classrooms which have been set up under the same conditions. This allows an opportunity to choose, somewhat, among alternative patterns.

During the past few years, there has been a renewed emphasis placed on basic skills instruction and drill, particularly in reading and mathematics. A number of staff members have attended workshops and in-service training programs in: grammar and writing instruction; conversion to the metric system, and the like. The implementation of the new social studies program has been essentially completed. The science program is now quite well established in all of the schools with an emphasis on student involvement in "hands on" science activities.

The Health and Safety Education Program has proved most effective in all four elementary schools.

Resource centers have been established in all schools to provide special programs and services for pupils with special learning needs.

The basic staffing pattern is two professional teachers of special education and one aide.

The METCO program has been very successfully expanded into three of the elementary schools and will be introduced in the Happy Hollow School in 1975/76 upon completion of the building program.

Junior High.--The new junior high school building has proved to be a tremendous asset for the improvement of the junior high curriculum and the general environment for pupils and staff. This year we have been able to provide junior high pupils with experiences in Computer-assisted instruction, training in rudiments and basic applications of computer language and programming. The last year and a half has seen more emphasis on skill development in the Reading program, work in law education in social sciences, more emphasis on writing skills in English, tremendously increased use of our new laboratory facilities in science, the use of recording equipment to make the music program more understandable to pre-adolescents, the increased emphasis on gymnastics and physical fitness in physical education. The extensive facilities and equipment in art, home economics, and industrial arts, the implementation of a highly successful group counseling program by the Guidance Department, the extended use of the Media Center --- all of which have contributed toward making the Wayland Junior High School program most challenging intellectually and exciting for thejunior high students.

The Junior High took in its first group of 10 METCO pupils this past year. 1973/74 also saw a highly successful integration of the special needs students into the mainstream operations of the school.

Next year, the school plans to offer a combined arts program in Art, Industrial Arts, and Home Economics. This furthers the concept of these subjects as survey-exploratory studies for the early adolescent, junior-high aged child. Moreover, this enables all pupils, both boys and girls, to have equal access to these curricular areas which have traditionally been segregated by sex -- boys in Industrial Arts and girls in Home Economics.

High School.--With the essential completion in early 1974 of the new Media Center and the renovations to the Arts and the Commons buildings, the high school program was able to be housed adequately, without overcrowding, for the first time in several years.

The scheduling of the high school has been changed to a procedure similar to that used by most colleges. The student is able to select his course, instructor, schedule, etc. (subject to necessary approvals and subsequent modifications). Several programs in the Department of Occupational Education were combined this year in keeping with the intent of the new special education law (Ch. #766). In order to bring a total program of comprehensive services to bear on pupils with special needs, the Plan I, Special Class, Perceptual, Tutorial, Work Study and Independent Study units have been merged into a single Instructional Resource Center.

The English Department has made significant changes in strengthening the writing skills components at the sophomore level, establishing junior and senior electives in developmental reading and "writing workshops", and the like. Continual development and refinement of curriculum has been made in most of the subject offerings as part of a continuing program of curriculum development.

The open campus arrangement for seniors has proved most effective and we are proud of the responsible manner in which our young people, with few exceptions, have comported themselves. Better utilization of this campus-plan high school facility has been made these past few years with the opening up of the new Media Center (extended library) and the development of a more functional "commons" (cafeteria-lounge area). There are problems relative to the security of the library books and materials which will have to be resolved soon.

The students continue to perform very well, with over 75% continuing their formal education after graduation. The percentage would be even higher were it not for the fact that a number of young people today defer entering college for a year or so. Our Work-Study and improved occupational education programs have both increased the holding power of the school (approximately 2% drop out rate) and enabled more of the young people to secure jobs upon graduation.

During the 1973/74 and present school years, the administration and staff of the High School have worked arduously on the self-assessment of the school program. This is part of the evaluation process leading to re-accreditation of the High School, done each ten-year period by the New England Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The performance of our young people and their coaches and advisors in the co-curricular program of the school has been extraordinary in all respects. There have been so many outstanding and memorable performances in drama, music, art, and the athletic programs that to single out any one would do a dis-service to all. However, the number of pupils who have been placed in sectional and all-state festivals as well as the number of league, state, and New England championships brought back by Wayland High are far out of proportion both for any one school and for a school of this size.

The overall positive attitude and general state of high morale among pupils and staff at the High School is a most rewarding one to observe.

System-wide Programs.--During 1973/74, a number of steps were taken to prepare for the implementation in September of 1974 of the new omnibus special education statute (Ch. #766), including: addition of several new positions and re-alignment of others; re-organization, K-12, of the special education program into "resource centers" in each school; in-service training programs for staff; purchase of new materials and equipment; development of procedures and administrative regulations, and the like. As of February of 1975, a total of 498 pupils are being served by the program, 363 in the resource rooms.

The very tedious and time-consuming "core-evaluation" process has, thus far, resulted in 25 core evaluations completed, 40 in process, and 41 "intermediate core evaluations" either in process or completed. This has proved to be a significant effort to meet the spirit of the new law at a reasonable cost to the Town.

Guidance services in the schools continue to be expanded in an effort to reach more pupils but without increasing the staff. This is being accomplished primarily through group counseling and mini-instructional programs (such as group counseling in such areas as: study skills; homework; college application procedures; preparation for taking the College Boards; job opportunities after high school; Freshman Orientation, and the like).

The Health Education program, now in its fourth year, encompasses all grade levels. The major components of the program include: emotional development; physical development and Human Physiology; consumer and environmental health; Safety Education. Unlike so many school systems where this program has resulted in turmoil in the community, Wayland's program has been carefully planned and implemented. We have worked very closely with parents, teachers, and pupils every step of the way.

The METCO program finally was able to expand into the elementary and junior high grades as room became available. In 1974/75, the total grade 1-12 METCO enrollment was 80 pupils and in 1975/76 it is expected to be about 120 pupils, the maximum number approved by the School Committee.

A number of non-school services have been rendered the Town by the school such as: the continuing (adult-evening) education program, providing building space (Old Junior High) and bussing services for Senior Citizens; facilities and preparation for elections and Town Meetings; community use of the buildings; housing of the many Park and Recreation Department programs, and the like.

III. OPERATIONS SERVICES

During the past two years, there has been a significant amount of change in these areas. The maintenance program has been fully developed with the hiring of a Plant Engineer and the initiation of a five-year upgrading program, now in its third year. Extensive work has been done on all systems in the buildings. Some, like interior and exteriod painting, plumbing repairs, lighting upgrading, and the like are quite apparent. More costly and usually more critical work on heating plants, septic systems, roof systems, etc. are not so observable by the general public but are terribly important from the standpoint of keeping the buildings in proper repair and in a preventative-maintenance mode. Minimal work has been done on the Old Junior High School and on the Administration Building because of the uncertainty as to future use of those buildings. Because there is a likelihood that one of the buildings might be extensively reconditioned and the other abandoned, it has not made much sense to pour money, piecemeal fashion, into these buildings.

The cost of fuel oil and utilities (electricity, gas, telephone) have risen astronomically, due in large measure to the "energy crisis". While actual usage and consumption have been reduced throughout the system, these costs have still risen.

In 1974, we entered into a new three-year bus contract with Wellesley Motor Coach. It may be of interest to note that total bussing costs three years from now are projected to be less than they were back in 1971. This is due to the consolidation of routes, accomplished in 1972/73, purchase and use of three town-owned busses, and firm, prudent management of the bus program. Not everyone has received all the bus services desired, but the program is running very efficiently and economically.

IV. PRESENT DIRECTIONS

1. The Wayland Public Schools now has a very advanced systems approach to school governance---Planning, Programming, Budgeting System)PPBS). The budget has been cast in program format; there is a complete accounting system as well as an encumbrance system for operationalizing the budget; we have a comprehensive set of system-wide goals, developed by a citizen's committee; curriculum compendia, including specific program objectives are used as guides in the academic areas; work has begun on the evaluation process. It is important to complete the evaluation system and then to refine the entire PPBS system so that more of the staff can work with it effectively and the public can understand it more clearly.

2. Continued stress is being placed on the articulation and coordination of the curriculum, grades K-12, especially between major levels -- from grade 6 to Jr. High and from grade 8 to the High School. Concomitantly, increased emphasis is being given to swinging the pendulum back toward giving more time and effort to work in basic skills areas.

3. With the conclusion of the Happy Hollow Building program by September of 1975, the school buildings will all be relatively new or upgraded with the exception of the Cochituate School.

4. Assuming that system-wide enrollments will continue to decline, the administrative staff will be working on the School Committee's decision to discontinue use of the Cochituate School as an elementary school, probably in 1978. This will mean system-wide re-districting such that the youngsters who presently attend Cochituate School will be assigned to either Loker or Happy Hollow. This means, also, that some of the children presently attending Loker and Happy Hollow schools (especially those living near Route #20) will be assigned to the Claypit Hill School.

5. Within the schools, it is anticipated that there will be increased emphasis on staff training and, eventually, pupil and parent work, in human rights such that the schools will function more effectively as a learning model of sound human relationships and democratic governance.

6. There will be continued emphasis on open communication between the school and the community. The School Committee and Administration constantly urge principals and staff to open up all conceivable lines of communcation with the parents and the community at large. Newsletters, school visits, special programs, parent conferences, written communications, and the like, are examples of these attempts. In addition, the School Committee (from January, 1973 to January, 1975) held 38 regular and 13 special meetings with over 400 citizens in attendance and several budget hearings or meetings with over 300 citizens in attendance. The Committee and the Administration welcome, at any time, comments or concerns raised by the public and will do everything possible to respond to them.

V. CONCLUSION

During the past few years, the Wayland Public Schools have matured significantly as a cohesive, comprehensive school system. More options in curriculum and teaching styles have been opened up and made available to pupils and parents. The environment within the schools (especially at the secondary levels) has become much more pleasant and enjoyable for both pupils and staff. The management and operation of the school system is functioning at a relatively high level of effectiveness and efficiency.

The overall goal of the Administration has been and will continue to be to try to offer the most extensive program for meeting the educational needs of all the Town's pupils, in a highly efficient and cost-effective manner, under the general directions approved by the School Committee.

Wayland has an outstanding school system. Prudent management will help it remain an outstanding school system. However, careful surveillance must be given to providing adequate financial support. During these times of contraction of programs and services and of general economic recession, there is a danger that a Town will reduce its support to a level below that of prudent, economical management to one which could only result in the dismantling of the school system.

The schools have worked very diligently to establish a good working relationship with other Town departments. I wish to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all of those people in other Town Departments who have provided so much valuable and expert services to the schools. And finally, I wish to express my appreciation for the fine work of the staff of the schools, the many individuals and volunteer groups who have assisted the schools, and the untiring efforts of the School Committee to preserve and improve the public schools of the Town of Wayland.

Respectfully submitted,

William G. Zimmerman, Jr.,

THE SIDEWALK COMMITTEE REPORT FOR 1973-1974

Construction funds were voted, during the Town Meeting of March 1973, to build approximately 3,000 linear feet of walkway along Stonebridge Road, Old Connecticut Path, and West Plain Street. This work has been satisfactorily completed by the Highway Department.

Additional construction was voted at the March 1974 Town Meeting for a 2,300 linear foot concluding section of walkway along Old Connecticut Path and is expected to begin after June 30, 1974.

During the course of the past year, the Sidewalk Committee has held public hearings on several possible projects. Paramount among these is a walkway that would run along Route 126 from the Lincoln line to the Framingham line. Through the cooperative efforts with the Towns of Lincoln and Concord, it is possible that a walkway may be realized that will be continuous between the Lake Cochituate Recreational Area and the Concord Historic District. It is hoped that the project could be completed in time for use during the Bicentennial Celebration.

The Committee expects to submit appropriate articles to the next Town Meeting for approval of construction of Wayland's portion of this project. In the interim, this Committee is actively seeking to develop outside sources to support all or part of the expected construction costs.

In accordance with the previously adopted policy, the Committee will continue to hold public hearings with abutters of all proposed walkway projects.

THE SOUTH MIDDLESEX OPPORTUNITY COUNCIL, INC.

My last report to the Town was written a year and a half ago. I am glad to be able to say, again, that SMOC is still lively and well, and that the Board of Selectmen has again appointed me, until June 1975, as their (public sector) representative on the SMOC Board of Directors. I serve as secretary to the board as well.

Nancy Surner of Wayland has been elected recently to represent the low income sector, and Nancy McDonald, also of Wayland, serves on the board as a representative of United Peoples (private sector).

The most significant step taken by SMOC during the past year has been the opening of a 20-bed detoxification center for alcoholic abuse. Announcement of the opening is included at the end of this report so that any citizen in Wayland may have the information readily available.

Current programs operated by SMOC include Head Start (130 slots), Day Care (61 slots), Neighborhood Youth Corps (96 slots year-round; 450 for summer), Operation Mainstream (32 enrolled), Consumer Protection (approximately 88 cases per month), Alcoholic Rehabilitation (caseload of 433 more or less continuously), Alcoholic Detoxification (122 detoxed in first month of operation), and the Medfield-Norfolk-Foxboro Prison Program (32 men involved).

In addition, SMOC supports the activities of independent low-income community groups including: United Peoples, Marlboro Peoples Council, and the Spanish Community Center. It provides technical assistance to local agencies and community groups whenever requested.

All of these services are available to Wayland residents as well as to those of the eight other communities served by the Council. Offices are at 36 Concord Street in Framingham, and the staff welcomes visits or inquiries from any interested person. Brochures are available at the Town Office Building, and I will be glad to answer any questions.

It is a large satisfaction for me to work through the Board of Directors of this community agency, as your representative, for the common good as set forth in the scope of services and goals of the South Middlesex Opportunity Council, Inc.

THE SOUTH MIDDLESEX OPPORTUNITY COUNCIL

The South Middlesex Opportunity Council is a Community Action Agency funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity to serve low-income families and individuals in Framingham, Ashland, Bellingham, Holliston, Hopkinton, Marlboro, Natick, Southboro and Wayland.

The responsibility of the Agency is to:

1. Meaningfully involve low-income people in developing and carrying out anti-poverty programs.

2. Mobilize public and private resources in support of anti-poverty programs.

3. Coordinate efforts with other Agencies so as to avoid duplication and improve delivery of services.

4. Serve as an advocate for the poor on matters of public policy and programs which affect their status, promoting institutional improvements.

5. Support neighborhood level and community based organizations.

During the past year SMOC has continued to expand its programs to more effectively serve low-income residents in the nine-community area. Outlined below are the programs that SMOC has developed and presently operates:

A. A Head Start Program which provides 130 pre-school age children and their families with an educational experience, medical assistance and supportive social services.

B. A Day Care Program operating at two centers, one in Framingham, the other in Marlboro, for a total 61 low-income children 5 days per week, 52 weeks per year. This program is available to Wayland residents.

C. A Prison Resocialization Program providing job training, accredited education through Framingham State College, and resocialization opportunities for 30 inmates of Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Norfolk. The Program operates 5 days per week at Medfield and Foxboro State Hospitals.

D. A Neighborhood Youth Corps Program providing employment and supportive services to low-income teenagers. This past summer 9 Wayland youths were employed through this Program. In addition, Wayland teenagers are eligible for the In-School and Out-of-School programs.

E. A Consumer Protection Program operated in conjunction with the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, providing counseling, investigation, education and, if necessary, court action to insure the rights of consumers in the South Middlesex area. During this year over 1,000 area residents have been assisted and refunds and savings to consumers have totaled over $31,000.00.

F. A Manpower Program under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) which provides job counseling, job development and supportive services to the unemployed and underemployed area residents. In addition, SMOC conducts an Operation Mainstream Program which provides direct job placement and salary to unemployed area residents. This Program is available to Wayland residents.

G. An Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program providing counseling, access to detoxification and follow-up to individuals and their families. In addition, the Program provides alcohol education to area school systems. The Program also operates the Drinking Driver counseling program in conjunction with the South Middlesex District Court. The resources of the Rehab. Center are available to Wayland residents.

H. The Greater Framingham Detoxification Center provides a 20-bed alcoholic detoxification program for residents of the Greater Framingham, Greater Marlboro and Greater Newton area. The facility is open twenty four hours a day, seven days per week to provide pick up, intake, medical screening, detoxification, clinical evaluation, after care, and follow-up of the acutely intoxicated person.

During the next year SMOC will continue to operate these programs hile continuing its efforts in the areas of housing, health, manpower nd the support of local low-income groups.

REPORT OF THE SUBREGION INTERTOWN LIAISON COMMITTEE

Wayland continued its membership in SILC despite the organization's inactivity relative to that of several years ago when the threats of a mid-circumferential highway and the extension of Route I-290 were very much alive.

Lately SILC has been concerned with the Bicentennial Celebration and the role it might be able to play in coordinating the member towns' efforts.

Respectfully submitted,
BRUCE PUTNAM, Chairman
MATHIAS J. LEUPOLD

THE TOWN COUNSEL

1973 proved to be the most demanding year since my appointment as Town Counsel: 1195 1/4 hours of legal services were required to meet the needs of the Town. Although 1972 was almost as busy, last year nearly matched the years 1970 and 1971 combined.

So, where did all the time go? Four hundred fifty hours, or thirty-seven percent of the time was invested in litigation, compared to three hundred and thirty hours in 1972. If figures alone were to be considered, our effort appears to have done no more than retard the incoming tide, because the thirty-three cases pending at the end of 1973 exceeded our inventory of twenty-five on December 31, 1972.

We did, however, reach a satisfactory conclusion in six cases pending on December 31, 1972 and four cases that arose in 1973. Moreover, we had made so much progress in the cases pending at year's end that seven additional cases were disposed of before July 1, 1974, despite an increase in the inventory to thirty-four.

The Planning Board's need for help in drafting its Planned Development By-Law consumed 140 hours in 1973 and an additional 100 hours during the first six months of 1974.

The efforts of the Conservation Commission to finance, acquire and obtain reimbursement for expenses incurred in carrying out the most important phase of its Master Plan required approximately forty hours of legal services in 1973 and nearly thirty more during the first six months of 1974, but the time was well spent. The property was duly acquired and over $200,000 has been received by the Town from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the U.S. Department of the Interior and the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources, representing reimbursement of nearly 75% of the costs incurred.

These three hundred hours of service required by the Planned Development By-Law, the Conservation Master Plan and the increasing demands of litigation offset a welcome decrease of 19% in the time needed to service the rest of the Town's legal needs, as compared to 1972.

Unfortunately, this decrease may not forecast a trend. The School Committee employed the Town Counsel this year as its professional negotiator in collective bargaining with the Wayland Teachers' Association and the Personnel Board has expressed its desire for similar support this year. Since 138 hours of legal services were required to settle with the teachers this year, a budget based on three hundred hours of collective bargaining seems to be a reasonable projection for this year.

Sentimental memories of the simpler, cheaper life enjoyed (and often cursed) by our ancestors have yielded to the growing demand of citizens for a fair share of their community's resources and for the equal protection of its laws. These demands, which enjoy the increasing support of legislation and public funding, have led to litigation whenever they have come into conflict with the rights of other citizens or the community.

Litigation is, of course, expensive, but it is the price that we must pay for our liberty and for the support of our constitutional form of government.

The growing workload processed by this office during the past six years reflects Wayland's effort to find accommodation with this trend in our society and we appreciate the confidence of the Selectmen, the support of the Town's officers and officials and the regard of our fellow citizens who have helped to lighten our burden.

Respectfully submitted,
C. PETER R. GOSSELS, ESQ.

THE TOWN SURVEYOR

The most significant factor in accomplishing our different tasks was the addition of a third man to the Engineering Department. This allows us to be in two different places at one time as well as to accomplish some of the things that have gone undone in the past. It has also allowed us the time to update our Town Atlas which had previously been contracted out yearly to the Everett M. Brooks, Co., Civil Engineers.

The next most significant factor was the employment by the Town of Wayland of Harry Williams as Highway Superintendent. Through his efforts, the past 18 months have seen excellent cooperation between departments, and subsequently the accomplishment of jobs that might never have been started or completed. Fifty percent of our time last year was spent doing highway related projects which included:

West Plain Street and Old Conn. Path sidewalks
Castle Road construction
Plans for the Land Fill area
Drainage from Old Conn. Path to Pinebrook over the Pratt and YMCA properties
Drainage Draper Road
Meetings with State and County officials in relation to Five Paths
Plans for Morse Road
Elevations for drainage at Waltham and Lincoln Roads and the construction of the parking areas for the conservation land, among others.

Work for the Planning Board included help in the formation of the Planned Development Zoning By-Law, the revision of the Subdivision Rules and Regulations, the processing of approval-not-required plans, subdivision plans, and inspection of construction work on four active subdivisions.

Other boards and commissions worked for were the Selectmen, especially in the preparation of articles for Town Meeting concerning land; the Conservation Commission in surveys of their new land acquisitions; the Park and Recreation Commissioners with ballfield layouts and elevations for cemetery development, and the Library Building Planning Committee with a site plan for the proposed addition.

The bounding of the Town roads finally made progress with the setting of bounds on Claypit Hill Road, Park Lane and Algonquin Path. Six bounds establishing the Town boundaries between Wayland and Sudbury were set; one bound at the Wayland-Sudbury-Framingham corner was reset, and a traverse along the Wayland-Lincoln boundary was completed in order to straighten a bound at the Wayland-Sudbury-Lincoln-Concord corner and to replace a bound at the northeast corner of Wayland at the Lincoln line.

Thanks are again given to all those departments, boards, commissions, and committees who help to make this office and the Town function smoothly.

Respectfully submitted,
LEWIS L. BOWKER, JR.
Town Surveyor

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

Due to the required change to a fiscal year, this report covers an eighteen month period. This period of time has seen some changes in the Water Department.

Replacements were found for two men with long records with the Department who have moved out of the state.

Water records and billing have been put on the Town computer. Starting with the May bills, all information on water use and charges will be handled by it. Setting up the system and getting the basic records into the computer has been a tremendous job. If the transition goes as smoothly and as bug free as we hope, credit must go to the Water Clerks, Mr. Powers and Mrs. Strow for the work and dedication they have given to make it so.

It has been a period of no growth for the population, and with mild winters and generous rainfall as contributing factors, the amount of water pumped has fallen for the last two years.

This however, means less revenue for the Department, and along with the increased cost of supplies, materials, power and labor has resulted in an imbalance in revenue and expenses, indicating the necessity of raising rates to keep the Department on a self-supporting basis.

Connection fees for new services will rise as of July 1, 1974 and a new rate scale will be effective July 1, 1974 to be reflected with October billing.

The installation of a larger main on Old Connecticut Path from Rice Road to the Standpipe is the only major construction contemplated for fiscal 1975.

WATER PATROL OFFICER

The following is a report for the Water Patrol Officer for the 1973 season.

I placed my boat in the water on Saturday, April 21, and during the 1973 season, checked out an average, including sailboats and rowboats and so forth, of approximately 80 some odd boats of which around 60 of them were motorboats. During the season I wrote 2 citations and issued several verbal warnings. The behavior of the general public on the pond during 1973 was very good. It is improving all of the time, except we do have occasional pilfering of buoy markers, and towards the later part of the season, string buoys. A group of locals from surrounding towns cut them up and tied them up, which is why we have had to replace all of them this season.

I made it a point to be out on the water Saturdays and Sundays from 12 noon or earlier until eight or nine o'clock and then remained on standby until it had quieted down entirely. During the week every night coming home from my job, I would get into my uniform and get out on the water and make a routine patrol before supper and go out again and check the general conditions. At eight o'clock I would go to the beache and the Doran Road area and enforce the curfew and come in and remain on standby. The behavior of the groups in the different areas in 1973 had considerably improved over previous years, and I had no trouble whatsoever except around the fourth of July. At that time everybody has their problems.

During the season there were several sailboats out there, catamarans and so forth, and we had several upsets which were handled without any problems. One thing I would like to stress is that life preservers must be carried, one for each person aboard. As of July 19, 1974, people are subject to a fine up to $50 for not having life preservers (the proper Coast Guard Life Preservers) aboard.

One incident in May--I had a call at 2:15 from the station about a capsized boat in the cove. I went out and picked up Officer Berg. He was on his dock, and we went over and there were three small boys standing in the water waist deep in the mud, so to speak. I will not mention names here. It is in the record. Again, this boat was not fit to be in the water, and I condemned the boat on the spot and did not see it out again.

At times there were objects in the pond such as logs, old drums and so forth, which I, and sometimes with the assistance of another person, towed ashore. All in all I would say that the 1973 season ever with the kyaks, canoes and rowboats all were very cooperative along with the motorboats. There seemed to be no friction whatsoever during the season.

Due to the destruction of the string buoys and pilfering of other markers, I had estimated an expenditure of $250 for the 1974 season.

The fishing for the 1973 season out here seemed to be very good, nd after talking to Fish and Game, they informed me that a survey /ould be made of the pond for fish population and so forth, around une of this year and that they would let me know if it would require estocking, which would be done with no charge to the Town. I am ooking forward to a very good year in the 1974 season. I will ooperate with any new rules and regulations that are set up by the own officials.

I removed the buoy markers from the pond on October 8 of 1973 and n October 13, 1973 took the boat out of the water.

This concludes the 1973 report of the Water Patrol Officer and is espectfully submitted to the Town officials.

Respectfully submitted,
BRADFORD E. BERNARD
Water Patrol Officer

VETERANS' SERVICES

I hereby submit my report of the Department of Veterans' Benefits and Services for the year ending December 31, 1973.

Veterans Benefits. We had 76 persons aided in the year 1973. Thes cases were thoroughly investigated before aid could begin, and follow-up investigation must continue. Bills and budgets are submitted monthl to the Commissioner of the Department of Veterans' Services for his approval. This enables the Town of Wayland to be reimbursed 50 percent from the State.

Each year we help veterans, widows and dependent parents fill out income questionnaire cards. These cards must be filled out correctly as an error could mean loss of pension. We also help veterans in securing employment, pensions, etc.

For complete details, list of expenditures and receipts of the Depart ment of Veterans' Services and Benefits, I refer you to the Town Accountant.

As Veterans' Graves Officer I have seen that all markers are placed and that all graves are properly marked for Memorial Day. This year I will ask for an appropriation for more grave markers.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM P. LeBLANC
Veterans' Agent

THE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

The present members of the Board of Appeals wish to take this chance to comment on George Bogren's retirement from the Board in June, 1973. This is the first report by the Board since George's retirement.

George served the Board for thirty years; he served as chairman for the last twelve years of his tenure. He brought to the Board his lifelong familiarity with the Town, a selfless dedication to its best interests, and professional experience as a civil engineer. George served with a succession of lawyers on the Board; and while he had as good a command of the law as any, his most significant contribution was to supply the conscience, the compassion and the humanity which gave the Board's decisions a broad base of acceptance throughout the Town.

The present members of the Board take pride in our association with him.

Seventy-four applications were made to the Board and scheduled for hearing in 1973; plus thirty-two applications during the first six months of 1974. Two applications for site plan approval were withdrawn by applicant before the advertised hearing date.

In addition to hearing and filing decisions on the 1973 and 1974 applications, the Board completed the six cases pending at the end of 1972. The decisions on these were: One commercial site plan and one residential variance denied; two residential and two commercial special permits granted.

The 104 cases heard by the Board during the 18-month period, January 1973 - June 1974, classified in accordance with the principal question for decision by the Board, were decided as follows:

Type of Case	Total Applications	Applications Granted	Applications Denied	Withdrawn by Applicant
Variance, Residential	26	10	15	1
Variance, Commercial	2	2
Special Permit	29	25	3	1
Site Plan Approval	26	19	1	6

Type of Case	Total Applications	Applications Granted	Applications Denied	Withdrawn by Applicant
Modification of Previous Decision	4	4
Extension of Special Permit	9	9
Earth Removal	3	3
	99	72	19	8
No action required	5
Total Heard	104

In most cases, conditions, limitations and restrictions were imposed in applications which were granted.

One decision denying the grant of a variance in a residential district was the subject of legal action still pending at the end of June, 1974.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN E. BEARD, Chairman
PAUL D. PEARSON, Clerk
JEAN B. PRATT

BIRTHS RECORDED FOR 1973-1974

If your child is not listed here (births through June 30, 1974), ask the Town Clerk's Office whether the certificate has been received from the Town of Birth (the Hospital Town). Failure to have a child's birth recorded may cause him great inconvenience later.

D. STANDARDS

1. Qualifying Area
In order to qualify as a planned development site, an area of land in a planned development district shall contain at least 125 contiguous acres not divided by an existing street or aqueduct. Additional areas may be permitted in a planned development site, although such areas are divided from the qualifying area by a street or aqueduct. If additional areas are so included, then the qualifying area, together with such additional areas, shall thereafter, be treated as one indivisible planned development site.

2. Principals
No application for a special permit shall be approved unless the Board of Zoning Appeals shall find:

(a) That the development plan proposed is financially sound.

(b) That the applicant's associates, professional advisers and contractors are qualified by training and/or experience to develop real estate and to construct multi-residence dwellings comparable to those proposed in accord with the development schedule set forth in his application.

3. Development Schedule
A development schedule shall be required that considers the capacity of the applicant to develop as well as the ability of the Town to provide public services in accord with the provisions of paragraph A 4 above.

4. Open Space Coverage
At least 70% of the area of a planned development site shall consist of public land and private open space; and at least 35% of the area of a planned development site shall be public land.

5. Preservation of Natural and Historical Features

6. Ground Coverage Limitations
No more than 15% of the total area of a planned development site shall be occupied by structures, parking areas, roadways and driveways, patios, storage spaces or enclosed areas; provided, however, that buildings and structures erected on public land shall not be included in this calculation.

7. Density of Dwelling Units

(a) The maximum number of dwelling units that may be allowed in a planned development site shall be determined by the Board of Zoning Appeals in accord with the following formula:

D=K (A-W)
D=the maximum number of dwelling units,
K=the density factor,
A=total number of acres in a planned development site, and W=number of acres of wet areas.

(b) The density factor (K) shall be a value recommended by the Planning Board within the following ranges:

(1) 1.10 to 1.4, inclusive, in a 60,000 square foot residence zone;
(2) 1.25 to 1.75, inclusive, in a 40,000 square foot residence zone; based on the following criteria:

(i) The nature, size and distribution of the wet areas in the site as well as the soil drainage conditions there;
(ii) The topography;
(iii) The amount and location of land available for parking, access and unobstructed areas between nearby buildings;
(iv) The extent to which the plan provides access to county or state highways or other modes of transportation; and

(c) In the event that it is proposed to develop a planned development site in stages or over a period of years, the Planning Board may recommend that the development plan provide for greater concentration of density or intensity of land use within some section or sections of the site than in other sections, provided, however, that approval of such greater concentration shall be offset by a smaller concentration in a section that shall have been completed prior thereto and provided further that the total number of dwelling units in the planned development site shall not exceed the maximum determined in accord with the aforesaid formula.

8. Number of Bedrooms
The number of bedrooms in any planned development shall not exceed twice the number of dwelling units permitted by the special permit.

9. Distribution of Bedrooms Among Dwelling Units
No more than 70% of the dwelling units in any planned development site, or at the completion of any stage or construction permitted in the development schedule, shall contain the same number of bedrooms.

10. Maximum Number of Dwelling Units Per Building
No multi-residence dwelling in a planned development site shall contain more than 10 dwelling units.

11. Buffers
No structure may be erected nor may any land be paved within one hundred (100) feet of the perimeter of the planned development site nor from any pond, stream or way unless such construction shall have been recommended by the Planning Board acting in accord with the standards set forth in its Regulations. The Board of Zoning Appeals may, nevertheless, approve the construction in any such buffer of such structures, ways, foot and bicycle paths, fences and other landscape constructions, as well as bridges and recreational facilities recommended by the Planning Board if it shall determine that such construction and use may be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of Wayland's Zoning By-Laws.

12. Separation of Buildings
The developer shall separate neighboring buildings to prevent overmassing and to assure privacy and a view to outlying open areas. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the distance between buildings shall be no less than seventy-five feet and every effort shall be made to design and locate buildings to retain and reflect the character of the community in which they are located.

13. Height
No building or structure shall be more than three stories in height nor exceed thirty-five feet in height from finished grade at any point.

All electric, gas, telephone and water distribution lines shall be placed underground in accord with the Regulations of the Planning Board unless the Board of Zoning Appeals shall grant an exception to this requirement.

16. Access to Public Land
The applicant shall construct paths and trails leading to public lands and grant easements to the Town in and over such trails and paths.

17. Roads
All roads shall be designed, located and constructed in accord with the subdivision regulations promulgated by the Planning Board as the same may be, from time to time amended.

18. Paths
Paths for the use of residents shall be attractively designed with proper regard to convenience, separation of vehicular, bicycle and pedestrian traffic, adequate connectivity, completeness of access to the various amenities and facilities on the site.

19. Surface Drainage
The surface drainage system shall be designed in accord with the Regulations of the Planning Board.

20. Septic Disposal
All waste water treatment and or sewerage disposal facilities shall be designed and constructed in accord with the provisions of Article XI of the Sanitary Code promulgated by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, the Regulations of the Board of Health and all other laws pertaining thereto.

(a) Within thirty days after it receives the report of the Planning Board upon such development plan as well as notice that the Planning Board has approved applicant's definitive plan of land pursuant to the provisions of G. L. Chapter 41, Section 81 U and V, if required, the Board of Zoning Appeals shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of said application for a special permit, giving notice thereof in accord with the provisions of G. (b) In the event that the Board shall decide, after the conclusion of such hearing, not to grant such a special permit, it shall notify all parties in interest of its decision as provided in G.L. Chapter 40 A, Section 18, as the same may be, from time to time, amended.

(c) If, on the other hand, the Board shall be inclined to grant such a special permit, it shall, within thirty days after the date of the conclusion of the public hearing, send to the applicant a proposed special permit containing the development plan approved, as well as such conditions and safeguards it deems appropriate to assure that the site approved shall be developed in complete harmony with the general purpose and intent of G.L. Chapter 40 A, Section 4 and the Zoning By-Laws of the Town of Wayland. Without limiting this general purpose and intent, such conditions and safeguards shall include:

Chapter 184, Sections 26 through 33, imposing a conservation restriction for the benefit of said public land upon all land designated "private open space" on the approved development plan, but reserving to the grantor the right to use and develop the same in accord with the provisions of paragraph F below. The said restriction shall be enforceable by the Town of Wayland pursuant to the provisions of G.L. Chapter 184, Section 30; and

All such covenants shall provide the applicant shall pay fifty ($50) dollars to the Town, as liquidated damages, for each day that shall pass after the expiration of 90 days from the time that any work shall not have been completed as required by the development schedule, unless said work shall have stopped for a period of thirty days under a court order or if it shall be stopped or delayed through no act or fault of the applicant or of any the contractors that he has engaged to develop the site.

(4) A requirement that the professionals and principals named in the development plan shall continue to participate in the development in the capacities specified in the plan approved, unless the Board of Appeals shall have modified the permit as hereinafter provided.

In the event that the applicant shall not within said period notify the Board of Zoning Appeals that he accepts all said conditions and safeguards, or if he shall fail to submit copies of the aforesaid plan and instruments, the Board of Zoning Appeals shall be deemed to have denied approval of the development plan and his application for a special permit. The Board of Zoning Appeals and the applicant may, nevertheless, agree to a change in any such conditions, and the Board may, at the request of the applicant, extend the time during which the applicant shall notify the Board of his acceptance or refusal to accept the conditions and safeguards proposed.

(e) Within sixty days after he has notified the Board of Zoning Appeals of his acceptance, the applicant shall deliver to said Board all of the documents described in paragraph E 3 (c) (1) through (3) except the instrument and master deed required by paragraph E 3 (c) (1) (iii) - (iv) above, together with any and all other instruments and fees that may have been imposed as a condition or safeguard upon exercise of the special permit applied for.

(f) Upon receipt of all such material, the Board of Zoning Appeal may grant such special permit to the applicant in accord with the procedure set forth in said G.L. Permits for Use and Construction

(a) No permit for the construction or alteration of any structure or for any new use of a structure or of land in planned development site shall be granted by the Inspector of Buildings or permitted by the Inspector of Zoning until the Planning Board shall have reviewed a copy of each application for a building permit and/or a use permit submitted to it by the applicant and notified the said inspectors in writing that:

(1) Less than one year has expired since the grant of the Special Permit or that a building or use permit has previously been granted for said site.

In the event that twenty days shall have elapsed after the Planning Board has received a copy of such application without submitting the aforesaid notification, the permit may issue as if the Planning Board had so notified the said inspectors.

(b) In the event that the Planning Board shall determine that the applicant has not satisfied the conditions and safeguards set forth in paragraph 4 (a) above or that any schedule, construction or use applied for will vary any of the following by ten percent or more from the planned development plan approved, it shall recommend that the inspectors of buildings and zoning withhold a permit therefor pursuant to the provisions of G. L. Chapter 40 A, Section 12, as the same may be, from time to time amended:

(2) Adherence to the development schedule;

L. Chapter 40 A, Sections 17 through 19, cause a notice of abandonment to be recorded in the Middlesex, South District, Registry of Deeds. No such notice shall be recorded, however, in the event that the holder of any security interest in the planned deveopment site, who has exercised his right to take possession of the mortgaged property and to proceed to completion of the work which he has contracted to finance, shall have delivered an instrument to the Board of Zoning Appeals, assented to by the applicant, accepting all the conditions and safeguards set forth in the special permit, as the same may have been, from time to time, modified; and such holder or holders shall, thereupon, be deemed the applicant hereunder. Upon the recording of a notice of abandonment, no further development shall take place in the development site unless the applicant shall have complied with the zoning and subdivision control regulations which would otherwise be applicable thereto.

Chapter 183 A.

(b) In the event that any organization established under G. L. Chapter 183 A, Sections 8, 10 through 12 shall at any time fail to maintain its common areas and facilities in reasonable order and condition in accordance with the development plan set forth in the special permit, as the same may have been amended or modified from time to time, the Inspector of Buildings may serve written notice upon such organization or upon the residents of the planned development setting forth the manner in which the organization has failed to maintain its said areas and facilities in reasonable condition and said notice shall include a demand that such deficiencies of maintenance be cured within thirty days thereof, and shall state the date and place of a hearing thereon which shall be held within fourteen days of the notice. If the deficiencies set forth in the original notice shall not be cured within said thirty days or any extension thereof, the Town may maintain the same in reasonable condition at the expense of such organization and/or pursue any and all remedies that may be available to it under G. L. Chapter 40, Section 31, Chapter 40 A, or otherwise to assure the continued maintenance of all such residential land.

(c) No portion of any common areas and facilities shall be sold or otherwise disposed of by such organizations unless the Town shall have given written notice of its intent to sell and sixty days to exercise a right of first refusal.

Chapter 40, Section 31, Chapter 40 A, Section 22, Chapter 41 Section 81 U and Article 20 of the By-Laws of the Town of Wayland and every other authority and power that may have been or may hereafter be conferred upon it, the Town may enforce the conditions and safeguards imposed on the exercise of special permits under this Section IX in equity or at law and to recover from the applicant, his successor or approved assignee (s) all moneys that may be required to complete the development plan approved.

(b) The penalty provisions of these By-Laws may be imposed upon the applicant, his general agent, tenant (s), architect (s), contractor (s), or any and all persons having an interest in the development site, including a mechanic's lien, mortgage or attachment.

(c) The Town of Wayland shall be the beneficiary of all fines imposed on account of the violation of these By-Laws in order to defray the expense of enforcing the same.

(d) All provisions of the development plan approved shall run in favor of the residents thereof but only to the extent expressly provided in the plan and in accordance with the terms of the plan, and to that extent said provisions, whether recorded by plan, covenant, easement, or otherwise, may be enforced at law or in equity by said residents acting individually, jointly, or through their organization.

2 Stop Order

(a) In the event of a violation of law, an unauthorized sale or lease of the development site approved, development that deviates from the development plan approved, any use of the property that is not permitted in the development site, the failure to maintain residential land or if the applicant shall otherwise fail or neglect to comply with the conditions and safeguards imposed on the exercise of his special permit, the Inspector of Zoning or the Inspector of Buildings may deliver a stop order to the applicant or his agent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and by posting the same in a conspicuous location in said site. The order shall describe the nature of the violation, and the date on which said order shall expire, which date shall not be six days later than the date of the order.

(b) Any person who shall violate the provisions of a stop order shall be deemed in violation of these Zoning By-Laws.

(c) Failure of the Town to deliver a stop order for any reason shall not prevent the Town from pursuing any other legal remedy permitted under law.

I. FEES

In order to reimburse the Town for the expense of processing the various applications hereinabove provided for the Board of Zoning Appeals may, from time to time, adopt and promulgate in its Regulations a schedule of fees payable by the applicant, a copy of which shall be kept on file and available in the office of the Town Clerk.

J. DEDICATION TO PUBLIC USE

All persons applying for a special permit to the Board of Zoning Appeals seeking an exception under this Section IX B to the regulations and restrictions contained in the Zoning By-Laws of the Town of Wayland acknowledge that their proposal to construct multi-residence dwellings in the Town of Wayland will be considered by the Board by reference to the Town's objective to preserve open space for all its inhabitants by permitting a greater density of dwelling units in Planned Development Districts than would otherwise be permitted there by law, and their offer to convey property shown as "public land" in their development to the Town shall be construed in satisfaction of a condition which the Board may lawfully impose pursuant to G. L. Chapter 40 A, Section 4 so that exceptions sought by applicants shall always be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of these By-Laws.

Mr. Jonathan Strong moved and was duly seconded that Articles 21 and 22 be taken up after Article 35 is completed.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Article 1. To receive and act upon reports of Town officers, agents and committees.

Mr. Mathias Leupold presented the Planning Board Report:

GOALS, OBJECTIVES, POLICIES

The Planning Board study of business areas, begun approximate a year ago, is based on the assumption and goal that Wayland is and should be primarily a residential community providing opportunities for quality living to a wide variety of age and income groups. This goal is a long-standing one, supported by townspeople for many year

To foster the realization of this goal, several objectives are promoted:

* guarantee individual rights, freedoms, and safety
* maintain a high quality education system
* establish financial stability
* provide opportunities for recreation and conservation
* promote land uses which respect the environment and which keep residential and business uses in an appropriate balance.

The town government through its boards, committees, and officials is involved in pursuing these objectives. The Planning Board's primary concern is with the last objective - that of balanced land uses, and it is guided by several land use policies:

* retain open space
* control density
* level-off the tax rate insofar as can be accomplished through land use
* provide housing for a variety of income and age groups
* provide business activities which cater to the community's retail needs

Like the goal of a residential town, these policies are not new. They were expressed in numerous reports to town meetings and in studies over the years and made explicit in the responses to the 1972 Planning Board questionnaire.

MPLEMENTATION

On the whole, Wayland is doing well in working towards achieving ts objectives and policies. A major area which needs our attention hough, are the business districts. For years town boards, residents nd merchants have realized that there are a number of problems with Wayland's business areas. There are a variety of pressures, and in rder to sort them out we undertook a study of the business areas. 'he pressures which make such a study imperative include:

* a limited amount of land which is suitable for development
* major new developments proposed or in construction
* an abundance of haphazard development
* the worsening of traffic problems and parking problems
* an increasing awareness that environmental factors are important and that many businesses are located on fragile lands

The Planning Board also felt the need to examine its accommoda- ion of business uses to determine whether its land use policies are onsistent with the Town's main goal and objectives and how its ction could further these principles.

Given these interests, the Board began to organize a format for studying all the business areas in Town. Basically, the study is divided into two phases. Phase I, now completed, evaluated the existing situation and came up with planning guidelines. In planning language, these guidelines provide the general direction or context within which specific actions can take place. They define in simple terms the general policies recommended by the Planning Board for the future of the business areas. The concept and value of planning guidelines may be clearer when they are enumerated and supported later in this report.

The second phase will consist of developing practical tools for ameliorating some of the basic problems. Maps will be prepared to illustrate design proposals. Undoubtedly zoning by-law changes will be proposed. Administrative policies of the various town agencies having cognizance of land use matters will be collected and made available as a single pamphlet.

Phase II was started at the same time that the Planning Board was developing the planning guidelines. It was important to take a specific geographical area - in this case route 20 - to test out the proposed guidelines. The selection of route 20 was not completely arbitrary. It was selected because of its many businesses, its vacant and developable properties already in commercial and business districts, its traffic and environmental problems, its responsive merchants, and its opportunities for planning and design.

SHOW THE TWO SLIDES WHICH SHOW THE BUSINESS DISTRICTS ALONG ROUTES 20 & 30

PLANNING GUIDELINES

1. REALIZE THE DEVELOPMENT POTENTIAL WITHIN EXISTING BUSINESS DISTRICTS

   a) There are 27 acres available within the business districts
   b) Encouraging business for the sake of "helping out on the tax rate" is an illusion. To lower the tax rate by one dollar it would require adding:

      4 to 5 new banks
      14 new gas stations
      4 new restaurants of the size of Finnerty's
      11 new professional buildings of 3,000 square feet each

NO ADDITION OF NEW LOTS TO BUSINESS DISTRICTS ALONG ROUTES 20 & 30

a) The Planning Board opposes scattered, piece-meal development. Rather, it favors concentrated business development which has been planned.

b) An appropriate balance between residential and business uses should be maintained. Already there are many businesses within and outside the business districts on both route 20 & 30.

c) There are serious problems with traffic, parking, drainage, and access.

RECOGNIZE AND SUPPORT WAYLAND AND COCHITUATE CENTERS AS MAJOR FOCAL POINTS FOR BUSINESS

a) The potential for making Wayland Center into a true town center is great because it is the physical confluence of many of the town's assets and existing services. It is the geographical, administrative, historic, and transportation center. The same can be said for Cochituate Center.

b) Space is still available for new development and redesign of existing developments. There are 9 buildings in Wayland Center and 4 in Cochituate Center in business districts which are currently in use as residences.

c) The existing business district boundaries were carefully selected and rationalized. No major changes are recommended until detailed site by site evaluations are made.

MINIMIZE TRAFFIC CONGESTION AROUND SHOPPING AREAS

a) Congestion is bad for business.

b) Congestion around the shopping areas is a long standing problem and is growing worse.

CHANGES OF USE BETWEEN RESIDENTIAL AND BUSINESS ARE OF SUCH SIGNIFICANT INTEREST AND IMPACT THAT THEY SHOULD BE DECIDED BY THE TOWN MEETING

a) Zoning changes should be reviewed for their neighborhood and their townwide impact, not just in terms of the specific site conditions.

b) Since our zoning accommodates only a small number of busi nesses (only about 1.5% of the land is business zoned), any change to a business use is significant.

6. PRESERVE A BALANCE OF AVAILABLE SERVICES

a) Wayland businesses offer a wide variety of services. Those which are lacking can be found in neighboring towns. A preference for this shopping pattern brought many people to Wayland in the first place.

b) The Planning Board recommends against more gas stations and fast-food establishments because of the problems of litter and traffic and because there are already too many of them from the standpoint of serving the town's needs.

c) Space should be available for a variety of services, but this does not mean that every service can be provided. In the past 15 years or so 4 hardware stores have failed to thrive despite frequently voiced wishes for them.

7. ENCOURAGE POLICIES COMPATIBLE WITH A GREATER NET WORK OF SIDEWALKS AND PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

a) Emphasize pedestrian access and comfort

b) Shopping should be convenient and feasible without cars

8. ENCOURAGE PRESERVATION OF OLD/HISTORIC STRUCTURE

a) Wayland has many historic old structures which add to its character

b) Old/historic buildings add a diversity of housing type which appeals to many for working as well as living.

9. PROTECT WETLANDS AND FLOOD PLAINS

a) Flood plains are water impoundment areas during times of high water.

b) It is unsound building practice to locate buildings on wetland

10. ENCOURAGE COORDINATION OF ALL LAND USE POLICIES

. CONSOLIDATED PARKING AREAS AND ENCOURAGE CONNECTION OF STORES

a) Encourage business by making shopping convenient, pleasant, and safe.

b) Orient business areas towards pedestrian use.

. NONCONFORMING USES

a) Take advantage of the flexibility that nonconforming uses might offer.

b) Discourage expansion of nonconforming uses.

c) Discourage rezoning of nonconforming business use in residential districts to business districts.

. FOSTER A PHYSICAL DELINEATION BETWEEN BUSINESS AND RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS

Mr. Michael Gaffin presented the Report of the Wayland Lowoderate Income Housing Committee:

The Wayland Low-Moderate Income Housing Committee has con-rmed that there is a need in Wayland for multi-family rental housing
r all income and age groups and that there are several viable sites Town for this purpose. The Committee has determined that the assachusetts Housing Finance Agency has the most effective housg programs because of its close regulation of all aspects of devel-ment and its favorable financing package for participating towns.

Accordingly, the Committee recommends that it be continued
d authorized to commence negotiations directly with developers th the express purpose of bringing before the next Town Meeting specific proposal for an MHFA-financed housing development on a ecific site.

We now ask the Town to accept this report.

Mr. Michael A. Gaffin moved and was duly seconded that the port be accepted.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mr. Theodore Magoun moved and was duly seconded that all rds, commissions or committees of the Town who have complied h Article 5 of the By-Laws, other than those created under General

Laws of the Commonwealth, be continued in existence unless the vote creating the same shall have provided otherwise.

VOTED: Unanimously.

VOTED: Unanimously.

Mrs. Marcia Storkerson presented the Bicentennial Committee Report:

For the last year, the Bicentennial Committee has been working on plans for the town's observance of the 200th anniversary of this nation. Three grants were recently awarded by the State Bicentennial Commission on a 50-50 basis, for the establishment of a Farm Museum, a series of photographic exhibits of Wayland at the turn of the century, and a booklet which will depict Wayland at the time of its settlement in 1638, during the Revolution, and during the nineteenth century, using existing sites within the town. Work on the Farm Museum and the photographic exhibits will begin as soon as the State monies are in hand. The research on the booklet began about a year ago.

For the last five months, the Committee has been working on plans for the weekend of April 19, 1975. A town-wide questionnaire was mailed in March to determine the number of people interested in going to Concord and/or participating in any of the Committee's projects. The last month has been spent processing the returns from the questionnaire and finalizing the plans for the 18th, 20th, and 21st of April.

On Friday, April 18, at 6:15 p.m., there will be a ceremony at the North Cemetery on Route 27 to commemorate the Revolutionary War Soldiers buried there. The East Company of Militia and Minute will host the ceremony, which will include the Sudbury Fife and Drum Corps as well as representatives of various scouting and youth organizations in the town.

On Saturday, April 19, the East Company will have a 3:00 a.m. muster on the First Parish Church lawn prior to its march to Sudbury and subsequently to Concord for the Parade. For those people who reserved bus tickets to Concord, the buses will be leaving from the Cochituate School, Claypit Hill School, High School, and the Raytheon parking lot on Route 20 starting at 6:30 a.m. The tickets will be delivered during this week and over the weekend. Each ticket will indicate to which site a person should go to get a bus. Buses will return on a half-hourly basis from Concord starting at 10:00 a.m. and the last bus TO Wayland will leave at 1:00 p.m.

On Sunday and Monday, April 20 and 21, there will be activities from 2:00 to 4:30 each day. The First Parish Church, the Wayland Historical Society's Heard House and the Main Library will have open houses, tours, and exhibits on display. There will be exhibits of Wayland's scenes at the Railroad Station and the Mellen Law Office. Country dancing and colonial children's games will be on the lawn of the First Parish Church and there will be craftsmen on the Town Building green demonstrating their skills. There will be walking tours of Wayland center and the North Cemetery. The Training Field triangle at the intersection of Glezen Lane and Training Field Road will have members of the East Company of Militia and Minute explaining colonial dress, crafts, and material arts.

If the weather is too cold or rainy, the Old Junior High Gym will house the craft exhibits and the rest of the activities will be moved indoors.

The Committee hopes that as many of the town's residents as possible will try to come to the activities planned over the weekend.

During the next year, the Committee will concentrate on establishing the Farm Museum, printing the booklet, and organizing the photographic exhibits. Additional projects for next year will include an Oral History Project and an event commemorating Colonel Knox's march through Wayland on his way from Fort Ticonderoga to Dorchester Heights.

Computer Audit Committee Report

The 1974 Annual Town Meeting voted unfavorably on petitioners' Article 39 to terminate the lease on the Town computer. In agreements supporting this action, the Board of Selectmen, the School Committee, and the Finance Committee pledged an audit by an outside expert to determine the desirability of continuing the leasing of the computer as compared to obtaining these services from an outside service bureau. For this purpose, a sum of $5,000.00 was appropriated under the Selectmen's budget and an Ad Hoc Committee appointed.

This Committee was officially formed in May, 1974, and we have met on numerous occasions since then. Our meetings were open and the public invited to attend. A special effort was made to solicit information from and to advise Article proponents and former Computer Study Committee members of our activities.

At the outset, it became apparent that the Committee had to familiarize itself thoroughly with the history, technology, and capabilities of our present D.P. equipment, programs, system inputs, and personnel requirements before any audit specifications could be developed. This educational update consumed most of our meeting time.

It was extremely difficult to locate the right type of firm to handle our audit. The well-known accounting firms were financial auditors with little experience in our type of evaluation. Those with experience appeared to be outside our budget and not within our time schedule. One firm was found, System Technology Associates, which was best suited to handle the type of evaluation required by Wayland. STA was formed in 1967 and has conducted similar evaluations for Milton, Weston, and Lexington and is currently engaged in a D.P. assessment for Duxbury.

The Committee is in general agreement with the findings and conclusions of STA's Audit Report, which is appended, and we recommend the continued use of our Town computer facility and urge accelerated implementation of remaining scheduled applications.

Responsible officials should consider a procedural analysis of information flow to the computer for cost effectiveness in clerical area. Serious thought should also be given to back-up computer personnel.

The Auditor's Report may be read at the Library, or you may pick up a sign-out copy from the Executive Secretary.

Each individual reading the Audit Report will of course draw his own conclusions. Your thoughts are important and should be communicated to the Board of Selectmen.

Having performed its function, the Committee now considers itself discharged, but not before thanking all those who were involved.

Respectfully submitted,

Municipal Building Planning Committee Report

PURPOSE: To review and analyze the needs of the Town for space to provide the most efficient municipal services and make recommendations as to the usage of:

Old Junior High School
Town Office Building
School Administration Building

Consider new construction, if necessary, and any other available alternatives.

The Committee has not considered library needs, Highway Department, Water Department, School buildings, or any other Town structures.

COMMITTEE PROCEDURE: After the Committee outlined its charge and developed a line of attacking the problem, it selected an architectural consultant.

Three firms were selected from written applications. The finalists were interviewed. Johnson Hotvedt and Associates, Inc. was selected. The firm was selected because they were doing similar work elsewhere. They were also currently involved in another town project with recommended performance. They were businesslike in their approach.

We next surveyed the three involved buildings as to their condition.

We undertook a study of the space needs of each department and Town committee and the current usage of the involved buildings.

We undertook to examine a multitude of alternative plans.

We have undertaken a specific appraisal of septic system requirements.

CURRENT CONDITIONS

VALUE: In order to fix some type of an asset value on the involved buildings, the insured value of the building and contents has been given as:

Old Junior High School	$1,382,940.
Town Office Building	437,040.
School Administration Building	393,278.

These values are very conservative and would greatly understate replacement costs.

USAGE: The Old Junior High School has approximately 52,000 square feet of space. At the present time, it is occupied by the bus dispatche school maintenance, computer, Park and Recreation, and Senior Citizens' activities.

About one-third of the space is utilized, a large part of it part-time.

The Town Office Building has approximately 20,000 square feet. It is fully occupied with badly overcrowded conditions. The Police Department is suffering under a critical lack of space and facilities. There is a sad lack of hearing rooms. There are inadequate offices and committee rooms. Business is often conducted in the hallways.

The School Administration Building contains 11,000 square feet on two floors. Spaces do not conform to the uses to which they are being put. The basement is unsuitable for other than storage. (Its space is not included in the above square footage.)

CONDITION: The Old Junior High School does not require emergency repairs so long as something is done with the building in the next year or so. The building is structurally sound. Doors, windows, and walkways require upgrading. Roof and gutters require replacement. The walls and ceilings are generally good. Floors require resurfacing and some repair. Major electrical service improvement is required. The hearing plant is in very good condition, but upgrading of the heating and ventilation circulation system is required. Some general upgrading is necessary to meet State building codes.

The septic system requires repair and upgrading.

The Town Office Building is structurally sound and in very good conditions. It generally conforms to State building codes. The existing electrical system is adequate. The heating plant is adequate but repairs to the heat circulation system are required. The building contains some highly specialized spaces for police, fire, and civilian defense purposes.

The School Administration Building is structurally sound. Some repairs to roof, gutters, and shingles are required. The electrical system requires some code upgrading. The heating is adequate, but should be improved for efficiency. Work is required to meet State building codes.

CRITERIA: The Committee adopted certain principles:

1. Space should be allocated based on usage and function, not merely departmental requests.

2. Operating costs as well as capital costs must be considered.

3. Space needs should be projected a minimum of five years.

4. Combine space into as few sites as possible.

5. Sell, or raze unused buildings.

ALTERNATIVES

The main options considered went in two directions:

1. Combine all school administration, town offices, Park and Recreation activities and Senior Citizens functions in the Old Junior High School. Use the Town Office Building primarily for Police, Fire, and Civilian Defense. Abandon the Administration Building.

2. Combine all Town Offices, Police and Fire Departments at the Town Building site by additional new construction. Retain the School Administration Building. Abandon the Old Junior High School, terminating use at the site by Park and Recreation and Senior Citizens activities with no consideration given as to transferring these to other locations.

Between these two alternatives, the Committee examined many variations, including razing only sections of the Old Junior High School, various Town Office Building additions, and use and nonuse of the School Administration Building.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

Remodel the Old Junior High School to house all Town Office functions with the necessary committee and hearing rooms. Move the School Administration functions to that site. Continue to utilize parts of the building for Park and Recreation activities and Senior Citizens.

Make relatively minor changes to the Town Office Building converting it to primarily Police Fire, and Civil Defense functions.

Sell, or raze the School Administration Building.

The Committee feels this is the best use of existing space both in regard to total space needs and the use of the existing specialized police and fire facilities. No new buildings are required. One building and its maintenance is eliminated. There will be minimal disruption of functions in the execution of the program. Only 5,000 square feet is left reserved for future expansion.

COSTS: The cost differences between alternatives for the same space requirements are not an overriding factor. No one alternative was significantly cheaper or rendered more value for the money.

Current rough estimates for the work are as follows:

1. Minimum Renovation $1,160,000.00

This method would involve all necessary improvements, but spaces would be assigned within existing interior walls as much as possible.

2. Major Renovation $1,393,250.00

This method would involve all necessary improvements. The interior of the building would be restructured where necessary so that space may be allocated on a more efficient basis and in prime condition.

3. Major Renovation, air-conditioned $1,517,550.00

The Town Office Building would require minor adaption at a rough cost of $85,000.

The School Administration Building would be razed, if not sold, at an estimated cost of $30,000.

FUNDING: Remodeling limits borrowing to a ten-year bonding. At this time, there is no expectation of State or Federal reimbursements.

PURPOSE OF THE ARTICLE

The Committee is requesting that the Town appropriate $54,000 for the following purposes:

1. Engineer specific departmental space requirements to insure the most efficient use of space.

2. Develop engineering drawings and specifications to determine accurate costs.

3. Develop a specific plan of action to phase expenditures in relation to remodelings, alterations, and timing of occupancy.

4. Of the funds requested, $47,000. would apply toward the final architectural fee. A professional cost estimator will be employed to pinpoint the final costs for Town vote purposes--$2,000. The examination of any other options which have not been previously developed--$5,000. The Committee is prepared to delete this last amount from the article if no new alternatives are proposed prior to the town meeting.

FUTURE COURSE

A. A majority vote is required at town meeting.

1) A favorable vote will appropriate money to complete the planning and bring a detailed plan and closely estimated costs to next town meeting.

2) An unfavorable vote will maintain the status quo with the Town facing repairs on the Old Junior High School and the School Administration Building to prevent their deterioration. The Old Junior High School will be in large part vacant and subject to vandalism.

B. Action following favorable vote.

1) If the vote is favorable, the Town will face future town meeting decisions--some of which will require two-thirds voting in favor. Two-thirds voting will be required for borrowing to undertake the remodeling. The next town meeting would vote on the Junior High School remodeling.

2) A later meeting would authorize the funds necessary to renovate the Town Office Building for Police and Fire Department purposes. This meeting would also vote to raze or sell the School Administration Building.

Mrs. Josephine Shane, School Committee, presented the Interim Report:

Fall Vote: "That this meeting express its view that the School Committee and the Library Trustees jointly workout regulations for the maintenance, staffing, and use of the High School Media Center so that the building may be open to all residents of the Town, reserving to the School Committee the absolute right to restricting the use of the building to students during school sessions."

The School Committee met with Library Trustees on November 25, 1974 to discuss sense of vote.

Decided that the sense of the meeting was to enable Media Center to take pressure off Town Library buildings and to enable Town Libraries to operate in the way the Trustees wished to do with new facilities, which the Town turned down. Accordingly, the Trustees and the School Committee formed an in-house committee to try to define ways in which the schools could cooperate with the libraries. The first report of that Committee was made on March 10 at which time several other questions were raised regarding the mechanical feasibility of the action requested by the Town as well as its cost and the Committee was asked to do further work. We would expect that continued effort to find ways for the library and schools would require more citizen involvement as the Committee is better able to develop applicable issues and would result in specific budgetary recommendations to the Town at a future meeting.

COMMISSIONERS OF TRUST FUNDS

The Commissioners of Public Trust Funds are pleased to report to the Town that the funds under their care generated a total of $10,698.64 income during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975.

The Perpetual Care Funds (Cemetery) received $8,524.39 and expended $3,166.50 allowing $5,357.89 to be moved to surplus for reinvestment. Sums were spent during the year for such necessaries as grass seeding, spraying, grave openings, gasoline, road construction and not least, flowers.

The Trustees of the Allen Fund (Charity) expended almost the entire income of $281.79 for various worthy welfare purposes.

The Wayland Public Library received $2,232.24 for purchase of new books and periodicals during the year. While income of $1,464.9 did not match, a small surplus of $856.51 from the previous year allowed expenditure to equal the sum mentioned above.

The Trustees, having observed a continuing decline in the bond market for a long time, decided that good judgement required withdrawal of considerable sums for Savings Bank Deposits in the Fall of 1974 for the purchase of high-grade debt obligations in the open marke at a considerable discount from par value. Since this action was taken a gratifying advance in the value of the subject investments has taken place.

The Trustees have been fortunate in having the assistance of Mr. Alton S. Webb, Treasurer of the Town, during the year, and herein take the opportunity to thank him greatly.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN G. HARDER, Chairman
CHARLES E. GOODHUE, III
JOHN H. GARY

THE BOARD OF ASSESSORS

The Special Town Meeting held in October, 1972, passed Article 6, which authorized "an expert appraisal of taxable property in accord with the provisions of G.L. Chapter 40, Section 4." A similar article was introduced by the Assessors in the regular Town Meeting in the spring. It was defeated during the interim period in 1972, a taxpayers' suit was initiated, and made necessary the passing of Article 6 in the Special Town Meeting.

Work was begun by United Appraisal Company in the spring of 1973. As the result of several unforeseen circumstances, the appraisal was not completed in time for use in 1974. In addition, a statutory change in the fiscal year made any accelerated effort to complete the work, needless. Work was completed early in 1975 and hearings were held in the months of April and May, 1975. Approximately 731 taxpayers were heard by United Appraisal personnel. Additional informal hearings were held by the Assessors to answer questions for those taxpayers who were unable to meet with the contractor.

It is expected that the new valuations will be used for current tax bills.

This appraisal represents the first complete valuation of the Town by an outside firm.

The tabulation of the Assessors' Statistics is presented below.

THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

During the period July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975 all departments under the jurisdiction of the Board of Selectmen continued to operate effectively in spite of no-growth policies dictated by economic conditions and a real effort to keep the tax rate as stable as possible. In addition to the usual budgetary problems and problems foisted upon us by the legislature, there are two major local problems that will have to be solved within the next two to three years.

One is the problem of building needs for the various Town departments. The Old Junior High School is no longer used for educational purposes, nor is the Administration Building used for classrooms anymore. In view of the declining school population, the School Department plans the abandonment of the Cochituate Elementary School in three years. At the same time other Town departments are straining the capacity of the Town Building. A Municipal Building Planning Committee, appointed in March of 1974 by the Selectmen and other Town boards, has done a splendid job in devising a plan to renovate and utilize the Old Junior High building for municipal purposes, leaving the present Town Hall available for the exclusive use of the Police and Fire Departments. It remains to be seen whether the Town Meeting will vote the funds to implement the plan. It is certain that now, or at some future date, this or a similar rearrangement of building space will have to be undertaken.

Another problem of long-range import is the question of commercial development along Route 20. Application has been made and approved (after modification) by the Zoning Board of Appeals for a small shopping mall at the corner of Route 20 and Plain Road. Some citizens see this move as the beginning of a Route-9-type commercialization of the area, others perceive it as an affront to the residential abutters, and still others believe the owners have a natural legal right to develop the land in accordance with present zoning by-laws. Whatever the ultimate disposition of the property in question, it is to be hoped the Town, through its Planning Board, will modify, clarify, and provide affirmative guidance regarding the kind of land use it wants in the area.

The Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee, working with Sudbury officials, has nearly completed an agreement to create a jointly owned and operated septage disposal facility. This provides both towns with a way to dispose of septic-tank pumpings for at least twenty years. Unfortunately, no such agreement has been forthcoming with regard to solid-waste disposal. At issue is Wayland's inability to secure desireable access from Route 20 to its designated dump acreage. The Town of Sudbury could provide access to Wayland but has not yet agreed to do so. It is of utmost concern to the Wayland Selectmen that some suitable access be worked out during the current fiscal year.

In the Spring of 1975 the Wayland Bicentennial Committee provided many interesting events for townspeople and visitors. A ceremony at the North Cemetery during early evening on April 18, at which the East Sudbury Militia Company helped memorialize some of Wayland's revolutionary patriots, was well received by all who attended. A display of Revolutionary period handicrafts and farm skills, and open houses at the Heard House, the First Parish Church, and the Mellen Law Office were popular events held later in the Spring.

During the year, the Wayland Transportation Committee has been working long and hard to devise a plan for free, in-town bus transportation on a limited basis. At this writing, the system has been in effect for about two months, and it is too early to judge the results. A further report is to be made by the Committee at the Annual Town Meeting in April, 1976.

The Wayland Personnel Board is a committee that works long hour year-round. It engages in long and tedious negotiations with the variou labor organizations to which Town employees belong. The work is intricate and detailed, and often the adversary in negotiation is a professional negotiator. The work is necessary, and the Board provides a genuine service to the Town that could hardly be purchased at any price. The task is thankless, and so we mention our gratitude here.

The above are brief summaries of the work of only some of the committees appointed in whole or in part by the Selectmen. The members serve entirely on a voluntary basis. There are many other committees, both elected and appointed, that work just as effectively and arduously. The Selectmen believe the most rational and most effective government is volunteer government composed of voters and taxpayers whose activities are largely controlled by the citizenry at large in the form of Town Meeting.

During the past fiscal year, two Department Head appointments were made by the Board. In July, 1974, a panel was appointed to screen applicants for the position of Fire Chief, and in December the position was given to Joseph Lawler, formerly Fire Prevention Engineer in the State Fire Marshal's Office. In September, 1974, 81 applications were received to fill the vacant position of Executive Secretary. In November the position was given to Edward N. Perry, formerly our Town Accountant and Administrative Assistant. The Board believes both appointments were good ones and that both incumbents will serve the Town well for many years. Mrs. Dorothy Harrington was appointed to fill the position of Town Accountant, and Mr. Walter George was appointed to the position of Administrative Assistant. During the year, Ted Meyer left the position of Youth Officer to become Deputy Chief of the Police Department in Charlestown, South Carolina. We were sorry to lose Mr. Meyer.

Even though it occurred after the end of the period being reviewed, it should be noted that we were all shocked and saddened by the sudden and untimely death of Captain Arthur Flieger of the Fire Department. Captain Flieger had always carried out his duties quietly and competently. He served ably as Acting Chief after the resignation of former Chief Hartin.

We cannot conclude the report without noting that during the past year Mr. George Bogren resigned from his last official position with Town government. Mr. Bogren served in many different capacities, many of them concurrent, so that upon his retirement he could add up a total of 88 years of Town service, all of them without compensation.

We are also pleased to report that those full and part-paid employees who serve Wayland once again demonstrated their worth by providing smooth-running departments that most effectively carried out their appointed functions. Because of the unionization of employee groups and State labor laws, we sometimes find ourselves unwittingly and uncomfortably in an adversary position vis-a-vis groups of Town employees, but we do recognize fully the high degree of competence and the dedication to the Town of the men and women who make up these groups.

As of January 1, 1975, all towns and cities in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts were required to comply with the State Building Code which replaced our local building code. Specific inspection schedules of all public buildings including schools, churches, restaurants, and any places of public assembly must be adhered to by local inspectors. Records must be kept according to state directives. The new law has resulted in an increase in the workload of all local inspectors and has also substantially increased the clerical time needed to complete state records.

For approximately a six-month period (February - June) home inspections were required at the time of resale of the property so that a Certificate of Occupance could be issued to the buyer. Frequently this entailed many follow-up inspections to be sure that violations were corrected before certification. The clerical workload at this time was also dramatically increased.

In addition to the required regular inspections for those who have obtained building permits, much of the time of the inspectors is consumed in investigation of alleged violations of the building code. Most frequently, violations consist of work being done without permits. It is in the interest of the Town that such illegal activities be reported since the loss of assessment on improvements made without legal permission affects the tax rate of all citizens of Wayland.

Respectfully submitted,
REXFORD N. MOSS
Building and Zoning Inspector

REPORT OF THE WIRING INSPECTOR

EARLE F. GRIFFIN

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE DIRECTOR

The 1974-75 year was a period during which your Civil Defense was again pleased to serve the Town with Auxiliary Police, Emergency Preparedness and Bicentennial Planning activities. The following is a summary of our contributions to the people of Wayland.

During the summer of 1974 Auxiliary Police Cruiser #31 was out on weekends and many week nights, manned by volunteer officers checking schools, homes of vacationing residents, and performing general patrol functions.

Looking toward the Bicentennial year, in September of 1974, an advanced training course for Auxiliary Officers was implemented unde the leadership of Auxiliary Chief Robert Parker assisted by volunteer officers, Captain Guy Werner, Lieut. Bob Carson and their Sergeants. Instruction was provided in crowd control and vehicle management. Al men were qualified with the improved baton, as well as with the .38 service revolver on the police combat course. In addition, many volunteer officers qualified with rifle and shotgun during a weekend training exercise conducted by Regular Officer Bruce Cook. Cardio-Pulmonary Recussitation (CPR) instruction was conducted by Regular Officer Arthur Walsh. We would especially like to thank those regular officers who donate their time and talents to the Auxiliary Police, free of charge, to provide new and updated training to the membership

Knowing that 1975 would be a busy year twelve new officers were inducted and trained during the fall of 1974. Much of their equipment, and new equipment for experienced Auxiliary Officers, was purchased using funds earned at the 1974 Wayland Town Fair, thus reducing our dependence on tax dollars to support volunteer activities.

The Emergency Operating Center in the basement of the Town Hall was rearranged and our radio equipment modified to include communications capabilities to all major town departments as well as inter-city and State Police authorities. Telephone equipment was also added to and modified to insure compatibility with the new switchboard located upstairs in the Town Hall. In case of emergency or disaster, all Town departments could now move into the EOC and have radio and telephone communications in a centralized office. Auxiliary Officers also received refresher training in the proper use of radiation detection and monitoring equipment.

Mobile radio communications equipment used by the Auxiliary Police has now been switched to regular police frequencies and away from the older and less secure Citizens Band equipment. This capability also provides the Regular department with a source of additional emergency mobile communications equipment should the need arise. The Radio Room in Civil Defense Headquarters is now being used by both Civil Defense and Regular Police and provides the Town with a centralized facility for storage and maintenance of this equipment.

During the year Auxiliary Officers continued to participate in regular weekend training with Chief Blake's department. Two Auxiliary Officers are given "ride along" cruiser training by Regular Officers each Friday and Saturday night in a continuing program that is now in its eleventh year. This in cruiser training time, along with the time donated by volunteer officers in the Auxiliary Cruiser, and during such public event occasions such as the Walk for Mankind, Memorial Day Parade, Haloween Duty, Seniors' Night, the Strawberry Festival, and similar functions amounts to about 2,500 hours of "on the street" donated service each year by this dedicated group of well-trained officers.

Hours of planning and preparation went into assisting with the development of plans for April 19th Bicentennial kickoff activities. Civil Defense was pleased to be called on to contribute to the plan developed by Chief Blake and his staff to assure the safety of townspeople and participants, and to insure an orderly flow of traffic during Patriot's Day activities. Even though traffic was at a less than normal Saturday level, much good experience was gained in mobilizing the Town's resources in the event that we should have to respond, in the future, on a quick call out basis.

In early summer of 1975 the Auxiliary Police again conducted a fund raising Fair and would like to thank all those townspeople who came out to support their organization.

We would like to again take this yearly opportunity to thank Chief Blake, his Sergeants, and Officers for their continued enthusiasm and support both on an individual and collective basis. We look forward to continued further opportunities to serve the town and its people.

Respectfully submitted,
C. DONALD ZEARFOSS

CODE ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE

Increased neighborhood concern about businesses varying from permitted site usage drew most of the Code Enforcement Committee's attention during 1974-75. The primary focus was on the Post Road, perhaps sharpened by an article in the warrant for the last Annual Town Meeting to rezone residential land, plus the proposed development of another parcel, already commercially zoned, to a greater intensity than before.

The problems ranged from exceeding what was covered by a particular site plan approval issued by the Zoning Board of Appeals, to violation of the Town's zoning by-laws. Procedures were initiated to inform the parties involved, and in many cases voluntary corrective action followed; where it does not, we will have to pursue the matter through the administrative and legal remedies available.

Also during the past fiscal year the Zoning Board, with the approval of the Selectmen, adopted regulations for temporary signs. The intent was to simplify, rather than complicate, matters for the citizenry and yet keep a lid on things.

CODIFICATION COMMITTEE

The printing of the three books (Zoning By-Laws, Description of the Zoning Plan, and Indices of Accepted Statutes since 1870 and Specia Acts pertaining to East Sudbury and Wayland since 1780 with Town By-Laws) was completed in the Fall of 1974. The amendments to the By-Laws and Zoning By-Laws voted at the Annual Town Meeting of 1974 were printed and inserted in the books. The amendments voted at the Special Town Meeting on October 30, 1974, and additional pages of descriptive information on the Zoning Plan are in the process of being printed. The full Planned Development District By-Law as approved by the Attorney General has been prepared from available warrants of the October 30, 1974, Special Town Meeting and inserted in the proper books.

We continue to communicate with the Town Clerk of Sudbury in hopes of securing for Wayland a complete set of the Sudbury Town Books for the years 1638 to 1780. These are being typed from the old records by the Sudbury Town Clerk's office. We hope that it will also be possible for Wayland to receive copies of other early official records of Sudbury.

In the coming year we will continue to compile the Rules and Regulations of Wayland for a fourth book and to keep the other three books up-to-date as amendments are voted at Town Meeting. The procedure of keeping these books up-to-date is a time-consuming project, and it may be necessary for the Town to consider the training of a paid person for carrying out this responsibility on a routine basis.

The Committee recommends that the Town institute a comprehensive records management program in which all Town boards and commissions will cooperate and participate to establish guidelines for collecting, cataloging, protecting, storing and disposing of documents. This would be an effort both to eliminate unnecessary duplication and to ensure that current records and committee reports are collected in a central place under one authority. We would also urge the Town to establish the office of Town Historian so that a policy of protecting and preserving the valuable early documents in the possession of the Town could be developed and maintained.

REPORT OF THE CONSERVATION COMMISSION FOR JULY 1, 1974 TO JUNE 30, 1975

Meetings and personnel - During Fiscal Year 1975 the Commission held 52 business meetings, mostly on Tuesday evenings. Various members attended numerous other meetings, including field studies, meetings of other Town boards or regional agencies, and workshops or other educational meetings.

The appointments of William B. Gagnebin, Kenneth A. Moon, and Sarah R. Newbury were renewed for three-year terms.

Mrs. Richard E. Robinson continued as chairman of the Outdoor Education Committee. Mrs. Barbara R. Leith succeeded Mrs. Marcia D. Henderson as the Commission's nominee to the Sidewalk Committee. Mr. Stephen J. Maddock continued as the Commission's nominee to the Refuse Disposal Planning Committee. Mr. George K. Lewis continued as chairman of the Community Garden Committee.

After careful screening of applicants submitted by the Marlboro regional office for the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, the Commission selected Richard L. Fortin for the position of Conservation Land Manager. Mr. Fortin is a 1974 graduate in Wildlife Management from the School of Forest Resources, University of Maine. His responsibilities include assisting the Commission with its programs, preparing plans for use of conservation lands, and developing work programs for care and improvement of conservation lands. Mr. Fortin began work in April and has proved to be of immense value to the Commission.

The Commission gratefully acknowledges assistance rendered by many Town employees, by various Town boards and committees, and by individual citizens.

Land acquisition - In October the Town voted to acquire two more parcels of conservation land; the 17-acre Burbank parcel in the Cow Common Conservation Area, and the 9.9-acre Rowe parcel in the Pine Brook Conservation Area. With those parcels, the Town now owns 384 acres of conservation land, acquired at a gross purchase price of $735,940 and a net price after reimbursement of $318,996. There is a possibility of further reimbursement of about $29,000 on completed acquisitions.

During the report period the Commission held negotiations on a more-than-casual level with 19 owners of potential conservation land. Two cases resulted in the purchases named above. Four cases foundered because of inability to agree on a purchase price. Seven cases are still open.

Land management - By published advertisements, proposals were requested for farming several fields in the Heard Farm Conservation Area and the Cow Common Conservation Area. Successful bids were accepted on the basis of both price and conditions including proposed fertilization program. Revenue totalling $2,100 from farming fees was turned in to the E & D account.

A community garden, located on the Stewart field on Old Sudbury Road, was opened in May with enthusiastic public participation. More than one hundred persons registered for plots on the three-acre site. In preparation for this project, a charter was granted by the Commission, a committee of nine members was appointed, and a public hearing was held. Substantial assistance was received from the Engineering Department, the Park and Recreation Department, and the Water Department. The cost of land preparation, maintenance, and administration was more than offset by collection of a $5 fee per plot.

The picnic area on Old Sudbury Road was enlarged to contain five tables.

Trail work and vegetation management were continued with use of volunteer labor.

Mr. Fortin's arrival near the end of the report period greatly facilitated all aspects of the Commission's land-management activities.

Wetlands protection - In fulfilling its responsibilities under the Wetlands Protection Act (Massachusetts General Laws Ch. 131, Sec. 40) the Commission inspected 11 sites and determined that the Act applied in 8 cases. Seven owners subsequently filed Notices of Intent with the Commission, and the eighth owner changed his plans. Eight public hearings were held on the 7 cases, plus a ninth hearing on a Notice of Intent filed in June 1974. The Commission issued Orders of Conditions in 6 cases, and 2 cases remain open at the end of the report period. Periodic inspections of the work sites have been made to determine that the work was being done in accord with the terms set forth in the Orders of Conditions.

Flood-plain zoning - At the Annual Town Meeting in April, the Flood Plain District was revised by unanimous vote to make it conform with recent more accurate measurements of the 124-foot contour. Under the same motion, various minor improvements were made in the text of the zoning by-law pertaining to the Flood Plain District and the Watershed Protection District.

Outdoor Education Committee- The Committee assisted the schools with programs throughout the year, and provided outdoor-education-curriculum study-groups with information on outdoor study areas and environmental-resource personnel. Rules to be observed by outdoor-education groups when using Wayland conservation land were drafted in conjunction with the Commission.

Revision of the Trails Booklet (published in May 1970) was commenced. Also, the Committee assisted the Bicentennial Committee in preparation of a booklet describing historical walking tours.

The Committee provided periodic news articles on Wayland Conservation Areas of topical or seasonal interest.

Problems encountered - All problems listed in our preceding report continued throughout this report period, although a start was made in alleviating two of the problems.

Our workload continued to grow in size and difficulty, but the hiring of a Conservation Land Manager made it possible to accomplish many tasks which were impossible with the amount of voluntary effort available from Commission members and other interested citizens. Unfortunately, the Federal funding of this position is temporary.

In connection with the Wetlands Protection Act, the majority of cases continued to originate with observation of unauthorized work in progress rather than with voluntary and timely submission of a formal notice to the Commission. The Board of Appeals and the Board of Health have adopted procedures which will help to overcome this problem, and the Planning Board is preparing an administrative hand book which will summarize all the Town's permit requirements and procedures.

COUNCIL ON AGING

Fiscal Year 1975 proved to be a year of significant accomplishment for the Council in its efforts to meet the problems of our elder citizens.

Most notable was the establishment of a senior center in the library-cafeteria of the Old Junior High School. It was initially opened four hours a day, five days per week. Subsequent extension to eight hour days (nine to five) was made possible by the appointment of a full-time Center Director. This position is now fully funded under the Federal CETA Program. Much equipment for the center was obtained through donations. Items received include a 16 m.m. sound movie projector, spinet piano, pool tables, 25" color TV, furniture and sundries. From February through June, 1975, there were 2,411 visitors to the center for an average of 482 per month.

The Council arranged with the MBTA for the issuance of MBTA half-fare passes at the center. Approximately 125 passes were issue

A lip-reading class for those with hearing difficulty was conducted by a representative of the Guild for the Hard of Hearing.

Security and safety guidance for seniors was coordinated with the Town Police and Fire Departments. Luminescent numbers for homes were provided to facilitate identification in emergencies and a telephone "Hot Line" was established and staffed to maintain daily contact with seniors living alone and desiring such service.

The Parmenter Health Center and the Wayland Board of Health assisted appreciably by (1) operating a free "Well Care Clinic" - (monthly check-up), (2) establishing a "Practical Health Diet Program" - (weight control and nutritional training), (3) providing free flu shots and (4) equipping a first aid room at the center.

The Council opened and maintained active liaison with the Area Agency on Aging (which monitors Federal funds for seniors) and with other State and private organizations dedicated to senior well-being.

We are indebted to our Town Government, the business community and our citizens for outstanding moral and material support throughout the year.

The activities of the Wayland Fire Department for the Fiscal Year 1975 indicate an accelerated expansion due to the greater demands placed on services not previously available to the general public. Some of these services will be elaborated on elsewhere in this report.

In the area of fire prevention the department conducted periodic inspections of all public school buildings, municipal buildings, churches, nursing homes, commercial occupancies, private kindergartens, nursery schools, day care centers and multiple family dwellings. In addition, inspections were made of all oil burner installations and alterations, flammable liquid storage facilities, tank vehicles, home fire warning equipment and commercial fire warning and sprinkler systems. Departmental personnel appeared before numerous school and social groups lecturing on fire prevention practices and were available for home fire prevention inspections when counsel and guidance was sought by the homeowner.

Virtually all commercial building inspections were carried out in cooperation with the Building Department and resulted in the elimination of numerous potential fire hazards.

In service training is a continuing process within the department and progress is more than satisfactory. In addition, many of the personnel are availing themselves of the opportunity to attend fire science courses at the area community colleges and are receiving credits toward associate degrees in fire science. Various seminars and conferences attended added to the general and specialized knowledge of departmental members.

The supplemental call force of the department has been increased to fourteen in number and include many young men who are aspiring to future permanent positions. The curriculum for a sixteen-hour training program has been completed and all call firefighters will be required to attend four 4-hour sessions. Completion of this program will provide the Wayland Fire Department with a well-trained back up force capable of performing all required fire fighting evolutions.

With the acquisition of a new modular ambulance early certification and licensing as a Class I ambulance service is expected. The State Department of Public Health, Division of Emergency Medical Services, will continue to place additional obligations on this service in the areas of advanced training, manpower requirements and services to be rendered. In this regard the Wayland Fire Department is far above average in the percentage of personnel already certified as Emergency Medical Technicians. There are eleven at this writing with two more scheduled to begin training. One member of the department is certified as an Advanced First Aid Instructor and also qualifie to teach cardio pulmonary resuscitation. Another will soon be comple ing an Emergency Medical Technician Instructor Course and, upon his certification, the department will be equipped to train their own E.M.T.'s with only hospital emergency room requirements to be performed outside of duty hours.

Apparatus and equipment of the department is considered excellen and requires only normal preventive maintenance and care. Major equipment such as Fire Department pumpers and aerial ladder trucks are expensive to maintain and much more expensive to repurchase, however, and consideration must be given to an accelerated "major equipment fund" program to ease the burden when it becomes necessary to replace a forty thousand or fifty thousand dollar apparatus.

Alarm systems maintenance and extensions is progressing routinely, however, the expanded alarm system network is creating problems for the Fire Alarm Superintendent in keeping abreast of the normal maintenance requirements. A search is presently in progress for a used bucket truck in satisfactory condition which will greatly facilitate the work of this division.

Recommendations for the future of the department include the establishment of a full-time fire prevention bureau staffed by a lieutenant (new position) and operable on an eight-hour day, five-day-a-week basis. As the Town continues to grow this becomes an increasingly important priority. For proper utilization of manpower and improved efficiency of Fire Department operations the specialized positions of Fire Department Clerk, Mechanic and Fire Alarm Supervisor should be placed on a separate work shift and their places in the fire company filled with the addition of three new firefighters. This would bring to a total of four the minimum number of new firefighters necessary in the department.

At the time of publication of this report a new position of Deptuy Chief will have been established within the department. This will not create a vacancy within the fire fighter and officer ranks as the Deputy Chief will work a regular duty shift in place of a captain, however, his areas of responsibility will be expanded and he will assume the duties of the Chief of Department during any extended absences.

In a personal note, as a newly appointed Chief of the Wayland Fire Department, I would like to extend my appreciation to all members of the department for their wholehearted cooperation and assistance during this period of transition. Their performance has shown them to be men of the highest calibre and character which all citizens of the Town of Wayland can be proud.

I would also like to express extreme appreciation to former Chief Francis Hartin whose building programs over the years of his tenure has made the department one of the finest of its size in New England. The Town of Wayland was most fortunate to have a man of Chief Hartin's ability when leadership and vision were of the essence.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH E. LAWLER, Chief
Fire Department

WAYLAND PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING SERVICE AND PARMENTER HEALTH CENTER

STAFF:

The generalized nursing program is carried out by six public health nurses (the director and five staff nurses). Although each staff nurse is responsible for a school district, all the nurses are involved in the total nursing program.

Ten Boston College senior nursing students came to the Health Center with their instructor to work in the community as part of their public health clinical experience.

WELL CHILD CONFERENCE:

Well Child clinics are offered to Wayland residents whose financial circumstances might preclude preventive health care for their pre-school children. Dr. Freda Beer is the clinic pediatrician.

SCHOOL NURSING:

School nursing accounts for almost 50% of the nurses' time. The actual school visit, including emergency calls, is just one aspect of school nursing. The remaining time is spent visiting with parents or in conferences with students, school personnel, physicians, or clinic personnel. The nurses are members of the CORE teams that evaluate and refer children who have special educational needs. In this way, the nurses become acquainted with the students and their families and provide better service helping to keep them at their highest level of physical and emotional health.

Vision and hearing screening is done yearly on all students grades 1-12. Kindergarten children are screened in the spring at pre-school registration. Parents of students who fail the tests are notified and referred to their physicians. Screening for "Lazy Eye" is done yearly at Parmenter Health Center for pre-school children in Wayland.

The staff nurses and students have been involved this year in teaching segments at the schools as part of the health education program.

THERAPEUTIC NURSING:

Therapeutic nursing refers to patients who are receiving skilled nursing care such as general personal care, dressings, injections, and treatments in their homes or at the office. The nurse also provides emotional support to the patients and family and helps the patient cope with his illness. Teaching the patient and family is an important facet of therapeutic nursing.

For the period July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975, the therapeutic home visits totaled 1,928 and 135 office visits.

There is a fee for therapeutic nursing visits, but frequently payment is handled by third parties such as Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans' Services and Blue Cross, Blue Shield. If not, the fee is based on a sliding scale and no patient is refused care because of inability to pay.

HEALTH PROMOTION:

Health promotion visits, unlike therapeutic nursing visits, require no direct nursing care but focus on teaching, supervision, and referrals. They include visits to families with newborns, pre-school children, school children, specific health problems, and adults of all ages. Teaching growth and development patterns, coping with physical disabilities, communicable disease control and supervision of the elderly with chronic disease are some of the areas included included in these visits. Health promotion is one of the most important functions of the public health nurse as the focus is on disease prevention and control.

Health promotion visits for this period totaled 267 home visits and 50 office visits. There is no fee for health promotion visists.

PHYSICAL THERAPY:

Physical therapy is available for patients in their homes and the fee arrangements are the same as for therapeutic nursing service.

As of June 30, 1975, 376 visits were made to patients for physical therapy.

SPEECH THERAPY:

Speech therapy is available for patients in their homes and the fee arrangements are the same as for therapeutic nursing service.

The speech therapy program includes speech evaluations and classes for pre-school children in Wayland and vicinity. This year there were 25 evaluations and 90 classes for 18 children.

The speech and language department has been certified by the State of Massachusetts under the 766 program. Pre-school children from Wayland and surrounding towns are being referred by their school systems for evaluation and therapy.

FRIENDS OF PARMENTER:

The "Friends" continue to provide volunteer service for the programs at Parmenter Health Center. They provide transportation for residents of Wayland and provide volunteers to assist at pre-school registration, dental clinic, well child clinic and special health programs such as vision and hearing screening and Glaucoma clinic. During holiday seasons they provide cards and gifts for the patients. Because of their generosity, the nurses have more time to devote to nursing functions.

WELL SENIOR CLINIC:

The Well Senior Clinic continues to provide preventive health services to all senior residents of Wayland. Some of the services include Screening procedures: vital signs, simple urinalysis and weight.

Teaching re: general health, chronic problems of aging, medication, diet, specific problems.
Individual counseling re: emotional and physical health.
Information re: other community resources.
Education programs

Transportation is provided and the clinic has been well attended.

A diet workshop for senior residents has been operating for one year at Parmenter Health Center. The focus is on improving dietary patterns through a better understanding of basic nutrition.

In the fall, the Board of Health provided flu vaccination for all senior residents.

In addition to the clinic, the public health nurses continue to make health promotion visits to all senior residents who are unable to attend the clinic.

The Trustees of Parmenter Health Center and the members of the Wayland Board of Health continue to work together to provide high quality health care for the residents of Wayland.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY E. COOPER

HEALTH INSPECTOR

The Inspector periodically inspects all eating and drinking establishments, all retail food stores or other establishments where food is sold and/or manufactured as often as is necessary to maintain standards required by the Wayland Board of Health and the State Sanitary Code.

Milk samples are taken from schools, restaurants, grocery stores, rest homes and delivery trucks and analyzed for excessive bacteria.

Respectfully submitted,
JASON HARRIS
Health Inspector

SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

In accordance with the policies laid down by the Wayland Board of Health, the following categories of children without a private physician were physically examined:

a. Those requiring regular school physical examinations.

b. Those wishing to engage in competitive sports.

c. Those regarded as having special educational needs.

Negotiations have been initiated with the school personnel to develop a closer liaison between the educational and health authorities for the benefit of the students in the latter category.

Male high school students on the wrestling teams were weighed each November in accordance with the regulations laid down by the New England Wrestling Association.

A system was devised with the assistance of the school nursing personnel and put into effect in September 1973 with the objective of providing better emergency care for school personnel. All employees of the Wayland Schools were invited to complete a form stating any medical condition affecting them and indicating the treatment advocated by their physician and to give other pertinent information to facilitate effective emergency care. Participation in this plan is voluntary and the information confidential.

The home Varsity football games were medically supervised mainly by Dr. Ernest Damon and also by Dr. Marthe Mulvaney. The enthusiastic support and interest in the welfare of the players is gratefully acknowledged.

The assistance of Dr. John S. Taub, Dr. Louis Rashin and Dr. James Burke in the sex education program is much appreciated as is the increasing part played by the school nurses in the important aspect of pre-adolescent education.

The support and advice of the Board of Health and the personnel of the Parmenter Health Center continue to be of inestimable benefit in reviewing and implementing the school health policies.

EAST MIDDLESEX MOSQUITO CONTROL PROJECT

The East Middlesex Mosquito Control Project was organized early in 1945 and its annual reports have given an account of its operations for each calendar year since that time. In 1974 the chang to a fiscal year ending June 30th for all cities and towns in the State raised the question of when to submit the report. Recently several members of this mosquito control district have requested a report as soon as possible after January 1st. Complying with these requests this Annual Report is prepared for the calendar year as in the past.

The operational program was scheduled on the same plan as in recent years. A large part of the field work is drainage maintenance. Ditches and culverts are cleaned in order to reduce the amount of stagnant water mosquito breeding areas. Most of this is done in the fall and early winter. Beginning early in January priority is given to the pre-season dusting with Methoxychlor of the potential sources of the spring brood of mosquitos. Its effect does not last into the summer. This year poor ice conditions made the dusting difficult and slow. As soon as mosquito larvae began to show the field work changed to spraying with Abate and that continued as long as mosquito breeding occurred into late summer. At times the men applied Flit MLO or fuel oil where the developing brood was in the pupal stage. When students and teachers were available on summer vacation extra help was hired and the street catch basin spray schedule was in operation with the 3-wheel motorcycle equipment.

Adult mosquito infestations were treated with Malathion ULV aerosol from two truck mounted generators beginning about the first of June. Nearly all of this was overtime work on a dusk to midnight schedule. There are limits to where these trucks can go and in the amount of area they can treat. Therefore, as with larviciding some helicopter service is hired for treating the larger areas. Malathion ULV aerosol is the method used in these applications also. Since some species of mosquitos develop at fairly predictable times we contract for helicopter service for those periods. The several periods are (1) after mid April for spraying the spring brood of larvae, (2) an ULV aerosol application the migratory flights, (3) late June for the early part of emergence of the aquatic-plant-root mosquito Cq. perturbans, and for possible further attack against the spring brood, and (4) finally another ULV aerosol application early in July for the continuing emergency of Cq. perturbans. Sometimes a brood of floodwater mosquitos has appeared at this time. Outside of these commitments the Project can sometimes obtain helicopter service if a machine happens to be available. Summer floodwater mosquitos spend only 5 or 6 days in the larval stage so it is difficult to locate and treat all the sources before the mosquitos reach the adult stage and disperse.

In 1974 rainy weather favored production of the spring brood in April and May requiring more spraying than under average conditions. A short dry spell in June followed by heavy rains caused reflooding and broods of floodwater mosquitos. Then a severe dry period in late July and August curtailed mosquito breeding. Again heavy rains produced broods of floodwater mosquitos in early September and later. These last caused relatively little reaction from the people. In contrast the Cq. perturbans mosquito crop, also more prolific than average this year, caused many complaints in the mid-summer. This is to be expected if the preceding year or two has been more rainy than usual.

There had been some thought of obtaining a third aerosol generator for this year, but there were not enough funds. The increased spraying against adult mosquitos had to take priority over some of the other work of less relative importance. For that reason catch basin spraying was not done in the western part of the district.

The increased emphasis on pesticide regulations and in technical developments make it imperative that mosquito control workmen be more skilled and better informed in all matters pertaining to their activities. There have been no special mosquito control training courses in this State for several years. Finally the Northeastern Mosquito Control Assn. is organizing a short course in Waltham February 10 - 13, 1975. This course will cover most of the basic elements of mosquito control. It may also include discussions in more detail of special features such as equipment capability and maintenance, legal aspects, water management, etc.

The Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has the authority to dictate what pesticides may be used for what purpose and by what methods. It has also ruled that certain pesticides will be designated as "Restricted" and that operators must be "Certified" before they will be licensed to make applications. The EPA also directed that the several States prepare organizations, legislation and programs to carry out the program. In this State the Governor appointed the Secretary of Environmental Affairs to be in charge of the program Late last summer he appointed a "Task Force" to draw up plans. A few weeks ago the Task Force adopted a Core Manual as part of the program. Some sixty people from mosquito control districts took a pre-core manual exam, then received copies of the manual to study. They will take a post-study exam on January 6th. This is to help the Task Force determine the value of the core manual and what additional training may be needed. As the year ended the Task Force submitted a proposal for a "Massachusetts Pesticide Control Act" to set up a Pesticide Board to implement the EPA requirements.

At the present time it is not clear under what jurisdiction mosquito control will be placed in the governmental reorganization scheme Nor is it presently known what will become of the State Reclamation Board. At least one draft of the proposed Massachusetts Pesticide Control Act would seem to give dictatorial powers to the Secretary of Environmental Affairs. It also proposes that four of the members of the Pesticide Board be appointed from the Secretary's own organizatio

There has been considerable publicity about certain non-chemical or what is called "natural materials" to be used against mosquito larvae or adult mosquitos. Quite a number and variety of such materials are being tested. Mosquito control people are keenly interested in these developments. However, we must not overlook the fact that no material can be used for mosquito control until it has been registered for that purpose by the Federal E.P.A. and also by the local State authorities. Only after that can the mosquito control Commission decide whether or not to use the material.

During the year, 69 Disposal Works Construction Permit Applications of septic systems were reviewed, for which permits were issued by the Board of Health. Of these permits, 27 were for new construction, while 42 were for repairs of existing septic systems. Over 300 inspection visits were made to observe test holes, septic system construction and sewage system complaints. Recommendations were made to homeowners for reconstruction of their septic systems.

During the bathing season, water samples were collected from Lake Cochituate and Dudley Pond for a check on the water quality. These waters met the accepted standards for bacteria during the entire season.

ANIMAL INSPECTOR

In Mid-February of 1975, Mr. VanArsdell resigned his position as Animal Inspector, and the post was covered for the rest of the year by William Domey. The following figures are compiled from the animal and barn inspections conducted by Mr. VanArsdell:

Horses	134
Ponies	40
Goats	18
Sheep	19
Cows	23

The Board of Health cooperated with the Wayland 4-H Horse Club in the conducting of a clinic for vaccination of the Town's horses against Equine Encephalomyelitis. There were no reported instated shipments of cattle into Wayland during the year.

THE YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE - DETACHED SOCIAL WORKER

During the fiscal year 1975 (July 1, 1974 - June 30, 1975) the Detached Social Worker, Mr. Neil Hickey, and his assistant Ms. Nancyellen Brennan, continued to serve this community's young people in an outstanding manner. Problems they had to help kids deal with were as varied and complex as each individual they worked with. Computed on an average of an hour session they counseled:

Males	465
	1150

In non-counseling situations, but working with the adolescents on an informational basis, the contracts were:

Males	585

So the total of adolescent contacts for the year was 2230.

An important and necessary part of the social workers task when dealing with kids is to help them deal with the major problems that they face. Obviously, one of their major concerns is school. In order to most effectively help the kids with their difficulties and their concerns about school, the social workers regularly consult with the school personnel.

School Contacts
Guidance
Administration
Teachers	1546

The contacts that the social workers have made with parents that were of any appreciable length or significance in regards their children were 351 contacts.

During the course of the year, while working with the kids, Mr. Hickey and Ms. Brennan have occasion to meet with and consult many other non-school helping agencies, e.g. private therapists, the Youth Guidance Center, Wayland Police, the Youth Advisory Committee, etc. All of these contacts amounted 1483.

This year a total of 5610 individual contacts were made. This averages out to approximately 108 contacts per week.

Needless to say, this program is flourishing. We can only assume that its great success and effectiveness is due in large measure to the high degree of professionalism and dedication that Mr. Hickey and Ms. Brennan bring to their work.

This program is a model for many cities and towns in the area. The Youth Advisory Committee is unanimous in its approval and praise of Mr. Hickey and Ms. Brennan. We hope that their service to the Town will continue.

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION

The Commission during the year ending June 30, 1975 held a number of public hearings and meetings and numerous informal conferences. At the request of the First Parish Church Certificates of Appropriateness were issued authorizing the removal of the window shutters which had been a feature of the appearance of the church building and authorizing changes in the windows on the rear facade of the building.

The Commission also worked with the Woodridge and Wayland Garden Clubs, the Bicentennial Committee, and other Town bodies in improving the appearance of the Mellen Law Office and the railroad station areas.

HISTORIC DISTRICT STUDY COMMITTEE FOR COCHITUATE

During the year of our tenure for studying the advisability of setting up an historic district in Cochituate we accomplished several things. We began by studying the square formed by Main Street, West Plain Street, Pemberton Road, and West Commonwealth Road back down to the intersection with Main Street because this area seemed most representative of the village of Cochituate, Massachusetts. Using a series of maps, we then proceeded to date, within a decade, those houses within this area which were apparently the older edifices. Then, because the facts were rather straight in our own minds, we held a series of three open meetings to which we specifically invited in writing those people immediately involved in this larger area represented by this square. These meetings were held on three consecutive evenings in February at the Community Methodist Church in Cochituate.

With the feedback which we received from the questionnaire and continuum given to the participants at these meetings we had a sense of where the interest was more closely focused. We then zeroed in on a much smaller area in response to this feedback and because we felt that the need for an historic district was more urgent because of the very fragility of this particular area.

Having thus drawn the boundaries of the area which we would have liked to designate as an historic district, the residents, both landlords and tenants, in this much smaller area were contacted personally by a member of this committee. The reception given to committee members, and the lack of real interest on the part of these property owners led us to vote during our May meeting that this was not an auspicious time to push for this historical district in Cochituate. There are several factors that had a bearing on the attitude of the people in this area and we feel that you, as the Selectmen of this Town, should be cognizant of these factors.

1.) The townspeople are still reeling under the impact of the 100% evaluation. Many of these people have expressed the desire to "schuck their property" and go elsewhere to live.

2.) The doubling of the costs of permits connected with altering or building within the Town has left the townspeople aghast.

3.) The state-wide building code which has been foisted upon property owners with all the implications of "certificates of occupancy", etc. has had its own impact.

4.) The idea of an historic district seemed like just one more set of rules to be imposed by a supra-zoning board. The people, it seems, are getting somewhat tired of all the restrictions being placed on them from many levels of government and could not, or would not, buy the idea of an historic district at this time.

For these reasons, we do not recommend that an historic district be set up in Cochituate at this time.

As a committee, we should not like to see this whole idea dropped because there is interest in it; and there are many worthwhile houses of more than a hundred years of age that are quite representative of their historic periods and the total hisotry of the growth of Wayland; but it just does not seem feasible or auspicious to push for that district right now. At another time when the citizens of Cochituate feel a bit more trustful of Wayland Town government, are more informed as to what is "historic" and the hue and cry of the Weston attempt to set up such a district has died down, we should like to see this concept given another "go".

We do not feel that our efforts have been wasted. The maps which we have produced should be helpful when trying to tie a date onto a piece of property within a "zoned for business area" and of help to the Historical Commission. These dates can also be of use to the Zoning Board; and, in fact, were used just prior to the last Town Meeting by said board.

As committee chairman, may I commend the members who made up this group. They were a dedicated, hard-working group who graciously took assignments and carried them through with speed, efficiency, and good will. It was, indeed, my pleasure to have worked with each and every one of them.

HISTORICAL COMMISSION

In the year from July, 1974 through June, 1975 the Historical Commission made rather scant progress in submitting to the State Historical Commission additional inventory forms on buildings of historic or architectural significance and has not come nearly to the end of this mandatory task as was contemplated a year ago. Failure to finish inventory forms has resulted partly from the difficulty of dating many of our older structures; the type of research needed is time-consuming. But also in the year covered by this report our time and energies have been diverted to a considerable degree to supplying historical documentation to various Town boards and in answering requests for information which have come to the Town Clerk and/or the Selectmen from individuals and organizations outside Wayland.

During the year six regular business meetings were held. Additionally, there was held in March, 1975 an educational meeting at which two of our members, George Lewis and Helen Emery, displayed and commented on all known early maps of the Town. To this meeting were invited interested Town officials and the local press. Several of our members attended a spring all-day meeting in Weston of local historical commissions and historic district commissions sponsored by the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

Our chief accomplishments to report for the year are:
1) Notification in September by the Massachusetts Historical Commission that the Wayland Center Historic District had been placed by the U.S. Department of the Interior on the National Register of Historic Places, a listing which comprises individual buildings or groups of structures considered especially worthy of preservation. The Commission was pleased that our application of the previous year came to fruition in the fall of 1974 as this paved the way for requests for grants for repair and restoration of the buildings in the District. The First Parish Church and the Historical Society both took advantage of National Register status to apply for such grants for their buildings.

(2) Cooperation, mostly by supplying information, with the Planning Board in that board's attempt to devise controls over the destruction or alteration of older buildings in the areas of the Town which are zoned for business.

(3) Aid through research and sharing of information with the Bicentennial Committee in its efforts to document and publicize the history of the Town. In this connection our Commission's Chairman complied a chronological list of the buildings still standing in Wayland which were built prior to 1860. Devised to help the Bicentennial Committee, this list was eventually distributed to Town boards and committees and made available to the Wayland Library.

(4) One of our members devoted considerable time to being chairman of an Historic District Study Committee for Cochituate. Information developed by that committee will enable our Commission to complete inventory forms for the State on buildings in the center of Cochituate.

(5) We have continued to try to plan for better informational signs concerning local history. We hope that in the coming year the Massachusetts Department of Public Works will get around to changing the incorrect date of incorporation of the "Entering Wayland" signs. (They have finally agreed that the error of stating 1835, which we pointed out over a year ago, should be corrected. The Chairman of our Commission finally had to resort in the fall of 1974 to written documentation by Mr. Leo Flaherty, Curator of the State Archives, to prove that our date of incorporation is 1780.)

The Commission is trying to work out with the Selectmen a plan for one or more signs showing the very early date of settlement of the Town. This is not yet settled. However, a design has been made, permission from the proper authorities granted, and an order given for a sign for the Mellen Law Office on the Town green.

(6) The Wayside Inn Chapter of the D.A.R. gave us permission to use its Bicentennial compilation of an inventory of historical markers in Wayland as the basis for information on such markers we are preparing for the State Historical Commission. The Road Commissioners consulted our Commission in connection with moving the Knox Trail Marker when the Five Paths road intersection reconstruction is made.

From the above enumeration of some of our activities it can be seen that while plugging along with research of the buildings and structures in the Town for the State inventory we have been called upon by various Town agencies to supply historical data about the Town. We are glad to cooperate and help; this is one of the reasons for our existence. One of our aims, according to the Massachusetts Historical Commission with which we work closely, should be to help and encourage the Planning Board to include considerations of preservation (of significant structures) in its master plan for the Town.

WAYLAND HOUSING AUTHORITY

By summer of 1974 all major items of construction at Bent Park were completed, leaving the Authority with the so-called "smaller items" of a punch list, and a retention of monies from the General Contractor.

Litigation regarding the purchase price of the land now known as Bent Park was settled with the resulting cost of Thirty-six Thousand Dollars.

The fall and winter of 1974 involved seeking out of feelings and thoughts toward a second community such as on Bent Avenue. Meetings were held with the Selectmen, Planning Board, and interested residents of Wayland and the Architect of Bent Park.

In December, 1974 the Article for the Annual Town Meeting in the spring of 1975 was prepared and presented to the Selectmen.

In March, 1975 the Director attended the first local seminar regarding Federal Monies available under Section "8". Housing Assistance Payments Program. This program is similar to the State program 707, where apartments throughout the Town are subsidized by the Housing Authority with Federal funding.

At the Authority's Annual Meeting held on April 2, 1975, the following positions were duly and unanimously filled:

Chairman	Francis J. Hartin
Vice Chairman	Victor G. Pesek
Treasurer	A. Elliott McNeill
Assistant Treasurer	Mary M. Howard
Secretary and Executive Director	Joanne E. Bache

At the Annual Town Meeting the Article was presented requesting the Town to authorize the land between Doran Road, Lakeview Road, Main Street, and Cross Street to be used for housing for elderly persons of low income in accord with Section V. (d) 3. of the Zoning By-Laws.

Transparencies of the proposed community were prepared by the Town Engineer and shown at the Town Meeting along with site plans prepared by Reinhardt Associates. The Article was unanimously accepted.

At the Annual Town Election, held in April, 1975, Mr. Frank Melanson was elected as a member of the Housing Authority to fill the vacancy of Mr. Edward Thorburn's expiring term.

Mr. Thorburn took the knowledge of his private endeavors and his general good will and put them to use during his three years with the Housing Authority and served it well. It was a unanimous vote of the Authority to express their respect and appreciation of him.

In May, 1975, the Authority applied for and was granted a subsidy of $2,760.00 per year by the Department of Community Affairs for two apartments in Wayland. Subsidy of existing buildings seem to be a good way of providing housing for families without producing a large impact on any particular part of Town, school or service-providing department. We hope to be able to proceed in a gradual manner along these lines.

Subsidized housing is not necessarily the answer to the problem, it might be likened to taking aspirin after you get a cold. Man could be high-pricing himself out of existence as we know it in this era, and only a war, depression or other defasting event complete unknown to us now could make all people more aware of sharing what they have or are able to give, and less aware of the profit or luxury notions.

The deeds and time involved in reversing the trend of our cost of housing and living would be so many and take so long, we probably would not see a measurable result in our own time; yet if some generation does not make a start - there surely will be an end.

As of June, 1975 there is a waiting list of one hundred twenty-eight persons for elderly housing and eleven for family housing.

This year the Authority would like to thank the organizations who gave or made available their services for the tenants of Bent Park... The Town Crier, Park and Recreation Department, Parmenter Health Center, local and surrounding stores, and many others; also the tenants deserve a big pat on the back for giving so much of themselves to the residents of this Town. We have a growing "employment service" here. Part-time grandmothers and grandfathers have turned out to be in demand!

THE LIBRARY

PROPOSED ADDITION Activities for the Library in the beginning of the fiscal year were focused on developing plans for the proposed addition to the Library. The Friends of the Library kicked off the campaign by holding a public meeting in which Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Leonard P. Entin, explained the need for the new building as well as answered questions about the plans. Additionally a series of coffees were held through the Town so that trustees, building committee members and staff could more fully respond to questions from the community. All involved were deeply disappointed when the proposed addition was defeated at the Special Town Meeting.

STAFF Several staff changes were noted during the year. Ms. Hazel Williamson, a staff member at the Cochituate branch, resigned and was replaced by Ms. Patricia deBolt-Goldenberg. Ms. Rita Aberbach rejoined the reference staff at Wayland.

Ms. Adrienne Dorfman, Assistant Director, resigned to become the Director of the Northborough Library. Ms. Louise Brown, Head of Technical Services, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Director.

The Library instituted a self-evaluation and mutual goal-setting process whereby staff members, together with their supervisors, mutually decide on goals for their jobs for the coming year. These goals are then used at the end of the year by the staff member and the supervisor to evaluate that staff member's performance.

PROGRAMS The Library was one of three libraries in Massachusetts and 40 in the country chosen to participate in the "Freedom and Responsibility" film series under a grant from the National Commission on the Humanities. Other film series offered by the Library included feature-length and a winter film entertainment series.

Ms. Louise Brown participated in a series sponsored by the Bureau of Library Extension on document conservation. One of the outcomes of this program was a survey of the Library done by the New England Document Conservation Center. This report details at some length the physical limitations of our building with regard to the physical preservation of materials. Several volunteers, using skills learned from the conservation series, are working in the Cage on a beginning program of cataloging and restoration.

The Library has begun a program utilizing and training volunteers. We hope to expand and professionalize volunteer activity at the Library during the next year.

At the Cochituate branch the story hour mothers developed a series of programs whereby resource people from the community came to talk to the group.

The Library also offered a leadership series for women in the spring. The focus of the series was on dimensions of leadership including functions of groups, communication skills, assertiveness training, and conflict management.

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY The goals for the Friends group this year included children's services, service to shut-ins, work with old materials, etc. The Friends have also developed a gift list of materials too expensive for the Library to purchase. The Friends also sponsored a Centennial party at the Cochituate branch.

PHYSICAL FACILITY The entire first floor of the main library building received a much needed coat of paint. The furnace, by dint of frequent repairs, made it through the winter.

BOOKS AND MATERIALS The Library acquired a total of 4,771 items. The art print collection which is extremely popular was expanded. The Library purchased over 95% of the over-the-counter requests from patrons. The only materials not purchased were older or obscure titles and text books. Because of our space problem, we are purchasing fewer reference books, adding no new periodicals, and are beginning to weed the non-fiction areas heavily.

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT The Children's Room had a busy year. During the school year three pre-school story hours were offered as well as every week two elementary school story hours. On Halloween a party was held where all the children wore their costumes. There was also as usual a Christmas party. In June to mark the end of the story hour program, a puppet show was given for all the story hour children. The Summer Program this year featured the Time Machine, which transported us back in time on Thursdays at 10 A.M. and 2 P.M. The Children visited prehistoric times, ancient Greece, ancient Egypt, medieval times, Revolutionary War days and the future with films, games, stories and food. Prizes of paperback books were given to all children who read a required number of books. The program was heavily attended and enjoyed by the participants. As part of the summer program, a summer pre-school story hour was held twice a week.

The Children's Librarian made visits to Claypit Hill School, Loker School, and Happy Hollow School during the year, telling stories and giving book talks. Two workshops on Children's Literature were held at the Library - one on new trends in realism and one on sexism in children's literature. Staff members, school librarians, and interested members of the public attended.

The Junior High Library Club had an active year. Among other things they saw films, visited the Science Museum, the Museum of Fine Arts, the Aquarium, the Fogg Museum, did a quilting project, and talked about books, books, books. Bobbie Robinson spoke to them about edible wild plants. The members of the club have been very helpful serving as volunteer aides during the summer.

The Children's Librarian selected and annotated the Wayland Junior High reading list for the school.

Mrs. Pratt arranged several excellent exhibits in the Children's Room. One of the most popular displayed arts and crafts done by the children themselves. Included were drawings, pottery, dolls, sculpture, quilts and stories.

WAYLAND LOW-MODERATE INCOME HOUSING COMMITTEE

The Wayland Low-Moderate Income Housing Committee has confirmed that there is a need in Wayland for multi-family rental housing for all income and age groups and that there are several viable sites in Town for this purpose. The Committee has determined that the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency has the most effective housing programs because of its close regulation of all aspects of development and its favorable financing package for participating towns.

Accordingly, the Committee recommends that it be continued and authorized to commence negotiations directly with developers with the express purpose of bringing before the next Town Meeting a specific proposal for an MHFA-financed housing development on a specific site.

We now ask the Town to accept this report.

MINUTEMAN REGIONAL VOACATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

One thousand nine hundred and seventy-five was highlighted by the opening of the new facility for the Minuteman Regional Vocational Technical School in January and the appointment of a Superintendent-Director in December.

Ronald J. Fitzgerald, the new Superintendent-Director, has recently served as Executive Officer and Director of Research for the Massachusetts Advisory Council on Education (MACE). His previous experience includes ten years as Superintendent of the Amherst-Pelham Regional School District. Dr. Fitzgerald's selection is the result of an eight-month search which began when former Superintendent-Director Samuel H. Sains resigned. The process included consultation with the thirteen superintendents in the District on methods and criteria for selecting a qualified, capable administrator, screening of over 100 applicants, interviews of seven finalists by constituent groups (superintendents, administrative staff, faculty, parents, students), and final in-depth interviews of the three top candidates by the full School Committee.

Faculty and students moved into the new building in January; complete occupancy of the facility was marked by a Dedication and Open House on June 14 attended by citizens of the District, which includes the towns of Acton, Arlington, Belmont, Boxborough, Carlisle, Concord, Lexington, Lincoln, Stow, Sudbury, Wayland, and Weston.

The school and program are planned to provide students with marketable occupational skills and the foundation for further education when appropriate. Each year the program expands to the next level as the freshman class of 1974-75 moves through the four years toward graduation. School opened on September 2, 1975 with both 9th and 10th grade students enrolled.

At the present time, 9th grade students spend half of each day in academic areas and the other half in occupational areas. The academic half includes Communication Arts, Human Relations, Math, Science, and Physical Education; the occupational half allows students to experience eight different vocational areas on an exploratory basis for five weeks each.

This year, 10th grade students follow a "week about" schedule. One week is spent in academic studies, full time; the next week is spent full time in one of four occupational areas. Each period lasts ten weeks.

Next school year (1976-77), an 11th grade will be added and each student will concentrate on one major vocational program. With the inclusion of cooperative work opportunities in local businesses and industries in 1977-78, the four-year program will be complete.

During the coming months, in addition to the regular program, Minuteman will be offering three other programs: Time-Sharing, Occupational Competency, and Adult Eduation.

Time-Sharing began in December; this program requires close cooperation of District schools in adjusting student schedules so that 8th, 9th, and 10th grade students can spend half a day in exploratory programs at Minuteman, half a day in their regular academic program in their home schools.

The Occupational Competency Program, which is funded by a Federal grant of $57,000, offers 9th through 12th grade students in the District a two-afternoon-a-week opportunity to explore eighteen career areas as a way of increasing their awareness of vocational possibilities

Adult Education, scheduled to open early in 1976, will provide evening courses which make use of many of Minuteman's special facilities and equipment.

Whenever practicable, Minuteman programs provide actual work experiences for students. Currently, Culinary Arts students are operating the Fife and Drum Restaurant, a dining room located in the Mall of the school and open to the public from 11 A.M. to 1 P.M. each week day. Distributive Education students staff the two stores, also located in the Mall and open to the public. During the summer of 1975, thirteen students were paid to work in a public cafeteria program serving 300 to 500 persons daily, including many Bicentennial visitors from other parts of the country and overseas. Intended as a break-even operation, the summer cafeteria actually netted $400.

In April, 1975, Alfred C. Cron of Sudbury was elected chairman of the committee, succeeding Henry L. Hall, Jr., of Belmont, who had served six years as Chairman of the School Committee and its precedent Planning Committee. Rico A. Merluzzo of Arlington was elected Vice-chairman, and Ruth W. Wales of Lincoln continues as Secretary.

Other committee changes include the resignations of William F. Fitzgerald of Lexington and George B. Banfield of Boxborough. Mr. Fitzgerald was instrumental in securing several scholarships to be awarded to graduating seniors. He is replaced by Richard F. Zeoli of Lexington. John J. Shimkus is the new member from Boxborough.

Also during the past year, a Parents Organization was formed and has been active in supporting the school in various ways.

One thousand nine hundred seventy-five was an eventful year for the Minuteman Regional Vocational Technical School, requiring considerable extra effort on the part of all those involved. The School Committee deeply appreciates the work of all who are endeavoring to develop the outstanding educational facility envisioned when the District was formed.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING PLANNING COMMITTEE

The Annual Town Meeting appropriated $47,000 for the purpose of planning the remodeling of the Old Junior High School for Town Office purposes and reassigning of the Town Office Building to Police and Fire utilization.

The School Administration Building would be eliminated.

There was an amendment for the article which charges the Committee to come in with a plan which would cost the Town under $500,000

The Committee is now in the process of preparing the plans provided for under the article and the amendment.

MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC POWER COMMITTEE

The Municipal Electric Power Committee continues slowly in its mission to determine the feasibility of establishing a municipal light department to provide electric utility service to Town residents. We also intend to act in an advisory role on various other utility matters of interest to the Town.

The Committee regrets deeply its loss of member John F. Regan, one of the finest people on earth, who died suddenly at the turn of the year. John Regan's radiant good spirit and common sense have always been a special inspiration for each of us. Most of all, we wish he would have stayed on with us, but we are grateful for our association with him.

This year the Committee has been in a holding pattern, waiting for the tax valuation of Boston Edison's property in Wayland to be completed. As previously reported, the fair market value of Edison's poles, wires, transformers, and meters in Wayland is a key ingredient in our cost-of-acquisition study for proposed municipal operation. In the past, Edison has reported its own valuation to the Board of Assessors on the basis of depreciated original cost, obviously less than fair market, which is based on current replacement cost.

At the time of this report, the long-awaited valuation has just been released, and it turns out to be no more than 10% higher than the Company's self-assessment. We are somewhat surprised at this small difference, and we intend to explore the issues involved. For FY 1976 tax bills, the consequence of townwide revaluation has been a 75% reduction of the amount payable by Boston Edison Company. This is a direct loss of more than $215,000 annually, which must be made up by other taxpayers at the rate of $53 per household per year. This hidden increase in our electric bills is more than triple the amount granted the Company on 9/30/75 by the DPU. Meanwhile, the Town taxed Edison's transmission easements for the first time this year, but the benefit of this new tax policy to residents is just 58¢ per household per year. (These calculations are on file with the Committee.)

We intend to cooperate with the Board of Assessors in an attempt to verify the new Edison valuation carefully, including examination of the appraisers' workpapers and various cross-checks and analyses of comparables. If the valuation is correct, municipal purchase of the facilities will be even more advantageous than we originally determined. Initial outlay and annual in-lieu property tax payments will be far less than we had estimated, and thus our savings much greater. On the other hand, if the valuation is erroneously low, we can help to get it raised up to a proper level. This Committee does not believe that Boston Edison needs a special subsidy from the taxpayers of Wayland.

We had hoped that we could report by now that corrective legislation was enacted to restore to towns their historic right to acquire utility property, as in most other states, and as in Massachusetts up until 1929. Unfortunately, the fate of H. 3295 (same as S. 18 last year) remains uncertain at this time. The newly elected governor, a early advocate of electric municipalization in his own town, has prom ised to support this bill, and evidently is doing so, but we cannot predict the outcome. We believe it is important to all consumers that their towns have the option to operate electric light departments, whether or not any town ever uses the option. We intend to continue to press for this vital law correction.

After a vigorous legal contest, our Chairman has now been formally recognized as an expert witness by the Public Utilities Commission of Massachusetts. In the recently decided Edison rate case he presented computer results and mathematical testimony showing th Edison's rate of return presentation was grossly in error. The Commission decided that the Edison presentation was without merit, quoting from our Chairman's testimony in order, and cut about $20,000,0 out of the requested rates on that basis.

The importance of the cost of electricity has begun to impress itself on Wayland residents, especailly with the major increases of the last two years. Consequently, we feel it is our duty to work harder to cope with this problem. We intend to do so, and we look forward to the day we can choose between Edison and our own local light department.

PARK-RECREATION DEPARTMENT

RECREATION:

The people of Wayland have challenged the Park and Recreation Commission by asking that we help them meet their ever increasing leisure-time needs. Both youngsters and adults are demanding more programs, activities, and facilities which will provide them with the opportunity to add to their happiness as well as their mental, physical and spiritual growth.

In attempting to meet the "challenge" the Park and Recreation Cor mission through the federally funded CETA program obtained the services of Steve Mainini as a full-time recreation director to aid the uperintendent of Park and Recreation to plan, develop, and carry out comprehensive year-round recreation program for all the citizens of Wayland.

Some of the new and expanded programs and activities implemented re: Adult Women's Softball League (6 teams), Soccer League for chool age girls, Inovative Summer Playground programs, Outdoor novies at the Town Beach, Concert at the Beach, Women's Fun & Fitess, Gymnastics for school age children, Women's Recreational Activities, Men's Invitational Softball Tournament, Summer girls and oys Basketball Teams, Men's Tennis League, and a Summer Suburban wim Team.

PARK AND CEMETERIES:

The Commission continues to strive to maintain the natural beauty f 400 acres of our Town Parks, Cemeteries, School Grounds, and eaches. The Park and Cemetery Maintenance Crew mow, trim, and dge all grass areas; renovate and line 17 sports fields, fertilize, me, and seed when necessary, maintain skating areas, bark mulch nd trim all Town plants and shrubs at school and Town buildings.

REES:

The Commission continues its defined program of taking down dead nd diseased trees, spraying to control tree diseases and planting new ees yearly to replace the trees taken down.

The Department has sold 22 Cemetery Lots and has had 53 Burials uring the Fiscal Year.

Income was as follows:

Beach:	7,272.85
Recreation:	2,814.00
Cemetery:	17,001.00

The Commission wishes to thank W. H. Irvine, a retired commissioner, for his devoted services while on the Board. In April, 975, Richard Kealty was elected to the Board for a three-year term.

The Commission would like to thank our Superintendent, Alex Foldeak, the men and women of our Department, all other Town Departments and Boards, and all the Wayland Residents --- without their assistance and interest we could not function.

WAYLAND PERSONNEL BOARD

During the year July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975, the Wayland Personnel Board's principal efforts were once again directed toward representing the Town in collective bargaining. This year in an effor to increase efficiency and conserve time, the Board divided into five collective bargaining teams. The members of the Board were assign responsibility for the various negotiations as follows:

Peter Baker - Fire Fighter Contract
Joyce Bertelsen - Clerical Contract
Ed Marston - Highway Contract
Al Phillips, Police Contract
John Pratt - Water Department Contract

It was initially contemplated that each member would be joined b the department head responsible for the particular unit and an associa member of the Board. Two residents of the Town, Pat Harlan and Ray Shelgren, participated actively in negotiations with the clerical and police units, respectively, and were of invaluable assistance to the Board. The Board expresses its deep gratitude to both of them.

The Board's effectiveness in negotiations and in its other responsibilities was increased immeasurably in February 1975 when Walter George was employed by the Town as Administrative Assistant, and as one of his duties was assigned to assist the Personnel Board. Sinc assuming his position, Walter has attended every meeting of the Boar and every negotiating session with each of the units and has been able to provide needed liaison between each of the bargaining teams. In addition, he has been of invaluable assistance to the Board in preparing meeting agenda and minutes. He has also been able to bring up-to-date various Personnel Board records and performed other time-consuming tasks which are difficult for a volunteer board.

Completing negotiations on the eve of Town's Annual Meeting in April, 1975, the Police unit became the first group to settle. The principal terms of the agreement were a 5% general increase, a night shift differential of 5¢ per hour, a revised longevity schedule, and an eleventh paid holiday, Martin Luther King Day (January 15). Subsequently, while the Annual Meeting was still in progress, the Water and Clerical units also agreed to contracts on terms relatively similar to those agreed to with the Police unit. The economic portions of these contracts were explained to and approved by the Town at the Annual Meeting.

Subsequent to the Annual Meeting, agreements were completed with the Fire Fighters' union and the Wayland Highway Association. The Fire Fighters negotiations were completed in June, 1975 and resulted in the first three-year contract entered into by the Town. The increase for the first year was 5.5% with subsequent increases to be based on a cost-of-living formula, pursuant to which wages will be increased three cents per hour for each full point increase in the national Consumer Price Index (with a maximum increase of 9.47% and a minimum increase of 3%). This formula should provide an equitable basis for future increases for employees in this unit without either party being required to undergo time-consuming negotiations each year. It is hoped that similar multi-year contracts may be entered into with other units in future years. In addition to the wage increase, the fire fighters were granted the longevity revision and eleventh holiday agreed upon with the Police, Clerical, and Water units and incentive pay of $100 per year for licensed Emergency Medical Technicians.

The Highway negotiations were the most prolonged, the parties being in disagreement over whether wage adjustments made the preceding year were sufficient to warrant settlement with this unit on the same basis as other Town units. Highway Association members vigorously argued that their wages were considerably below those of comparable employees in other towns. With the assistance of a state mediator, agreement was finally concluded in August with a 5.5% increase, and certain other benefits consistent with those granted to the other units.

Formal grievances arose only in the Police unit and were resolved before submission to arbitration.

In addition to participating in collective bargaining negotiations and grievances, the Personnel Board also reviewed various personnel issues affecting both union and non-union groups and approved salary increases for the various department heads.

THE WAYLAND PLANNING BOARD

Highlights

The year (July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975) saw the Planning Board engaged in a broad variety of activity. The Planned Development By-Law which was passed by the Annual Town Meeting in March, 1974 failed to gain the approval of the Attorney General, and the summer of 1974 found us engaged in making changes to meet his objections. A revised by-law passed with a unanimous vote at a Special Town Meeting in October, 1974. It was subsequently approved by the Attorney General, and the Mainstone Farm condominium development is now going through early stages of planning.

The Planning Board has also been working on a study of business areas in Wayland. Information was gathered and analyzed. This was distilled into a set of planning guidelines which were presented at the April, 1975 Town Meeting. The guidelines are now being used to develop conceptual designs for the business zoned areas.

We have been seeing more plans for small subdivisions lately.

By attendance of representatives at various Zoning Board of Appeals' hearings, the Planning Board communicated its views on development proposals of townwide concern.

Regulations

During the year, the Planning Board has written Planned Development Regulations and revised its Subdivision Regulations.

Mainstone Farm Planned Development

The Planning Board is involved in two new experiences: application of the Planned Development By-Law and participation in the planning and design of the Mainstone Farm Planned Development. Some changes from the conceptual plan have been proposed. The idea of a golf course was abandoned by the developer, however, the intention is still to create a living environment consistent with the rural character of Wayland.

The Board has been working closely with the design consultants, the developers, and other Town boards. We anticipate many more meetings and work sessions to ensure that the standards in the Planned Development By-Law and Regulations are satisfied to the Town's benefits.

Business Study

Following up its 1972 questionnaire, the Planning Board began an in-depth study of Wayland's business areas. This has been the concern of the Planning Board for years, but until now money and extra help was not available. Under the guidance of our planner and with the assistance of many townspeople, information was gathered from reports, studies, surveys, Town records, newspaper articles, and meetings. The major focus of the study is to improve the existing business areas. A sample of inquiries found merchants, consumers, those who pass through agree that most of the business areas are congested with traffic, lack of convenient parking spaces, are not oriented for pedestrians, are haphazardly planned, and are generally unattractive. The basic question is how to deal with these problems and to plan ahead for new development and changes.

Planning guidelines were developed from this information. They are:

1. Realize the Development Potential Within Existing Business Districts

   a) Sufficient space is available within existing business districts to provide for many new services. Until this space is developed no major expansions or new districts should be created. (There are currently approximately 25 acres within existing business districts.)

   b) In order to significantly affect the tax rate Wayland would need to attract businesses the size of Raytheon or a large number of smaller ones. New business is not, necessarily, good for the Town's economy. (To lower the tax rate by $1.00, using current assessment figures, it would require adding 4 to 5 new banks or 14 new gas stations or 3 new restaurants the size of Finnerty's or 11 new professional buildings of 3,000 square feet each.)

2. No Addition of New Lots to Business Districts Along Routes 20 and 30

   a) The Planning Board opposes scattered, piece-meal development. Rather, it favors concentrated business development which is carefully planned.

   b) An appropriate balance between residential and business uses should be maintained. Already there are many businesses within and outside the business districts on both Routes 20 and 30.

   c) There are, already, serious problems with traffic, parking, drainage, and access. With the development of the Higgins property and the new liquor store under construction there will be even greater difficulties than now exist.

3. Recognize and Support Wayland and Cochituate Centers as Major Focal Points for Business

   a) The potential for redevelopment of Wayland Center into a Town Center is great because it is the physical confluence of many of the Town's assets and existing services. It is the geographical, administrative, historic, and transportation center. Cochituate Center, likewise, is a major commercial center.

   b) Space is still available for new development and redesign of existing development.

   c) The existing business district boundaries were carefully selected and rationalized. No major changes should be recommended until detailed, site-by-site evaluations are made.

4. Minimize Traffic Congestion Around Shopping Areas

   a) Congestion is bad for business.

   b) Congestion around shopping areas is a long-standing problem and is growing worse.

5. Changes in Use Between Residential and Business are of Such Significant Interest and Impact that They should be Decided at Town Meeting

   a) This form of use change constitutes a zoning change and as such should be voted on by the townspeople. Zoning changes should be viewed for their neighborhood and townwide impact, not just in terms of the specific site conditions.

b) Since the number of businesses in Wayland is limited, each change to a business use is significant.

6. Preserve a Balance of Available Services

a) Wayland's businesses offer a wide variety of services. Although there are some services lacking in Town, people seem to be fairly satisfied with the number and mixture. People have elected to go to nearby communities for some of their shopping.

b) The Planning Board recommends against more gas stations and fast-food restaurants because of the problems of litter and traffic and because there are too many of them.

c) Space should be available for a variety of services. This does not, necessarily, mean that Wayland should provide for every service. Often, the type of services available depends more on economics, than on expressed desires for such services. What people say they want and what they will support have been shown to be two different things.

7. Encourage Policies Compatible with a Greater Network of Sidewalks and with Public Transportation

a) Emphasize pedestrian access and comfort. Wayland is, basically, a residential town. It should be safe and convenient for people.

b) Shopping should be convenient and feasible for people who either don't own cars or don't drive. Such people include young children, incapacitated people and non-drivers.

c) We need to plan ahead so that if such facilities are feasible, there is adequate land for them.

8. Encourage Preservation of Old/Historic Structures

a) Wayland has many historic, old structures which add to its character.

The next phase, now underway, is to translate these guidelines into general concepts illustrating how each business area can be developed to improve parking, pedestrian and traffic flow, and visual amenities.

Town Meeting Articles

The Planning Board successfully sponsored articles requiring need to be demonstrated for restaurants in Roadside Districts, sidewalks to be built if new construction occurs in Business A Districts, the control of the number of dog kennels and requiring standards for conversion of single family houses into two-family houses. In addition, the Board successfully opposed three articles submitted by petitioners seeking zoning changes from residential to business use. The Board was able to substantiate its position with data collected from the business study and concluded that there is substantial vacant space available in existing business districts.

Professional Help

The Planning Board is able to give top priority to both the Mainstone Farm Planned Development and the business study because it has the help of a part-time planning consultant, Elizabeth Kline. She coordinates projects, is a liaison between Planning Board and other parties and helps evaluate thoroughly all planning proposals. The Town should encourage more of this kind of assistance.

Subdivisions

In the past year the number of small subdivisions plans submitted has increased. Land development has progressed to a point, it seems, where marginal parcels are coming before the Board.

The number of subdivisions plans approved from July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975 are:

LOTS APPROVED	NEW ROADS
10	Peartree Lane 370'

Representation

The Planning Board is represented on various committees:

Conservation Commission
School Building Planning Committee
Sidewalk Committee
Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee
Joint Regional Transportation Committee
S.I.L.C. Suburban Intertown Liaison Committee
S.I.L.C. I-290 Committee
Metropolitan Area Planning Council

Projects for 1975-76

Three projects will occupy most of the Planning Board's time beside subdivision review: participation in the design and review of the Mainstone Farm Planned Development, continuation of the business study, and revision of the Zoning By-Laws. The extent of the Board's involvement in the Mainstone Farm Development depends on the developer's initiative. If this occurs during the next year, then the Board can anticipate a heavy schedule of meetings, discussions, and work sessions. The business study will emphasize design concepts for each business area, beginning with the Boston Post Road (Route 20). Revision of the Zoning By-Laws was endorsed by the Finance Committee and is long overdue. A Zoning Revision Committee consisting of Town officials and residents, will consider how to reorganize and update the Town's By-Laws. It is hoped that some zoning recommendations will be ready for discussion and voted at Annual Town Meeting.

Suburban Intertown Liaison Committee

S.I.L.C. was dissolved in the spring of 1975 having accomplished what it was initially created for to prevent the I-290 extension and mid-circumferential highway.

Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC)

During the past year, the MAPC staff has made an effort to be more responsive to the needs of its member communities. The Council now sends out on a regular basis two new communications which are aimed at keeping members informed on developments at the State House and of meetings of possible interest. The first, a weekly notice, called the Legislative Status Report, describes by category (e. g. education, local affairs, etc.) each pending bill, its number, when and where hearings are scheduled, committee or chamber voting, or other actions. This report is received by both your MAPC representative and by the Executive Secretary, whose copy is usually available in the Town Building. The second communication, called the Calendar, is a monthly listing of all MAPC meetings, working sessions of its Technical Advisory Committees (TAC), and pertinent public sessions of other groups (e.g. Joint Regional Transportation Committee (JRTC), Corps of Engineers, etc.). The Calendar is sent to your MAPC representative and is ordinarily posted in the Town Building.

A major study project on Open Space and Recreation in the Metropolitan Area was completed during the past year. This is basically an expansion and updating of an earlier more general report on the topic begun as a series almost 10 years ago. Specifically, it deals with watershed land use planning and is entitled, "The River Systems Study". The Wayland Conservation Commission reviewed a draft version and refined certain features of the plan as it pertained to Wayland. Upon publication, copies of Volume 6 may be obtained from the MAPC office.

An ambitious, new study was initiated this year by the TAC on Comprehensive Planning, of which your MAPC representative is a member. The intent of the study is to produce a regional, comprehensive development plan based on coherent policies for land use, transportation, housing, economic growth and other environmental (sewer, water,...), and social (schools, recreation...) issues. Although the plan is considered to be a continuing process, the study is scheduled for a three-year duration, beginning with a de facto assessment, then an evaluation of choises for the future and resulting in legislative and administrative recommendations for future growth patterns. Public meetings, and other opportunities for citizen participation, will be held throughout the region as each stage of the plan develops.

Assault with intent to murder	2
Assault & Battery	8
Breaking and Entering	52
Larceny	73

The past year saw the formation of a Dective's Association within Middlesex County, which holds monthly meetings in Stoneham. These meetings enable information to be discussed dealing with criminal activities of known felons committing B&E's, armed robberies, and sexual attacks. Through this effort a more effective means for dealing with the criminal has been made.

Along with this, monthly meetings are held at Weston Police Department known as "Operation Exchange" with the immediate area towns surrounding Wayland, with fruitful results. A primary example is an individual who was apprehended this past June in Weston, which resulted in numerous B&E's being solved in the area. This subject was picking his victims from the Who's Who.

Due to new state law, a rape squad has been instituted. The towns of Weston, Lincoln, and Wayland have combined forces because of manpower limitations and developed a four-officer team, including one woman. They all have received a 32-hour training seminar from the Massachusetts Training Council, specializing in the procedures for interviewing, investigating, and processing of these cases.

This will enable a more professional appraoch for dealing with this type of crime, with emphasis being put on the concern and welfare of the victim, followed by the collecting of physical evidence in the correct manner so that the victim does not suffer unnecessary abuse while protecting the due process of law.

More emphasis has been made on collecting physical evidence at the scene of the crime, having been trained at the two-week courses at the Crime Scene Search School of the State Police in Framingham. This Department has been able to present physical evidence in Court that has led to greater and more successful prosecution of the felon.

The past year has seen an increase in petty crimes, such as Larceny. Drugs have not been that prevalent, though marijuana and Class D substances seem to be increasing in popularity. It has been found upon arrest, many persons are found to possess a pipe and bag of grass.

PUBLIC AND COMMUNITY RELATIONS

A very successful Public and Community Relations Program was coordinated this past year at very little cost to the Town. Some of the programs done this past year were:

"Crime and the Businessman", a five-week seminar, co-sponsored with the Wayland Kiwanis Club. The topics included shoplifting, robbery, burglary, vandalism, counterfeiting, and flim flam, and were presented by persons considered experts in their respective fields. The emphasis was on crime prevention, the role of local law enforcement, and the role of the victim.

"Deter and Deny" is a second program which developed from "Crime and the Businessman", in which businesses were urged to have security checks done of their premises by police officers in order to improve security and minimize the danger of shoplifting, breaking and entering, and even armed robberies.

"Senior Citizen Hotline", a joint effort of the Police Department, the Wayland Kiwanis and the Wayland Senior Citizens' Club to have elderly persons or shut-ins check in by phone to the Hotline each day for company, and to prevent tragedies from happening. Although sponsored by the Wayland Kiwanis originally, for the first year the program has been considered so successful it will become a permanent activity funded by the Council on Aging.

A second part if this project, "House Number", was to provide each of the homes of senior citizens with reflectorized numbers in order that they could be readily identified in case of emergency. This was funded by the Council on Aging, the Friends of Parmenter, and a gracious lady from Medford.

Neighborhood "Koffee Klatch" has continued as a very successful program, and has been supplemented by a second new program this year "Neighborhood Watch". This program is an effort to disseminate information of criminal activity or methods, or wanted vehicles or persons who are commiting crimes in those neighborhoods. It consists of a coordinator, who condenses information from the patrol, the detective or youth division, and passes it on to a watch volunteer, who in turn advises his neighbors. This allows concrete information, and a new awareness of suspicious activity to supplant apathy or ignorance. Thus, many eyes now see what was only seen by police officers before.

"Deter and Deny at Home, a combination of efforts by Chief Blake and this officer to relieve the distress of being victimized by a housebreak, and to educate the homeowner in how to protect his property in the future. This was later expanded to include a security check of the home, to encourage participation in Operation Identification, and to use the information to provide better patrol security of the more likely victims.

"Operation Identification" has continued with moderate success, and further efforts are anticipated to expand and encourage participation.

Budgetary austerity and lack of manpower are the biggest drawbacks to further expansion of these programs or development of new ones. Prevention will remain a major consideration.

REGIONAL RADIO NETWORK

The Wayland Police Department has this past year joined with seventeen other surrounding communities in attempting to establish a mutual aid system. This project would provide procedures and policies for mutual aid commitments to other towns, and a mutual communications network.

Present manpower allocations of the individual departments, except Framingham, do not allow for sufficient resources for major disasters or crimes. The pooling of these on-duty personnel will give an available response of 50-75 sworn police officers with a maximum time of fifteen minutes in site arrival. With the addition of the State Police this allows for more than sufficient manpower response with little or no cost. Presently, only overtime costs will be paid by requesting municipality.

The other costs involve the participation in a Federal Grant to provide a single communications system for the seventeen towns. The total grant is expected to be $300,000.00. Wayland will get approximately $14,000.00 in equipment, and this will cost the Town around $1,000.00. This communications system will provide a new base station radio that can be used as a back-up to our present system, new mobile radios for all the cruisers, and several new portable radios. This system will then provide a communication link between all responding towns and the requesting departments to provide a quicker, coordinated, and controlled response.

YOUTH OFFICER

Having been appointed to the position only two days prior to the opening of school there was no time to prepare any long-term plans for safety education in the schools on my part; however, I anticipate that before the year is out I will have been involved in several programs, such as bus safety, bicycle safety, walking to school safely, and probably numerous other safety oriented classes. There is always a great number of minor incidents which involve both small children as well as Junior High School and High School and High School youth, and most of these cases require only a word from a school principal or perhaps just a teacher or guidance counsellor. Sometimes though, these cases do arrive at the point when the police must be called in by law, even though it may be a minor offense, and this requires a substantial amount of time, whether the youth goes to court or not. My activity in this aspect is primarily towards the prevention of these acts from occurring again, as well as to make an effort to see that they do not progress to worse confrontations. I have spoken to many youngsters and parents, and have found that in practically all instances the cooperation has been commendable by both parents and students, and I am impressed with the parents of Wayland and their sincere inclination towards prevention rather than simply punishment.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Robert Anastas and Mrs. Ruth Flynn, I have begun teaching the sophomore students at the High Schoo a class in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), which is known medically as exhaled air ventilation and external cardiac compression, or more simply heart-lung resuscitation. The end result being the potential for this life saving technique to be a consideration in the future of these young people, and the immediate consideration of the responsibilities of caring for oneself as well as others. I feel this will be important in the future of these kids. At the completion of the class it is my intention that each person in the class will have passed the qualifications set up by the American Heart Association, so that I might authorize the issuance of a card certifying that each individual student is capable of administering basic CPR in the event of an emergency.

I would like to express my gratitude to a number of persons who have been influential in my new position, and have helped me in many ways to get acquainted with the many aspects of this unique position. Just to mention a few, Dr. Zimmerman and the entire school staff, my brother police officers, the traffic supervisors, the Town officials, and the Town Hall staff, and many, many parents and friends. Most of all thanks to all the kids in Wayland for being cooperative and decent with me. Also, a special note of thanks to the detached social worker, Neil Hickey, and his assistant, Nancy Brennan, who have been invaluable in helping me help the kids, and the Juvenile Probation Department at the Framingham Court for their time and experience in dealing with the problems of our kids. I will do all that I can at any time to help any kid.

THE WAYLAND PUBLIC CEREMONIES COMMITTEE

The Town is indebted to the Boy Scouts of America for the assistance given the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars in decorating the Veterans' graves prior to Memorial Day. Scouts of Troop 1 Cochituate and Troops 1 and 8 Wayland, under the direction of Scoutmasters Fitz H. Stevens, Jr., Alfred C. Phillips, and Gerard N. Tempesta respectively, did an outstanding job.

A suggestion of Officer Robert A. Parker, W.P.D., was implemented this year and for the first time the Cochituate parade route passed by Bent Park. This was so well received that it will be incorporated into the line-of-march in the future. Rev. Fr. Frederick J. Hobbs gave his approval and Mssrs. Richard and John Kane reopened the Bent Avenue exit of St. Zepherin's Cemetery for the parade.

The East Company, Sudbury Companies of Militia and Minute, fired a salute to the Revolutionary War dead in North Cemetery and one volley as they passed Bent Park.

Memorial Day 1975: (Monday, May 26): Wayland High School Band and Wayland Junior High School Band; clergy assisting were the Reverends Cornelius J. Hogan, David K. Johnston, Frederick J. Hobbs, and Elmer W. Bigwood; American Legion Chaplain Paul E. Kohler; Veterans of Foreign Wars Firing Squad; East Company, Sudbury Companies of Militia and Minute; Veterans; Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Town officials; Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Grammar School students--Albert Derian, Carl Cohen, Trent Walton, and Tracey Caryl McIntire.

Memorial Day 1975	$ 807.26	Paid:	$ 807.26
		CARRYOVER TO FISCAL 1976:	$3,086.09

Plans are afoot for a Town parade, in addition to the Memorial Day parade, in 1976 which will celebrate the Bicentennial with appropriate marching groups, floats, decorated bicycles, etc. Two things are necessary for the successful completion of this: a date (should we compete with Framingham on July 4th?), and a parade route (bearing in mind that it must be fairly flat, must have a reasonable alternate route for blocked traffic, must have adequate staging areas at start and finish to assemble and disband, and must be not over one-and-a-half miles in length). Suggestions are welcomed and participation in setting up the event requested. Contact any committee member.

REGIONAL REFUSE DISPOSAL PLANNING COMMITTEE

The Wayland Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee is composed of representatives from the following Boards: Conservation, Health; Planning; Roads; and Selectmen. For several years the Committee has met with representatives from the same Boards in Sudbury to discuss means for the two Towns to operate a joint septage treatment facility.

An article authorizing Wayland to join in such an agreement with Sudbury was passed at the Special Town Meeting in Wayland during October of 1974. A similar article passed at the Annual Town Meeting in Sudbury in April of 1975. Since that time, members of the Committee and the two Town Counsels have been working out final wording of the Agreement between the towns. This involves details as to funding, operation, and review and must satisfy the Board of Selectmen in Sudbury and the Board of Selectmen and Road Commissioners as well as the Finance Committee in Wayland.

After the Agreement has been signed, work can go forward on construction of the facility to treat the wastes from septic pumpings.

The other task charged to this Committee is preparation of the new landfill site north of Route 20. This requires assignment of the site by the local Board of Health and preparation of operational plans to be presented to the State Department of Health for final approval. Sudbury, at present, has no interest in joint operation of a Landfill so this aspect of the Committee work is Wayland only.

There are severe problems of access to the new Landfill site and these must be resolved before work can go on to the next planning stage. The Committee plans public meetings to discuss the alternative routes and listen to citizen reaction to them. To this end, the Committee authorized construction of a three dimensional model of the site and, fortunately, found two enthusiastic volunteers to do the work. Margot Black and Virginia Steel donated their skills and hundreds of hours of labor to the model. They did an excellent job, and this will be an invaluable educational tool as it provides a bird's-eye overview of river, meadow, swamp, and hills.

The Wayland Board of Health has held a hearing re: site assignment and will render their decision soon. The Disposal Committee has been interviewing candidates to do the operational planning for us. We have determined several possible routes to the Landfill and are gathering financial, political, and ecological costs to present at hearings in the fall. We are also working on suggestions for use of the present Landfill site when it is closed in approximately two years.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS

We continue to stress productivity and maintenance in our fight against inflation. Our budget forecast for Fiscal 1976 is slightly lower than 1975 in spite of increased wages and soaring prices. We already had the lowest percentage of increase of any Department in Town over the last ten years. Our budget for 1976 is only 33% more than our expenditures in 1966 and only 6.9% greater than the average expenditures over the last ten years.

Several very important events occurred in Fiscal 1975. An article to reconstruct Five Paths finally passed Town Meeting after a number of years of preparation. An article for the construction of a joint septage facility with Sudbury also passed through Special Town Meeting and construction should begin in the Spring of 1976.

The third annual open house was held on June 7, 1975 with a very good turnout. We urge everyone to visit us on June 5, 1976 for our fourth annual showing. It is an excellent opportunity to inspect the equipment which was purchased with your tax dollars.

Parts of Stonebridge, Draper Road, and Old Connecticut Path were paved using Chapter 1140 money. The Stonebridge sidewalk and road widening project was also finished. The last leg of the Draper Road drainage program was installed. The second part of the Old Connecticut Path sidewalk (Hawthorne to Pine Ridge) was nearly completed and will be finished early in Fiscal 1976. Morse Road was also paved and drainage installed under the Betterment Act.

During Fiscal 1976 we expect to complete the drainage from Old Connecticut Path to Pine Brook. Plain Road from Draper about 800 feet south toward Coolidge Road will be reconstructed and drainage installed. East Plain Street will be resurfaced and additional drainage installed in the Spring of 1976. Concord Road is scheduled to be paved along its entire length. The railroad crossing on Route 126 will be repaired as best we can. The Railroad does not have any money to contribute so the work will be done on the road, not the tracks.

We are going to replace the surface planking on Sherman's Bridge. This will be done jointly with Sudbury and should be finished early Fall of 1975.

The Road Commissioners are actively working with the Sidewalk Committee and hope to continue to build sidewalks where needed. If State funding is not available this year, we will put a blacktop surface on the walk on Concord Road between Plain and Claypit Hill as well as the walk along in front of Sandy Burr. We also plan to build new walks from Davelin Road to Five Paths, Five Paths to Sandy Burr, and Sandy Burr to the Administration Building.

We expect to continue our plan of repairing old walkways and adding basins and manholes where needed.

Considerable time, more than any year in the past, has been spent on clearing debris from out waterways and drainage ditches.

The major problems facing us are many, the most important of which are lack of sand for roads and ice, closure of the old Landfill, opening of the new Landfill, and construction and operation of the joint septage facility.

The septage facility is on the site of the last good sand hill that belongs to the Town. This year we'll get by somehow, but in years to come we must either buy sand or buy property to screen our own sand.

The new septage facility must be staffed and operated by this Department. We are entering into a field that is new to us, yet we must be prepared to give the Town the service it demands.

The old Landfill will very definitely be used up by October/November 1977 which means that money must be appropriated to place finish cover over the area. Disposition of the land and buildings should be made in order that the Town utilize the property.

The new Landfill area must be ready when the old one closes. We must plan and appropriate money for roads, fences, water, building, etc. Much more stringent State controls will necessitate additional expenditures. New methods must be developed to conserve our land and reuse scrap material. Your Commissioners are continually working on this.

In the meantime, we continue to work on long-range planning for drainage, road maintenance, and repair, better utilization of manpower, better care of equipment, and, in general, everything that we can do to give you the best performance possible in these trying times. We should exert every effort to give you as good service as we can for the money appropriated.

SCHOOL BUILDING PLANNING COMMITTEE

The principal activity of the School Building Planning Committee during the period July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975 related to the construction and remodeling project at the Happy Hollow School approved at the 1974 Annual Town Meeting. In spite of an extremely tight schedule, both the construction and remodeling phases have proceeded smoothly and on schedule. The goal of occupancy by the opening of school in September, 1975 will be met.

As is the case with most remodeling projects, some unanticipated problems have been encountered. Consistent with the rationale of the project, that the school was to be brought up-to-date from both an educational and a maintenance standpoint, the unanticipated problems have been dealt within the project rather than left to be dealt with on a maintenance basis at some future date. In spite of this, it appears that the total project cost will be approximately $900,000 or $50,000 below the amount appropriated.

During the summer of 1974 the $45,000 project at the Cochituate School involving upgrading of lighting, painting, and critical maintenance items was completed in time for the opening of school that fall.

During the period Dave McDonald resigned from the Committee and was replaced by John Kulevich. In addition, Ken Wexler joined the Committee. We miss Dave but welcome the counsel of our new members.

School Committee Report

The School Committee is responsible for the school system, and tries to make its decisions keeping in mind the Goals and Objectives, adopted in November, 1974, especially Goal I: The vigorous promotion of the intellectual development of each pupil to the pupil's maximum potential; Goal VII: The schools should prepare each pupil for suitable employment or further education; and Goal VIII: The schools should help and encourage each pupil to learn how to function responsibly in society.

During the past year the School Committee has made a continued effort to communicate with the town on the crucial issues and problems facing the schools. Regular meetings were held with the newly-formed PTO Council and with the Wayland Teachers' Association. The PTO Council was formed by the Committee in response to the strong resistance registered by townspeople to a proposal to rotate the four Elementary School Principals. This Council is in the process of becoming an extremely useful channel of communication to the School Committee. Other issues being discussed with the two above-mentioned groups with individual PTO organizations, and other groups are: the planned Cochituate School phase-out; redistricting of the elementary schools; budget concerns relating to the implementation of Chapter 766; and discipline in the schools.

In further response to parental concerns, a Kindergarten Study Committee was formed, with a parent representative from each elementary school, a kindergarten teacher, and a member each of the School Committee and School Administration. They carried out their charge to submit in November a complete program proposal for a single session kindergarten. In November also, a Sidewalk Safety Committee was formed, representing the Sidewalk Committee, the Selectmen, the Highway Department, Police Department, School Committee, and School Administration. Their purpose is to try to obtain specific answers to safety matters, and report back to the School Committee.

Throughout the fall and winter, the Committee has received in open meetings and considered reports from each academic department, with full descriptions of current programs. This public exposure and the opportunity to evaluate progress in curriculum structure and direction have proved an extremely positive new means for the Committee to set curricular policy. The Committee has discussed these compendia with the staff leadership, concentrating on the strengths and weaknesses of each department, the future goals and budget implications of changes.

The School Committee was pleased to receive in the fall of 1975 notification of the full and unconditional ten-year accreditation of the Wayland High School by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, represented by the Commission on Public Secondary Schools. The Committee conveyed the commendation and thanks of the Town to all staff involved in the necessary planning and preparations for the evaluation of the Visiting Committee.

In the fall of 1975 two PERT charts (Program Evaluation and Review Technique) were designed to expedite 1) the budget-making process, and 2) the planned phasing out of the Cochituate School and redistricting of the other elementary schools. These charts plot in a logical sequence, with dates, each step in the process they describe.

The School Committee has paid close attention to the implementation of the Special Education bill, chapter 766, Acts of 1972. The Town should be aware of the rapid rise in the special needs accounts, especially in the areas of tuition and transportation charges for pupils attending school out of the area. The Committee is concerned with its lack of control over this state-mandated law, and intends to maintain careful surveillance over this matter, and to resist all unnecessary expenditures.

In consideration of the effects on the schools of the severe budgetary restrictions imposed by current economic conditions, the Committee also seeks ways to allocate some resources to program development to offset the stagnation that could result from personnel curtailment.

The Committee has wished to involve the Town, as much as possible, in the very complex process of building a multi-million dollar budget for a system with many functions and operations that serves 3537 students with a staff of over 400. Beginning in the fall, the Committee met with parent groups in all the schools to obtain their ideas regarding program, curriculum changes and improvements, and the effects of last year's budget cuts. After receiving the preliminary budget from the Administration, the Committee returned to the Schools, inviting reactions and comments on the budget. When it was worked through and revised, prior to its adoption, the Committee held open hearings. The final budget was mailed to all postal patrons. Rising educational costs have put an increasingly heavy burden on the taxpayers, and the Committee wants to thank the many interested volunteers, working individually and through organizations, such as CAPA and the Boosters, that have given valuable support to our school programs and students. The growth of the arts, school athletics, and programs such as METCO, owe much to the contribution made by these people.

The Committee is, again this year, very concerned over the high cost of education in Wayland. A consistent effort is being made to balance support for a good school system with constant re-examination of programs in light of their educational value and their cost. To this end the participation of concerned citizens in the whole budget process is important and helpful to the well-being of the schools and the Town.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

This is the seventy-eighth Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Wayland Public Schools and my fourth report to the Town.

The report covers the 1974/75 academic years.

If the reader will refer to the Superintendent's Report in the previous Town Report (1973), he will note all data and information therein relative to the 1974/75 academic year. Because of the 1973 fiscal year changeover, the Town Reports were late in being published, and the Superintendent's Report spanned both the 1973/74 and the 1974/75 academic years. It seems both imprudent and unnecessary to repeat all of that information and data at this time.

I would like to report that the school system closed the academic and fiscal years on June 30, 1975 in excellent condition. The High School continued to have less than 1 percent dropout rate and a very high percentage of the graduates went on to further their education. The entire curriculum program is now highly structured and functioning well. The business affairs of the school system are extremely efficient. In all, I am most pleased with the progress made in all aspects of school system operations.

I wish to thank the staff for the very high quality work it performs. I wish to congratulate and thank the townspeople for their confidence in the schools and for their unstinting financial and moral support of the school system. I particularly wish to convey my deepest appreciation to the School Committee for its tireless and effective efforts to set policy for the schools which is in the very best interests of the Town and of its young people.

Respectfully submitted,

William G. Zimmerman, Jr.
Superintendent of Schools

HAROLD L. LINGLEY

SIDEWALK COMMITTEE

During the past year, the Wayland Sidewalk Committee in conjunction with counterpart groups in the towns of Lincoln and Concord has prepared and submitted to the Department of Public Works a proposal for a three-town bikeway.

This bikeway would run from Cochituate State Park area in the south, along Rt. 126, through Lincoln and past Walden Pond State Park in Concord.

Our proposal has been reviewed by the Central Transportation Planning Staff of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council, and approved by the Joint Regional Transportation Committee. It is now listed on the DPW's Unified Work Program, from which active projects are drawn.

In the event that this proposal becomes an active project, the DPW will do planning with responsible sidewalk groups in each of the towns. The Wayland Sidewalk Committee intends holding full and proper public hearings prior to recommending acceptance of any resultant plan.

This effort to obtain outside funding for bikeway and walkway construction is fully consistent with instructions contained in Article 23 of the Town Meeting Warrant of 1972. This article created the Wayland Sidewalk Committee.

In lieu of outside funding, the Sidewalk Committee will continue with its present program of walkways projects at a rate of construction expenditure in keeping with the will of the Town. Each project under consideration will be brought to public hearing, estimated costs will be developed, and appropriate articles will be submitted for Town approva

THE SOUTH MIDDLESEX OPPORTUNITY COUNCIL, INC.

The South Middlesex Opportunity Council, Inc. is a private non-profit corporation established in 1965 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The primary purpose of this corporation is to mobilize and utilize resources both public and private for the creation of opportunity for education and training, opportunity to work, and the opportunity to live in decency and dignity.

SMOC is governed by a board of directors comprised of one-third public officials, one-third low income persons, and one-third interested area groups. The board develops and sets policy for the entire agency. Finally, as a Community Action Agency SMOC is funded to serve low income families and individuals in Framingham, Natick, Marlboro, Ashland, Holliston, Hopkinton, Bellingham, Southboro, and Wayland. The Selectmen of the Town of Wayland had Mrs. Joyce Bertelsen serve as their representative on the board for 1974-75. Nancy Surner of Wayland represented the low income sector. Mr. Paul Houlihan is the Executive Director.

Among the programs which SMOC currently operates are a Legal Program, Consumer Protection, Day Care, Emergency Food Services, Headstart, Neighborhood Youth Corps, and Operation Mainstream, Alcoholic Rehabilitation, Alcoholic Detoxification, and the Medfield-Norfolk-Foxboro Prison Program. Most all of these programs are available to Wayland residents.

The SMOC offices are located at 36 Concord Street in Framingham, and the staff welcomes any inquiries. The telephone number is 872-4853. Brochures are also available at the Town Office Building.

JANE R. HARPER

STREET LIGHT COMMITTEE

The Committee was appointed to see if the Town's street lighting bill could be lowered in view of rising electricity costs. Lighting is provided by Boston Edison under a state tariff that permits increased costs to be billed to the Town but provides few practical methods for reducing costs (such as using lower wattage bulbs).

We reviewed the one practical possibility - replacing older incandescent lamps with newer vapor lamps. Lamps installed over 25 years ago can be replaced without charge. About 300 of the Town's 500 residential lights are of this vintage. To save any money, two old lamps would be replaced with one new one. This would involve a lamp-by-lamp survey with many customized installations (at additional cost) to avoid excessive light in bedroom windows, etc. Virtually all of the residential lights were installed one at a time upon individual or neighborhood request. Replacement would involve discussion with all those affected.

If all older lamps were so replaced, the maximum savings available to the Town would be in the range of $5,000 annually. The Town currently spends about $20,000 annually on residential lighting.

Under the tariffs, street lighting replacements are most economically handled on an entire-street basis. The Committee believes that such replacement must be done eventually and is best accomplished under a master plan that is part of the Town's overall planning activity.

The Committee has now completed its assignment and, having no further business, is hereby dissolved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES T. CASALE, Chairman
CHARLES W. GRIFFIN

TOWN COUNSEL

After two years of unprecedented legal activity, the amount of time required to service the legal needs of the Town in calendar year 1974 and in fiscal year 1974-1975 declined to 959 hours and 914 hours, respectively, from the high of 1,195 1/4 recorded in 1973. Two thirds of this decline was due to a less active schedule of litigation and the balance may be attributed to a decrease in the amount of time normally required by and charged to the Selectmen.

Litigation, nevertheless, represents the most time-consuming activity of the Town Counsel with 312 1/4 hours recorded. Seventeen cases were concluded during the past fiscal year leaving us with an inventory of 32 on June 30, 1975. Of this total, ten are appeals to the Appellate Tax Board brought by five owners of real property, seven involve claims against the Town by present or former employees, and five are appeals from decisions of the Planning Board, the Board of Zoning Appeals, and the Inspector of Buildings and Zoning. The rest include petitions for assessment of damages on account of takings by eminent domain as well as cases regarding construction and code enforcement.

Although the School Committee retained its own special counsel this year to assist in its negotiations with the Teachers' Association, 76 1/4 hours of time were needed to help the Committee assess its responsibilities under Chapter 766 of the Acts of 1972 and to prune and reorganize its teaching staff as the school enrollment continued to decline. It is hard enough to evaluate teachers when additional jobs are being created every year; but when positions must be cut or consolidated, everyone must be satisfied that the civil and contractual rights of the teachers involved will be respected.

Enactment and implementation of Wayland's new Planned Development By-Law by the Planning Board also required a good deal of support from the Town Counsel as did the Board's study of its right to approve and control the subdivision of land. The 74 hours consumed in 1974-1975 represent a significant decrease, however, from the 149 1/4 hours recorded in 1973 and the 128 1/2 hours in 1974.

Similarly, the difficult negotiations between Wayland's Refuse Disposal Planning Committee and the Town of Sudbury required several revisions in the agreement authorized by the towns for the construction and operation of a septage disposal facility.

On the other hand, the need of the Conservation Commission for legal assistance declined from 45 3/4 in 1973 to 28 during the past fiscal year, reflecting completion of the most important portions of its Master Plan.

No one can predict, of course, how many hours of legal services will be needed by the Town this year or next. We do know that the upward trend between 1969 and 1973 has been followed by eighteen months during which less than 1,000 hours of the Town Counsel's time have been required annually. Let us hope that this pattern continues.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the Selectmen for their confidence, the Town's officers, boards and officials for their continuing support and our fellow citizens for their generous regard. It is this that makes it all worthwhile.

Respectfully submitted,
C. PETER R. GOSSELS, Esq.
Town Counsel

TOWN SURVEYOR

This past year has seen the Engineering Department doing their part in the completion of highway projects such as the Stonebridge Road sidewalk, the West Plain Street sidewalk, the Old Conn. Path sidewalk from Simpson Road to Pine Ridge Road, and the reconstruction of Castle Road and Morse.

New highway related work was completed in relation to plans for the construction of a portion of Plain Road and a portion of East Plain Street. Drainage projects such as the Stanton Street Brook, Dudley Pond Brook, the system on Draper Road, the puddle elimination surveys on Waltham Road, Campbell Road, Glezen Lane, and Lundy Lane were completed.

Sidewalk survey plans for Cochituate Road between the Sandy Burr and the School Administration Building (school annex) were completed by this Department, and at the request of this Department, a sidewalk survey was completed by the Middlesex County Engineers on the east side of Concord Road from the Wayland-Lincoln town line southerly to Glezen Lane.

A new topographic plan has been made of the existing landfill site which has allowed us to compare and compute the amount of rubbish that has been used in the past 18 months and in turn allows us to estimate its remaining life. The new landfill site on the north side of Route 20 has been an engineering gold mine. With new topographic surveys in the area of the proposed septage plant, reestablishment of the Route 20 sideline, the study and restudy of the pros and cons of the best access route, and the classification of the different soils available on the site and their volumes were completed.

Accepted at the Annual Town Meeting held in April of 1975 were Decatur Lane and Forest Hill Road as Town roads.

Road bounds were set on Loker Street, and a survey was made in preparation for setting bounds on the extension of Hawthorne Road.

A final layout plan for roadway takings at the intersection of Old Conn. Path and Cochituate Road were voted in the affirmative at the Annual Town Meeting held in April of 1975, which allows for design and construction to follow within the next two years, assuming the granting of State or Federal funds. Congratulations Road Commissioners!

A vertical control system was started this past year which will someday be the basis of a future aerial survey that requires four vertical control points in the field per photo.

A new base map compiled from reduced sheets of the Atlas was completed which required the drafting of 70 pages. The new map shows property lines, street lines, street names, existing buildings, and the flood plain elevations at a scale of 1" - 500'.

Two Town corner stones were set on the Sudbury-Wayland town line which completes the restoration of that line. The stone at the corner of Wayland, Sudbury, and Framingham was straightened after being knocked over by a windblown tree. In the previous fiscal year a survey was made between two other stones on the ends of the Wayland-Lincoln town line in preparation for resetting them; one of the stones being completely out of the ground, the other having had the top knocked off and the remaining portion leaning at a 45° angle with the ground. These are yet to be set. A survey has been completed for two other stones that are missing on the Natick-Wayland town line. When the bounds are set at the surveyed locations, the reestablishment of all Town corners will be completed.

Preparing articles for each town meeting is another task which annually and sometimes biannually requires research, surveys, plans, descriptions, and generally a lot of time and work. Needless to say, the deadline for the printing of the warrants was made.

One of the most important jobs now assigned to this Department is the updating of our Town Atlas. The original work was completed and first printed in 1946 by Everett M. Brooks Co., Inc., who annually brought the Atlas up-to-date. Two years ago this Department assumed the responsibility. Last year this Department made some 400 deed changes, 50 lot line changes, and 100 building alterations. Also completed was the drafting of all the pages of the Atlas to a scale of 100' to 1". This was done on a translucent material which will be used as the master and reduced every five years to provide an Atlas to the scale of 200' to 1". This procedure will allow us to produce an atlas which will not deteriorate in quality due to photographic processes.

Surveys of Town lands recently acquired by the Conservation Commission include the Burbank parcel and a start on the Plimpton parcel. Other Conservation Commission work included the layout of the community gardens, the grading of parking lots, and elevations in relation to wetland hearings.

The work accomplished with the Planning Board was help in the Planned Development Rules and Regulations, plans for their commercial area study, the review and processing of subdivision approval-not-required plans, and the review and inspection of the following subdivisions: Reid subdivision off Rich Valley Road; Livoli subdivision south of the Mass. Turnpike; Linn subdivision consisting of lots on Coolidge Road; Murphy subdivision off Maiden Lane, Rowe subdivision consisting of lots on Forty Acres Drive, Wayland Real Estates, Scholz property off Glezen Lane, and Robsham's extension of Wayland Hills Road including Smokey Hill Road and Loring Lane.

The review of Mainstone Farm's conceptual plans for their planned unit development has been underway since May of 1975 with revision No. 5 having been brought to a point where the definitive plan can begin to take shape.

Among other assignments, there were the laying out of ball fields, location of school property lines, plans and elevations for the Lakeview Cemetery, and elevations of the bottom of a portion of Dudley Pond.

Meeting with boards and committees of the Town and State, County, and Utility officials was necessary in order to smoothly carry out the functions and operation of this Department.

Thanks again are given to all those who have helped us try to provide the services required. Both the volunteers as well as the permanent personnel have been productive contributors.

Respectfully submitted,
LEWIS L. BOWKER, Jr.
Town Surveyor

VETERANS' SERVICES

I hereby submit my report of the Department of Veterans' Benefits and Services for the year ending June 30, 1974.

Veterans Benefits. We had 47 persons aided in the year 1974. These cases were thoroughly investigated before aid could begin, and follow-up investigation must continue. Bills and budgets are submitted monthly to the Commissioner of the Department of Veterans' Services for his approval. This enables the Town of Wayland to be reimbursed 50 percent from the State.

Each year we help veterans, widows, and dependent parents fill out income questionnaire cards. These cards must be filled out correctly as an error could mean loss of pension. We also help veterans in securing employment, pensions, etc.

For complete details, list of expenditures and receipts of the Department of Veterans' Services and Benefits, I refer you to the Town Accountant.

As Veterans' Graves Officer I have seen that all markers are placed and that all graves are properly marked for Memorial Day. This year I will ask for an appropriation for more grave markers.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM P. LeBLANC
Veterans' Agent

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

Fiscal 1975 was a routine year for the Water Department. Despite dry months in July and August we experienced no problems in supply and no bans were contemplated. The winter was mild.

The rate increase that took effect July 1, 1974 barely kept our income at a level to compensate for the increase that has taken place in the cost of materials. This increase in some lines amounted to 300 percent.

No capital expenditures were made. However, Fiscal 1976 should see an installation of 16-inch water main on Old Connecticut Path. This installation should strengthen our supply grid to assure an even distribution of water in periods of heavy use.

Cooperation with other departments has been very good, and we wish to thank the Highway, Park and Recreation, Inspection, and Engineering Departments especially.

We urge people to be careful in the use of water. Wastage and unnecessary use costs everybody money.

Statistics July 1, 1974 - June 30, 1975

Number of Services	3,781
Number New Services	24
Water Pumped	601 M.G.
Number Hydrants	526

THE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

During the year July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975 the Board of Appeals held public hearings on sixty-two applications. Several of these raised questions on which considerable citizen concern was expressed, notably: Interpretation of the term "family"; a proposal for Low and Moderate Income Housing under Chapter 40B, Section 21, of the General Laws; and a request for a variance for a professional office building in a Single Residence District which, after denial, was the subject of an article at Town Meeting.

One member of the Board is serving on a committee appointed by the Planning Board to revise the zoning by-laws.

The decisions of the Board are a matter of public record and are on file with the Town Clerk. Classified in accordance with the principal question for decision, the year's cases were decided as follows:

Type of Case	Applications Granted	Applications Denied	Withdrawn by Applicant	No Act Requi
Variance, Residential	6	5	3	2
Variance, Commercial		1
Special Permit	18	1	4	5
Site Plan Approval	14
Special Permit Extended	1
Variance Modified	1

If your child is not listed here (births through June 30, 1975), ask the Town Clerk's Office whether the certificate has been received from the Town of Birth (the Hospital Town). Failure to have a child's birth recorded may cause him great inconvenience later.
